FRENCH DEFEAT GERMANS IN TWO BIG AIR BATTLES

Guns Pound Whole Siegfried Line.

BULLETIN.

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 26, Tuesday (AP).—French troops were reported today to have repulsed with heavy losses a counterattack launched during the night by Germany's Siegfried line forces in an attempt to relieve pressure on key forts near Sweibruecken. Dispatches added that the French sustained heavy losses during the night in the sector between the Saar river and Blies creek.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 25.—After three weeks of cautious probing of the enemy's strength and the methodical occupation of strips of no-man's land between the Maginot and Siegfried lines, French forces on the western front today swung into important action.

French heavy batteries began pounding the main fortifications of the Siegfried line for the first time, while reinforced patrols and small bodies of infantry again began penetrating the zone of pillboxes and small casemates [fortified chambers] protecting the Germans' west wall between the Rhine and the Moselle rivers. The fighting on the ground was preceded by widespread action in the sky. The French claimed to have been victorious in two major air battles.

Guns Pound Whole Front.

French guns pounded the Siegfried forts from one end of the western front to the other. Even along the Rhine, which had been an inactive sector since the first two days of the war, fortress guns on both banks of the river suddenly leaped to life in an intense artillery duel that lasted for hours.

The main theater of activity was east of the Saar river in the region south of Zweibruecken, which is in sight of the most advanced French elements.

For nearly 48 hours the French had been on the defensive in this sector fighting off a series of local counter offensives. the German elastic defense on the efficiency of which, according to observers, the safety of the Siegfried line depends.

In these operations the German system, which was tested on a small scale, broke down. The French held to all the German soil occupied since the beginning of the war and last night started pressing forward, improving their positions today.

Big Artillery in Place.

Advance positions captured in the last three weeks made possible today, artillery attack on the Siegfried line. Having consolidated their positions, the French were able to bring up safely their heaviest batteries and to post them within range of the German forts.

Aerial observers went up to correct the fire as these batteries cut loose. Nazi pursuit planes undertook to rout these dangerous spectators and French combat craft went to the rescue of their comrades. A series of dogfights took place over the lines in which the French aviators, though outnumbered, shot down many German planes, according to the French general staff, which reported that two of them fell on French soil.

[The German high command's communique said eight French planes were shot down.]

French Flyers Outnumbered.

PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP).—French flyers won a victory over the Germans in two major air battles yesterday despite the fact that they faced a superior number of planes, the French general staff's communique tonight stated.

The communique follows:

"Activity of our advance infantry elements east of the Saar. Heavy enemy artillery action in the same region.

"During aerial combats which took place on the front during the day of the 24th our patrols of pursuit planes joined in battles twice with enemy air forces far superior in numbers.

"Many German pursuit planes were shot down, of which two fell behind our lines."

PITTMAN VS. PITTMAN
(An Editorial)

Senator Key Pittman, as chairman of the foreign relations committee, is now engaged, under President Roosevelt's direction, in formulating a bill for the repeal of the present neutrality act, for canceling out the arms embargo and for restoring the United States to the old "law of nations."

Two years ago Senator Pittman was of a different mind. He took a leading part in the enactment of the present neutrality and arms embargo act. In 1937—the year the present act was voted—he was invited to tell a distinguished audience in New York why the present law was voted and what objects were to be attained. His address is reproduced in the proceedings of the Academy of Political Science for May, 1937.

The legislation then enacted, Mr. Pittman said, grew out of our experience in the last world war. Our government then relied on international law as a basis for the rights we asserted, "but when it entered the war it repudiated its former contentions as a neutral, and as a belligerent adopted most of the rules, policies, and practices of the belligerents against whom it had complained."

Mr. Pittman continued: "We relied upon international law for every assertion of our neutral rights, but this reliance brought us no benefits or protection and was our undoing. By our unrestrained supply of credit, by our unlimited and unrestrained supply of arms, ammunition, and other contraband of war to the entente powers, by our failure to force Great Britain to respect our undeniable rights, we excited the German people and aroused their hatred until they had conclusively determined before we entered the war to engage in war with us, either during the pending contest or after that war was over."

That, as Senator Pittman explained it, was why congress as long as four years ago [1935] determined upon policies to be pursued in the war which then seemed imminent and which is now in progress. The embargo upon the exportation of arms to belligerents was adopted, according to Pittman, as an effort to profit from our experience in the previous war. The embargo seemed to the members of congress such a logical step, the senator said, that it was seriously opposed by no one, although other provisions of the law were bitterly contested.

Senator Pittman asserted that congress passed the neutrality legislation during a time of peace, for "it is held by high authority that it is unneutral for a neutral, after war has commenced, so to change its financial and commercial relations with a belligerent as to take the belligerent by surprise." Although "such an act might be apparently just to the belligerent, it might work harm to the neutral in arousing animosity of the enemies of such belligerent and possibly involuntarily involve the neutral in a foreign war."

Congress has determined, the senator said in his 1937 speech, "for this reason that any such legislation must be enacted during times of peace, so that all future belligerents may have notice."

No one will make a better speech against the proposed arms embargo change than Senator Pittman made before the Academy of Political Science more than two years ago. But now, in his official position as chairman of the foreign relations committee and as spokesman for the President, Senator Pittman is seeking to do that which he then condemned.

President Roosevelt indicated during the Italo-Ethiopian war that he was considering an embargo upon the export of oil to both of the belligerents with the following result, according to the Pittman speech: "Mussolini communicated to our government that he would consider such an act both unneutral and unfriendly. This whole incident was packed with the most sensitive explosives of imminent war!"

The Mussolini precedent should warn us. If after having placed the nations of the world on notice that they could not have arms from us if they became belligerents we then make the arms available to one of the belligerents, the act is certain to be condemned as unneutral, as Pittman then asserted. The repeal of the arms embargo is a step in the direction of war. And no one knows this better than Senator Pittman, leading advocate of the repeal in the senate.

BILL TO REPEAL NEUTRALITY ACT GIVEN TO SENATE

Committee Holds Up Consideration.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25—With the submission to the senate foreign relations committee today of the Roosevelt administration's bill to repeal the neutrality law, the lines were drawn for a furious battle in congress over ways and means of keeping America out of the European war.

The administration bill would repeal the existing neutrality act forbidding export of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to belligerent nations. It would substitute therefore a law permitting sales of arms and all other goods to nations at war on condition that such commodities are paid for in cash on not more than 90 day credit and carried abroad in non-American ships.

[A summary of the repealer bill will be found on page 5.]

The administration leaders, soft pedaling the lifting of the ban on export of arms and stressing the provisions forbidding Americans to transport arms or other goods to belligerents and forbidding Americans to travel on the ships of warring nations, presented their measure with the argument that it is the one best calculated to keep the United States from becoming involved in the war.

Opposition Disputes Claim.

The leaders of the opposition forces retorted that the provisions to keep Americans and American ships out of the war do not change the fact that in such legislation the United States would be committing the unneutral act of repealing its present embargo on export of arms to belligerents in order to help one side in the present war.

Under the existing law neither Great Britain and France nor Germany can obtain American arms or munitions. Under the proposed repealer Britain and France, so long as they continue to control the Atlantic, could carry American arms from our shores while Germany, lacking control of the sea could not.

This unneutral act and the fostering of American trade in arms and other commodities with one side of the struggle in Europe would involve the United States in the war, at first indirectly and eventually directly, including the American army and navy, according to the noninterventionists.

Consideration Postponed.

The administration bill, framed by the Democratic leaders in secret session, was submitted to the senate foreign relations committee this morning by Chairman Key Pittman [D., Nev.].

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] on behalf of Republican members and the dissident Democratic member of the committee, Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], asked that consideration of the measure be postponed to Thursday to permit study of its provisions by the opposition who until that moment had not seen them. The majority acceded to the request.

While withholding detailed comment pending closer study the noninterventionist leaders said that the bill on its face bore evidence of being shrewdly devised to catch the votes of wavering senators. Some senators, it is known, would be dis-

Fleeing Felons Crash; Seized; Hostages Safe

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 25 [Special].—Four long term convicts walked into a parole hearing at northern Michigan prison here this afternoon, seized four officials, and escaped in the warden's automobile. They were caught by state police tonight when the car turned over on the lake shore highway five miles north of Menominee, 120 miles away.

Prisoners had been entering and leaving the prison office for parole hearings throughout the day, and arrival of the four did not arouse suspicion. Suddenly, however, they produced knives, clubs, and a wooden gun. They seized Warden Marvin L. Coon, Deputy Warden William Newcombe, A. Ross Pascoe, chairman of the parole board, and Gerald Bush, parole board member.

Four Taken as Hostages.

Warden Coon was ordered to call for his car and to tell guards to let the convicts out the main gate. The convicts threatened all with death.

Taking the four officials as hostages, the convicts marched them to the automobile and sped southeast toward Escanaba. Prison guards and Marquette police took up pursuit.

Newcombe was put out of the car five miles from Marquette and told to warn pursuers the others would be killed if the chase became too hot.

Speeding through Escanaba with the three remaining hostages the convicts drove west to U. S. highway 41 and then south toward Menominee. Just north of Menominee, where U. S. 41 intersects the lake shore road, M 35, state police had set up a barricade.

Auto Swerves at Blockade.

When the convicts reached the blockade they swerved sharply and headed northeast in M 35. Pascoe leaped from the car as it slowed to make the turn. A dozen police cars began pursuit at 90 miles an hour.

Five miles north of Menominee the convicts' automobile overturned at a sharp curve. State police seized the four fugitives without firing a shot. Coon had been slightly injured. The convicts and Bush were not hurt.

Guards returned the fugitives to the prison tonight. They are Joseph Mushro, Thomas McCarthy, and Ralph Stearns, life termers, and John Thompson, serving 20 years for robbery.

50 Die, Million Property Loss in Coast Storm

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 25 (AP).—At least 50 persons perished in a violent wind and rain storm which struck southern California late yesterday and caused damage that may exceed $1,000,000.

Dozens of other persons were aboard 14 pleasure boats still missing along the coast tonight.

Wreckage of what apparently had been an 80 foot yacht was found in the surf near Huntington Beach.

The storm wrecked, sank or beached more than 20 boats, created flood conditions in many localities, including mountain resort areas, put 35,000 telephones out of commission in Los Angeles and nearby towns, seriously disrupted rail and highway trafic and cut off power service.

More Rain Is Forecast.

A 30 mile gale swept the Los Angeles harbor area tonight. More rain was forecast. Thirty homes were damaged and eight destroyed on Alamitos peninsula near Long Beach, causing damage estimated at $100,000. Portions of Whittier, Artesia, Downey, Montebello, Burbank, Pasadena, and San Fernando valley were without lights or telephones.

Damage of $100,000 resulted from pounding waves at the Los Angeles Yacht club's cove at Fish Harbor. Five racing sloops sank.

Two hundred persons were rescued last night and today from wrecked and disabled craft.

Some May Be in Havens.

Aboard the boats reported missing were parties ranging from two or three to eight persons. Most of these craft last were known to be between Los Angeles harbor and Catalina island, 26 miles offshore, and it was believed some may have reached safety.

The casualty list includes:

Eight persons drowned in boat accidents and in rip tides; bodies recovered.

Unidentified bodies of a man and woman washed ashore in the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor area.

Twenty-four believed drowned in the capsizing of the fishing boat Spray, from which the body of one victim was recovered and included in the known death list of ten.

Ten other persons believed drowned in the wrecked sloop Conchita and the yacht Mina-O.

Legion Hilarity Puts Loop in a Loop the Loop

A combination of joyful Legionnaires and enthralled spectators was too much for the loop yesterday. Normal business proved impossible and orderly trafic became a memory.

Legion prankster helping to direct trafic in loop in pajamas.

By late afternoon northbound State street cars were halted in a line that stretched for blocks. Buses moved at a snail's pace. Private vehicles, except for those carrying sightseers, gave the loop a wide berth.

Practical jokers, some funny and some not, exhibited their talent at hundreds of spots. Women dodged Legionnaires with imitation mice, real alligators, and skunks, water guns, and electrified suitcases.

Make It Hot for Firemen.

Two false alarms were turned in within ten minutes at loop fire boxes. Several fire engines returning from the first call were stalled for 10 minutes as they tried to make a turn into Madison from Clark street.

Legionnaires traveled on foot, in private cars, taxis, and collegiate Fords. One rode a policeman's horse through the lobby of the Hotel Sherman. Five Legionnaires had hauled the officer off his mount at Randolph and Clark streets.

Hilarious Legionnaires carried many curious objects and wore many strange costumes. One, on State street, had the top half of a dressmaker's dummy tucked under an arm. Another had his wife anchored to him by a four foot chain. Some wore women's clothes, some sported cowboy raiment, and some were made up as tramps. A pajama clad Legionnaire directed trafic on Michigan avenue.

Mayor Holds Open House.

Mayor Kelly, after a futile effort to transact business, held open house. Callers included the mayors of St. Paul, Boston, St. Louis, Portland, Ore.; Springfield, and other cities. Lovely Ann Sheridan of Hollywood was in the Texas delegation.

The county building also swarmed with visitors, but for some unknown reason few attempted to crash the busy court rooms. Several hundred pounds of ice appeared, mysteriously, in a fifth floor corridor, where it quietly melted.

Man Mountain Dean, wrestler and thespian, was in town with the Georgia delegation. The Mountain was in the tank corps during the war. He and Col. James H. Platt, St. Louis, Mo., who is Gen. Pershing's double, teamed up together.

Diners Think He's Pershing.

Col. Platt made an appearance at a Sunday night banquet, it was learned, and gave most of a lengthy speech before the guests learned he wasn't the commander of the A. E. F. Later he and Dean toured the loop, Col. Platt as a panhandler and Dean as the straight man with whom Platt got into violent and near-homicidal arguments.

Much of the humor was refined, and, in a way, gentle. One Legionnaire amused onlookers by dragging through the Morrison hotel a very large dead fish with a rose in its mouth. On Michigan avenue a group picked up a street sweeper, placed him in his cart, and trundled him along while others took up a large collection for him.

The Special Service detail, under Capt. John Horan, did its best to protect Legionnaires and other visitors from hoodlums and peddlers of shoddy goods. Two bogus Legionnaires with crooked dice were put out of business.

Trafic Hazards Increase.

Trafic found it wise to proceed with caution. Some Legion cars were driven recklessly, notably one bearing members of Austin post No. 52 which ran red lights along Lake street while traveling at high speed. Even their shrieking siren barely enabled them to avert an accident at Lake and La Salle streets.

Lost buddies found each other through the Lost Buddy department in the Brevoort hotel. Men appeared

The American Legion will take a definite and official stand on the repeal of the neutrality law as sought by the Roosevelt administration. This was asserted yesterday by convention leaders. Speakers at the opening of the Legion's 21st national convention voiced an uncompromising demand that the United States be kept out of the European war.

"The question is the biggest issue before us," said James P. Ringley of Chicago, chairman of the convention's foreign relations subcommittee which has the neutrality question before it. "The Legion's stand will have a powerful influence upon the nation's course.

"The resolution is of such import that it may be taken out of the hands of the foreign relations committee and be submitted for discussion to the convention as a whole."

58 on Legion Committee.

The foreign relations committee consists of 58 men, one from each state, territorial, and foreign department of the Legion. It is headed by Ray Murphy of Ida Grove, Ia., a former national commander.

The convention, which has brought nearly a quarter of a million Legionnaires and other visitors to Chicago, opened officially yesterday in an atmosphere made tense by the neutrality question.

While the one big question, "What stand will the Legion take on the sale of arms to belligerent nations?" occupied the minds of all, the convention's first day activities went on—varied, colorful, city-wide.

The opening session, a joint assembly of the Legion and its auxiliary organizations, lasted from 9 a. m. until after 3 p. m. in the Coliseum. Long before this hour, however, bands and drum and bugle corps competed in contests to determine the year's champions.

Parade in Torchlight.

In the evening, the colorful parade of the 40 and 8 society, the funmaking and honor group of the Legion, passed up Michigan avenue from 11th street between lines of cheering spectators.

It was the first big torchlight procession Chicago has seen in many years. The locomotives and boxcar trains of the various voitures, puffing smoke and clanging their bells, make this parade unique.

The procession disbanded at Medinah temple, Ohio street and Wabash avenue, where the society held its annual "National Wreck" and initiated new members.

Today will be devoted to one of the largest parades in the Legion's history. Starting at Ohio street and Michigan avenue at 9 a. m., the parade will move through the streets until nearly midnight. From Michigan avenue it will go east in Balbo drive, entering Soldiers' field to pass the reviewing stand.

Sons and Daughters to March.

In the line of march will be veterans who fought in the trenches of Europe, their wives and sisters—members of the Legion auxiliary—gold star mothers, and sons and daughters of the Legion, who now are almost at the age their fathers were in 1917.

No other activities are scheduled today except meetings of a few committees, among them the subcommittee considering the neutrality issue. It held a meeting yesterday afternoon to consider ten proposals submitted to it. The subcommittee adjourned at 5 p. m. to meet again at 11 a. m. today.

Chairman Ringley said he was not at liberty to reveal the text of the proposals, but added that some of them demand uncompromisingly that the arms embargo be retained. Others favor cash and carry sales of war supplies to belligerent nations.

At 5 p. m. the subcommittee will submit a report to the committee on foreign relations. The full committee then will draft a resolution for discussion on the floor of the convention.

Martial Music Fills Hall.

The convention was opened formally at 9 a. m. yesterday when the big green bell on the Coliseum platform called the delegates and spectators to order. Then for 30 minutes the boom of martial music filled the vast hall.

The 1939 champion band, that of the Crescent City post, New Orleans, La., and the champion drum and bugle corps from Herbert F. Akroyd post, Marlboro, Mass., played the music that stirred the nation in 1917-'18. At 9:30 a. m. National Commander Stephen F. Chadwick officially opened the convention and called upon the Rev. Jerome L. Fritsche, national chaplain, for the invocation.

After the ceremony of advancing the colors to the platform Attorney General John E. Cassidy of Illinois delivered the first of the addresses of welcome.

Stay Out, Says Cassidy.

Bluntly declaring that Europe and her problems are beyond help, he continued:

"We have learned that it's practically impossible to end war in the old world through the processes of war. There is little we can do about Europe. There is a great deal we can do about America.

"The compulsion is upon us to fight for the continued neutrality of the American people.

"We have learned through experience that war knows no victor. It is but a question of comparative loss. One nation may lose less, another more—but they all lose."

Mayor Welcomes Legion.

In welcoming the convention to Chicago Mayor Kelly declared that the Legion can take a stand now that may go far toward saving this nation from war.

"In a frantic, war torn world," he said, "the hope of America lies in the unbroken ranks and coöperative unity of such as the American Legion."

A. A. Sprague, president of the American Legion 1939 convention corporation, also indicated that a stand is expected on neutrality. "You are meeting in a most serious hour," he said. "The nation will watch your deliberations with deep interest."

Edward Clamage, the 1938-'39 commander of the Illinois Legion, warned against "ism" groups that might try to involve the United States in war.

Dependance on Legion Told.

"Americans everywhere are depending upon our Legion to be war free," he added. "Our citizens in years to come should be able to say: 'It was the Legion convention in Chicago in 1939 that was responsible for maintaining our peace'."

Edward A. Hayes, past national commander, responded with the declaration that American youth should be taught and conjured to avoid such tragedies as the first world war.

The welcoming addresses concluded, the convention heard a series of regional reports and reports of committees. Then came the three addresses that defined the duty of a Legionnaire to his community, to his state, and to the nation. The speakers took stern stands against any step that might plunge the United States into war.

Action for Peace Urged.

"Our task is to see that we have peace and tolerance in every community," said Mayor Joseph Carson Jr. of Portland, Ore. "We must convince your neighbors of the desolation and horror of war. But not only must we speak—we must act. The action of this convention and the Legionnaire at home may well be the turning point in the vital history of our country and the world."

Lashing at subversive groups and alien propagandists, the mayor—who has had his troubles with them in Portland—continued:

"I am growing sick and tired of coddling the subversive alien and the promoter of alien doctrines in our community life. I would not abridge the freedom of speech or of the press, but I would tell our fellow citizens the truth about these unfriendly aliens. We should use every effort to see that these subversive groups do not cause our people to choose up sides and cause rancor at home."

Steps in Congress Asked.

Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts voiced an appeal to congress to adopt a cours that will make war impossible. He added that the federal government should be a strong one, but that under no circumstances should local government be weakened in a crisis such as now confronts the nation.

"We hope and pray," he said, "that congress, now in special session, will adopt a course that will be the surest way of keeping us out of war.

"Of course our country is too big to be run on a town meeting basis, but I firmly believe we must preserve the town meeting principle. We have seen too vividly how little all-powerful leaders can be trusted. I have never known a people who could not people themselves.

"Under the threat of war there always is temptation for even greater concentration of central authority. We must be forever on guard to keep the balance true."

An address prepared by Harry H. Woodring, secretary of war, was read to the conclave by Maj. Gen. Frank Andrews, assistant chief of staff of the war department.

"We cannot overlook the seriousness of the economic dislocation that will be the result of a world holocaust that now has been thrust upon us," the address read. "Our President admits the gravity of the situation, but he has instilled into the members of the entire administration that we can and we will stay out of this conflict and at the same time preserve our national honor, our integrity as a democratic nation, and the homogeneity of the nations of this hemisphere."

Legion Cheers Ford.

There were many distinguished visitors in the hall. One of these got one of the greatest ovations a national Legion convention has ever accorded any one. He is Henry Ford. When the applause had died, Mr. Ford said: "I think this is my greatest honor." Then he sat down.

Another ovation was given to Mary Pickford. Josephus Daniels, wartime secretary of the navy, who came next, warned that propaganda and profiteers are the two great dangers in times of world conflict.

Gen. Frank D. Hines of the United States veterans administration and Otis N. Brown, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, also were heard. Then came Commander Chadwick's report, which he prefaced with the announcement that ill health had prevented Gen. John J. Pershing from attending the convention, which has been dedicated to him.

Describes Legion's Duty.

Chadwick's address gave another indication that the Legion probably will take a definite stand on neutrality.

"Ours is the duty of giving our counsel and advice to the American people," he said, "of giving our support to the President of the United States as he speaks for us to nations of the world.

"We believe that our country can be kept from involvement in other peoples' strife and we propose, out of our experience, to counsel and advise the citizenry of America to the end that America may keep the peace."

LEGION WON'T LET AMERICA GO TO WAR, SAYS FORD

Confident That Veterans Will Keep Nation Out.

Henry Ford said yesterday that he is confident that the American Legion will keep this country out of the European war. The pioneer automobile manufacturer has faith that the Legion will not permit congress to repeal the neutrality law.

Mr. Ford's vision was of a greater America, its progress sped by scientific discoveries of new uses for farm products. Prosperity awaits us, he declared, and the only thing that would make it once more temporary would be war.

He was outspoken in his denunciation of President Roosevelt's proposal to allow the sale of guns and ammunition to warring nations, admittedly to benefit the side of the British-French allies.

"If we start shipping that stuff over there we'll be in the war right away," he said.

Doubts It Really Is a War.

"I think that if we don't get into it, the war will stop—if it really is a war. This so-called war is nothing but about 25 people and propaganda—get them and you'll have the whole thing. They want our money and men.'

Despite the fact that opponents of selling munitions are reported to concede a majority in the senate to "cash and carry" advocates, Mr. Ford is not discouraged.

"That has nothing to do with what will happen in the next two weeks," he said. "They [congress] will hear from this crowd pretty quick. I don't think anyone realizes the power of the Legion to do things."

Cheered by Convention.

Mr. Ford was interviewed in a private railroad car in which he came from Detroit early yesterday to attend the convention. He was greeted with a 10 minute ovation at the Coliseum, where the main doings of the convention were held.

He does not believe that American manufacturers will move to Canada in order to make and sell munitions.

"Canada would be better off if it belonged to the United States," he said.

He said he has turned down bids of European nations to manufacture airplane motors. One such offer was made by France, he revealed.

Mr. Ford was a guest last night at the dinner for past national commanders of the Legion in the Palmer house.

V.F.W. RAP REPEAL OF NEUTRALITY AS WAY TO WAR

President Roosevelt's attempted repeal of the Neutrality act was denounced as a sure method of involving the United States in the European war in resolutions forwarded yesterday to Illinois senators and representatives by the Illinois Council of Administration of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The resolutions were adopted by the council Sunday.

"The purpose of those who would repeal the arms embargo is either to produce a prosperity boom based on war trade and thus temporarily to get rid of the unemployment problem, or to aid one side in the present European war," asserted one of the resolutions, which represents the sentiment of 20,000 members of the V. F. W. in Illinois.

"We denounce the attempted repeal of the arms embargo as the first step to getting our country into the war and using American boys' blood and lives playing the game of European diplomacy, making dollar profits for international financiers and pulling the chestnuts of some other nation out of the fires of a war that got too hot for us," the resolution concluded.

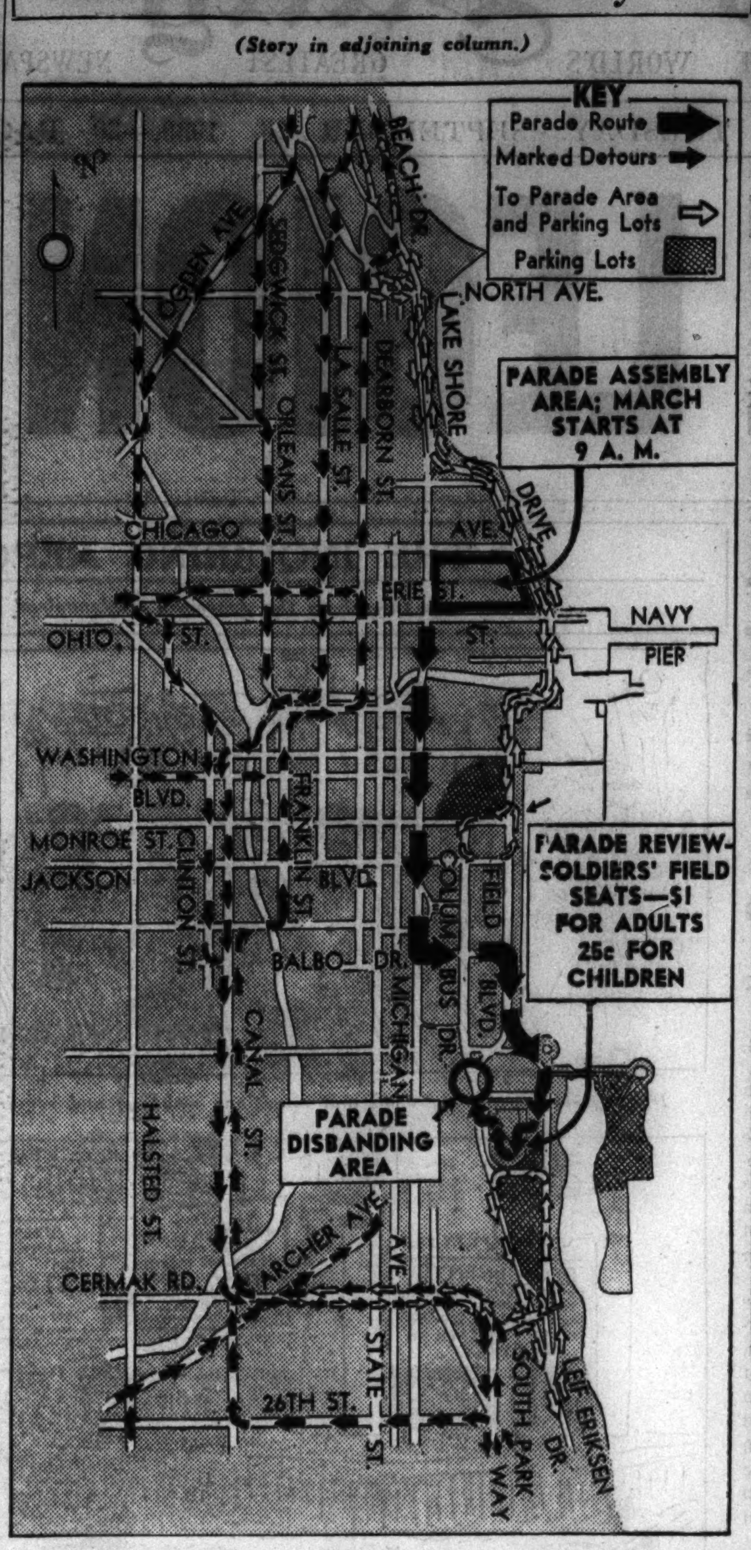
How to Get There—How to Stay Out

(Story in adjoining column.)



Today's Legion parade has created a major trafic problem because it will tie up the loop and through trafic on the Outer drive for at least fifteen hours. This map shows the line of march, the routes to and from parking areas for those who wish to watch the parade, and the detours for those who wish to get to their jobs in the loop or past the loop.

DRIVING TO TOWN TODAY? IT'S NOT A VERY GOOD IDEA

The Legion Parade Will Last Until Midnight.

BY HAL FOUST.

An American Legion parade, starting at 9 a. m. today and continuing until midnight, will close Michigan avenue between Roosevelt road and Chicago avenue, and will ban all but the festive trafic from Grant and Burnham parks. With the loop's front door jammed by marchers, most of the 806,000 persons who enter the central business district on a normal business day will encounter delays.

Most acute is the problem of the 239,000 persons who regularly use private automobiles in traveling between their homes and downtown offices and shops. The parade, starting south from Michigan avenue and Ohio street to Balbo drive and thence east to Soldiers' field, will barricade the main motor approaches to the central business district.

Easier to Watch than Work.

Judging from the plans announced by Otto K. Jelinek, Chicago park district trafic engineer, it will be easier to watch the parade than it will be to do a job in the loop today. North siders can use Lake Shore drive across the outer link bridge to the Monroe street parking lot; they won't be able to drive south of Jackson boulevard in Grant park.

South siders wanting to review the parade can drive to the parking lot south of the stadium, but they won't be able to go farther north in the outer drive. West siders wanting to see the marchers can drive to the stadium by way of the 23d street viaduct.

Detour Markers in Park.

If his problem is to avoid the parade so as to get to work this morning, the north side automobile driver will be able to pick up detour markers in Lincoln park directing him to continue south in Dearborn street or La Salle street, or in a combination of Ogden avenue, Sedgwick, and Orleans street. South siders en route to the loop are urged by signs to leave the outer drive for Cottage Grove avenue or South Park way. If they continue north to 16th street they'll have to turn back to 23d street for a more westerly entrance into the loop.

The regular bus service in Michigan avenue, regularly used by north side and south side lines, will be detoured into Wabash avenue between 9th street and Chestnut street. West side routes will go east only as far as Wabash avenue.

The 222,000 who normally enter the central business district in street cars on a business day will be delayed by the rerouting of gasoline vehicles. Also, although no detours are planned, there will probably be repetitions of yesterday's emergency detours around downtown blockades caused by Legionnaire pranks.

Legion officials estimate that nearly a million persons will see at least part of the fifteen hour parade of an announced 87,000 marchers with 500 brass bands. A capacity crowd is expected at the Soldiers' field, where the reviewing stand will be located. Tickets are on sale to the public, $1 for adults and 25 cents for children.

There will be the usual street car service to the stadium by way of Cermak road and 22d street. A bus shuttle service will operate from Adams and State streets over the 23d street viaduct. Free parking will be availalbe south of the stadium on Northerly island.

URGE FIRST ARMY OF 325,000 MEN FOR U. S. DEFENSE

New York, Sept. 25 [Special].—Revision of the national defense act to provide for a first army of 325,000 men was proposed in a letter sent to members of congress and members of the American Defense society today by Robert Appleton, chairman of the society, which has headquarters here.

Appleton declared the recent maneuvers of the first army at Plattsburg "disclosed a shocking condition," with a deficiency of 77 per cent in personnel, a shortage of 60 per cent in small arms, a shortage of 38 per cent in light field artillery, a shortage of 83 per cent in transportation, and a deficiency of 57 per cent in anti-aircraft weapons.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR COMMANDER HEARD BY CAUCUS

Members of the Illinois caucus of the American Legion, meeting in the Hotel Sherman, adjourned early today until tonight after hearing two candidates for the office of national commander.

The two were Milo Warner of Toledo, O., and Ray Kelly of Detroit, Mich. It is believed they outlined policies they would follow if elected.

Elmer J. Reider of Hyde Park post, Chicago, who is being boomed for national commander, appeared but did not talk. According to Roland Libonati, member of the legislative and Americanism committees, the Illinois delegation probably will agree on some recommendation as to a candidate tonight.

This store will be closed all day Tuesday, September 26, as a salute to the American Legion

40 HOMMES RIDE AGAIN; GIVE WAR THE HORSE LAUGH

5,000 Paraders Amuse 80,000 Spectators.

With resounding gayety and high jinks augmenting the clanging bells and tooting whistles of their motorized locomotives and freight cars, 5,000 men of the Forty and Eight society of the American Legion paraded for more than three hours last night on Michigan boulevard.

The floats, 100 or more, were modeled after the trains that carried American soldiers to the front in France during the war. The society derives its name from the French inscription "40 hommes et 8 chevaux"—forty men and eight horses—stamped on each of the box cars.

'God Bless America' is Theme.

Last night's imitations, however, were a far cry from the freight trains of 1917-'18. For one thing, most of them carried portable phonographs, each playing over and over again, "God Bless America!" Most of them were grotesquely camouflaged or painted in solid colors—black, red, gray, even a dainty yellow. And in almost all the locomotives and tenders were happy ex-sodiers singing, slightly off-key, "Hi-Lee, Hi-Lo!" and "The Beer Barrel Polka."

Color filled the night. Passengers carried red and green flares. Marchers sent up blue and green skyrockets.

The spirit of the men in the cars was reflected by those on foot, much to the delight of more than 80,000 spectators who lined the curbs from 11th street to Ohio street.

Strange Sights Fill Streets.

A lanky veteran from Las Vegas, N. M., sailed serenely up and down the boulevard on roller skates. Several of the more daring marchers—all of them quite portly—braved the chilly temperatures in women's nightdresses or flimsy silk gowns [Over heavy winter underwear, of course]. One marcher was faultlessly clad in top hat and tails—and pink silk panties. Ear muffs and rose colored glasses completed the strange ensemble.

A member of the Queens, N. Y., delegation broke the orderly ranks of his blue-smocked comrades to emulate the whirling dervish as he passed the Art Institute.

With a cigar in one corner of his mouth, another rode alongside the marchers on a tiny velocipede. A massive gentleman from New York skipped along in a polka dot dress and blew kisses to abashed policemen.

Costumes Beat the Band.

Band costumes ranged from the house dresses of the Scranton, Pa., drum and bugle corps to the 50 men of the St. Paul post, all clad in full Indian regalia. The Pittenger Post band of Detroit was led by a youngster on roller skates. Two cowboys on horses rode in front of the unit from Indianapolis, which also sported a real calliope atop a red and gold truck.

When the parade broke up at Ohio street 75 men clad in sackcloth were escorted into Medinah temple. There these veterans, known temporarily as "The Goofs," were inducted into the 40 and 8 society in a secret ceremony called the "national wreck." All qualified for membership in the society by active participation in Legion affairs.

FRENCH GENERAL LANDS ON WAY TO ADDRESS LEGION

New York, Sept. 25 [Special].—Gen. Jacques De Chambrun, retired officer of the French army, arrived today on the Holland-America liner Zaandam, bound for Chicago to attend the American Legion convention. Gen. De Chambrun came to the United States as a representative of the French veterans of the last war.

Gen. De Chambrun was greeted with the question: "How long do you think the war will last?"

Before he could reply, his wife, the former Clara Longworth, sister of the late Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the United States house of representatives, spoke up: "From one to ten years."

Gen. De Chambrun revised this answer after pondering a moment. "Yes—one month to ten years," he said.

LET AMERICA BE PEACE EXAMPLE, AUXILIARY TOLD

Chadwick Asks 'Center of Road' Policy.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

"America cannot force its philosophy down the throats of other nations with bayonets. That has been proved. Only if it applies itself to peace, can it demonstrate its glory and success to the people of other nations."

This was the declaration of Stephen Chadwick, national commander of the American Legion, speaking before the Legion auxiliary at the opening of the organization's nineteenth annual convention yesterday in the Stevens hotel. Several thousand women filled the ballroom of the hotel to hear his address, and the speeches of Mrs. James Morris, national president of the auxiliary, and Miss Mabel T. Boardman, director of the volunteer service of the American Red Cross.

Example for Other People.

"The center of the road—that is the place for us in this world of affairs," Chadwick said. "By example, our success in peace will offer to other peoples the renewed belief in justice, and hope of liberty.

The activities of the auxiliary during the last year were recounted by Mrs. Morris of Bismarck, N. D. The auxiliary, with 480,000 members, is the largest patriotic group in America.

Approximately a million dollars was spent, she said, in a vast program of rehabilitation of disabled veterans, reaching more than 126,000 hospitalized men and women and many disabled persons on the outside. Christmas gifts went to 94,000 veterans. Area rehabilitation conferences were sponsored for the second time. A national rehabilitation fund of more than $40,000 was raised, from which $25,000 was allocated to the rehabilitation fund of the American Legion.

8 and 40 Elects President.

Mrs. Ellen Louise Warren of Washington, D. C., was elected president of the 8 and 40, honorary society of the auxiliary, at the organization's annual meeting last night. She will succeed Mrs. Thelma Bailey of Birmingham, Mich.

The auxiliary nominated five national vice presidents in regional caucuses yesterday afternoon. Voting will take place tomorrow, but nomination is considered tantamount to election. The nominees are: Eastern, Mrs. Charles B. Gilbert, Norwich, Conn.; southern, Mrs. C. W. Harris, Bishopville, S. C.; central, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Racine, Wis.; northwestern, Mrs. G. E. Chambers, Cut Bank, Mont., and western, Mrs. Al J. Mathebat, Alameda, Cal.

Winners of the national music contest were announced late yesterday after judges heard dozens of trios, quartets, and choruses from all over the country. The Vernon McCune unit, No. 132, of Toledo, O., took first honors both in trio and glee club groups, and the Rose city unit, No. 35, of Portland, Ore., won first place in the quartet class.

Cassidy Approves Women for Coroner Jury Service

Attorney General John E. Cassidy yesterday approved the service of women on coroner's juries. He informed State's Attorney Courtney, who had asked for a ruling, that he could see no reason for applying a different rule to coroner's juries than to court juries. He said the coroner originally was a judicial officer and his office a court.

2,000 VETERANS ATTEND REUNION OF 33D DIVISION

More than 2,000 veterans of the wartime 33d division gathered at a dinner and reunion in the Morrison hotel last night, met old buddies, and had a glorious time. Entertainment was furnished by a gay floor show. There were no formal speeches.

There were 43,000 men in the old 33d division, virtually all from Illinois. The nucleus was the old Illinois National Guard. More than 40 per cent of the men came from Cook county and another 40 per cent from downstate. The rest of the division was made up of units from neighboring states. Maj. Gen. George Bell Jr. commanded the division and led it in St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne operations.

HIT REFERENDUM ON WAR PLAN IN LEGION REPORT

Foreign Relations Groups Study Five Issues.

Five subcommittees of the foreign relations committee of the Legion will draw up pronouncements today on [1] war debts; [2] what shall be done about participation in the Federation Interallies des Anciens Combattans [FIDAC]; [3] world peace and foreign relations not directly relating to the neutrality stand; [4] near and far eastern questions; and [5] whether a permanent committee on foreign relations shall be set up to serve throughout the year and not merely during conventions.

Full Report Tomorrow.

The full committee on legislation likewise will report to the convention tomorrow. Two of its resolutions already are known. They will be [1] opposition to any change in present methods of declaring war, considered a blow at referendum proposals, and [2] the approval of universal service in war time not only by men of army age and condition but by industry as well—the so-called universal draft, designed to abolish war profits.

A committee on national defense is preparing to present its findings tomorrow to the convention. The committee is headed by Col. Robert J. Shaw of Sigourney, Ia., who has been secretary or chairman of this committee nine times before. Elmer McMackin of New Salem, Ill., is secretary.

Report Urges Increases.

This committee, before the convention, drew up a tentative report urging increases in army, navy, air, and merchant marine forces to bring America up to full peacetime strength. Four subcommittees yesterday were appointed to study these four defense divisions and make detailed recommendations.

Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, retired, was named chairman of the army subcommittee; George F. Metcalf of Midland, Mich., navy; David S. Ingalls of Cleveland, aviation, and T. Jaconson of Chicago, merchant marine.

1ST DIVISION VETS ROAR SUPPORT OF NEUTRALITY LAW

Warriors Thunder 'No' to Repeal Question.

Some five hundred members of the 1st division, every one of whom saw actual battle service in France during the world war, rose to their feet last night at a colorful reunion and banquet in the Hotel Sherman and cheered statements that the American neutrality law must not be repealed.

The demonstration was one of the most emphatic expressions on the issue at the American Legion convention thus far, and was given in the presence of high army dignitaries.

Banquet Climaxes Reunion.

The banquet wound up a day long reunion starting with the annual 1st division picnic at Cantigny farm, Wheaton. Among those present at the picnic were Gen. Charles P. Summerall, former chief of staff of the United States army, and Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, both of whom formerly commanded the division.

They were also at the banquet and among the principal speakers. Other speakers included Brig. Gen. Karl Truesdell, commander of Fort Sheridan; Brig. Gen. Beverly Brown, Col. Thomas Gowenlock, toastmaster, and Col. R. R. McCormick, publisher of THE TRIBUNE.

Neutrality Issue Raised.

It was during Col. McCormick's speech that the question of the neutrality fight was raised. Col. McCormick had reviewed the history of the 1st division, recalled the dedication of the division's memorial at Cantigny, and was briefly mentioning the present war in Europe.

There are two schools of thought, he said. One is for war, and the other against it. At this an unidentified man voiced an objection against the discussion and started to leave.

The speaker asked his audience, which totaled 522 men, including the one dissenter who was already on his way out:

"And what do you think of the neutrality law? Do you think it ought to be changed?"

Practically all of the 521 men in front, every one a veteran who faced death 21 years ago on the battlefields of France, rose to their feet, hands waving and voices cheering, and roared one thunderous word.

That word was "No!"

First Was First Overseas.

The various speakers reviewed the history of the division, which was the first overseas and the last back home. Fully two-thirds of the men present were wounded, gassed, or otherwise injured in battle. Several of the guests were disabled veterans from Hines hospital who had been there for 20 years.

In his talk Gen. Summerall remarked that "the enemy never buried 1st division dead," pointing out that the division always advanced and never let its dead fall into the hands of the foe. He added that the division's total casualties were twice that of the division's original mustered strength.

The 1st division men are united in the Society of the First Division, A. E. F. Sergt. Herman R. Dorf was chairman of the reunion and banquet. Gen. Summerall was reëlected president of the society.

Lauds Division's History.

In his speech, Col. McCormick said:

"It will be years before we know the secret history of the outbreak of this war. I do not pretend to know much of it. I know that I was invited to attend a conference at least four years ago to discuss what America was to do to help her former allies if war should break in the future.

"I know there was a strong defensive line along the frontier of Czecho-Slovakia. The Czechs and the Poles could have held that line.

"I know the two countries which urged Poland to a warlike stand did absolutely nothing while Poland was being overrun, and I cannot find out if they have done anything since then except to take away from their people every last vestige of individual liberty and impose taxes which promise to ruin them for generations to come.

Americans Want Neutrality.

"As I talk to my friends, as I read what public men are saying, I find that the great bulk of my countrymen wish to remain neutral. But there are two schools of neutrality. There is one school advocated by patriotic, earnest Americans who maintain that the present neutrality act should remain. There is another school in which are found people who are patriotic, equally able Americans who think that we should substitute for that what they call the cash and carry plan. They would allow the empires to buy munitions from us by paying cash and carrying them in their own boats.

"As between these two schools of thought I will not argue tonight. They will be argued by statesmen, eloquent men, writers of distinction, and we will judge of their merits.

"But all the people of this country do not believe in neutrality. We have men as patriotic and as self-sacrificing as the country can produce who believe it is to the interest of America to enter the war. We have others who, for reasons which I cannot accept, reasons of their ancestry, reasons of their blood line across the ocean, who put their ancestry and their blood line above our common interest. All these people for their various motives, who wish to get us into the war, wish to have the neutrality act repealed as the first milestone on the road to war.

Country's Future at Stake.

"The people who do not want to get us into the war are divided on the question of the repeal of the neutrality law. If the people who want to go into the war were also divided there would be some reason to question what we should do. But if all the people who want to get us into the war are agreed on repeal of the neutrality act it is pretty convincing to me that repeal is intended to get us into war.

"The future of our country is at stake and we who preserved it should have an opinion and should express an opinion. I was a junior officer in the division and was often called upon to express my opinion first. I think in my opinion we should not repeal the neutrality act."

TELLS LEGION VIEWS

A preview of the American Legion's attitude on the question of participation by the United States in the European war was given yesterday by Gen. Parker, at the annual division picnic at Cantigny farm.

Three points in particular, said Gen. Parker, will be submitted by the resolutions committee to the convention here. They are:

1. The Legion desires above all to keep the United States at peace with the world.

2. The Legion wants the neutrality of this nation—as defined by congress—respected by all other nations.

3. The Legion wants the United States to have adequate armed forces available to make good its world position.

Shares War Experience.

"I can't say anything more at this time," said Gen. Parker after enumerating these points. "Here we are. We don't know what the future has in store for us and we aren't going to discuss that. It is my job, self-imposed since my retirement, to pass on the experience that I gained—that we gained together in France during the last war—to those who have not had that experience."

Gen. Parker is a member of the convention's resolutions committee. His outline of the Legion's position is believed to be approximately the stand which the entire convention will be asked to take. It is considered particularly significant in that Gen. Parker apparently indicates that the Legion may leave the question of defining "neutrality" to congress.

The speech, made in a natural bowl in a clump of oak trees on the eastern boundaries of Col. McCormick's farm, recalled to the memory of most of the assembled veterans similar gatherings in France 21 years ago. The men stood in a solid ring, five and six deep, around the general as he reminded them of this resemblance.

"You men may remember that toward the close of the last war," the general said, "I came around to your companies or batteries and gathered you in little groups just such as this one.

"We talked about the news—everything we could tell, so that you could know what was going on. That is the purpose here today."

General Doesn't Delay Chow!

Gen. Summerall, who commanded the division prior to Gen. Parker, also attended the picnic. He greeted the men of his former command jocularly, saying:

"When I look you over it doesn't seem possible to me that twenty odd years ago you were in France. In fact, you all look so young that I can hardly believe you were alive then. Every year you look younger to me. Now let's turn to and see when we eat."

His words were cheered and the men lined up as they had in France at "chow call" and were served by the cooks of the field kitchen from the regular army's Second infantry at Fort Sheridan. The ham, baked beans, potato salad, apple pie, and coffee had been prepared by the cooks over open fires upon the farm grounds during the morning.

Afterward the men sat around on the ground swapping tall yarns about "vin rouge and vin blanche" and greeting old comrades. Among the veterans were men from 40 of the 48 states. And, surprisingly enough, there were meetings by friends who had not seen each other since they were in France.

Grenade Team Reunited.

For instance there was Hershell Godfrey, 3737 Huron street, a former rifle grenadier, and Vernon M. Kendall of Reydon, Okla. The two men were part of the same grenade team, Kendall being first carrier for Godfrey. They were taken prisoner by German trench raiders on Nov. 3, 1917, and spent 13½ months together in a dozen different prison camps before the armistice.

Four men who never before had attended a reunion were John L. Younger, Joseph Dvoran, Steve Palenske, and William E. Smith, all patients from Edward Hines Memorial hospital at Maywood. They were the only men among scores of former 1st division troopers now at the hospital, whose physical condition was such that they could be allowed away for the day.

One hundred fifty visiting ladies of the "1st" were guests of the Chicago Cantigny unit at a tea in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. Hostesses included Mrs. Louis Goldberg, tea chairman; Mrs. Mae Liska, unit president; Mrs. Emogene Roberts, president elect, and Mrs. Atlanta Miller, Mrs. Olive Petersen, Mrs. Margaret Patrick, Mrs. Stacia Chmelik, Mrs. Marge Russel, Mrs. June Petersen, all former heads of the unit.

Mrs. John E. Atkins was a special guest. She is the wife of Col. Atkins, formerly of the Salvation Army, affectionately known as the unofficial chaplain of the 1st overseas. Col. and Mrs. Atkins recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

M'NIDER URGES SANITY, ORDER IN OUR OWN HOUSE

Col. Hanford MacNider, former national commander of the American Legion, former assistant secretary of war and former minister to Canada, said yesterday that now is the time for all good American men to keep their sanity and their neutrality. He was the principal speaker at a luncheon given by the Illinois Republican Service Men's league in the Hotel Sherman.

Other speakers who stressed the neutrality issue included Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Gov. Payne Ratner of Kansas, Rep. Ralph Brewster, a former governor of Maine, and Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

"If ever a sane administration was needed by this country, the time is now," Col. MacNider declared. "Any more experiments might ruin us.

"The best national defense is to put our own house in order. Any one can go to war if he wants to, but no one has the right to vote his neighbors' sons into a war to try to solve Europe's eternal problems."

MARINERS OFFER EXPLANATION FOR 'SUB' OFF ALASKA

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 25 [Canadian Press].—Mariners today suggested that a "foreign submarine" reported seen recently in southern Alaskan waters might have been the rakish Audrey B, which arrived yesterday from Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

The Audrey B, painted gray, has a superstructure which from a distance resembles a submarine conning tower. The trading vessel passed along the Alaskan coast en route from the Aleutian Islands.

"We saw a big steamer and thought we saw some fishing boats," said Wilfred Purcell of Seattle. "They might have reported us a submarine. "I guess the Audrey B would look a lot like a submarine from four or five miles away."

Notes on the Legion Convention

Here are some sidelights on the American Legion convention, items which help to present a complete picture of the big event:

A proud legion mother is Mrs. Florian Yoste of Vicksburg, Miss., whose four sons, Harry, Jerry, Jack, and Edward, are members of the drum and bugle corps of the Vicksburg Sons of the American Legion. Vicksburg took third in the national competition last year, and Mrs. Yoste is here to watch her boys toot and drum once more. She is staying with her sister, Mrs. Neal Higgins of 7321 Ridge avenue.

The four oldest world war veterans range between the ages of 90 and 94. Thirty-six are between the ages of 85 and 89. "Babies" of the American Legion are the 11,068 veterans still under 40. The remainder of the 4,041,020 living veterans are over that age. Watson B. Miller, rehabilitation director of the Legion, reported these facts yesterday.

Albert Pearson, 45 years old, of Mankato, Minn., must have been a stout marcher in his day. He arrived at headquarters after hitch hiking 460 miles in 13 hours. It's nothing new for him—he traveled that way to conventions in St. Louis, Cleveland, New York, and Los Angeles.

Fifteen Gold Star mothers skimmed over the lake line and skyscrapers in a TWA plane. Capt. Robert Springer piloted the ship. Mrs. Ben W. Swift of Forest Park arranged the flight. Her companion adventurers were Mrs. Effie Bentley, Pontiac; Mrs. Anthony Matre, Mrs. Sophie Jensen, Mrs. Cora Eagon, Mrs. T. Farley, and Mrs. Peter Lawrence, Mrs. A. Matysik, all of Chicago; Mrs. Elizabeth DeLacy and Mrs. Frank W. Creighton, Oak Park; Mrs. Mary Jackson, Tower, Minn.; Mrs. William Largis and Mrs. Pauline Holgheter, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Frank Kunz, St. Paul, Minn.; and Mrs. Dagmar Gorrell, Mason City, Ia.

Edward Erber of Flint, Mich., won the unofficial title of the shortest veteran attending the convention. He is 4 feet 9 inches tall. Trevor P. Thomas of Denver, Col., was the runner-up. He's 5 feet.

Virginia Legionnaires will wear the uniforms of eight wars in which Virginia has participated when they march in today's parade. The uniforms date from Bacon's rebellion in 1674 through the world war and depict the military history of the country.

Many a Legionnaire has attended national conventions hoping to find some long lost pal he has not seen since their war days together in France. This year the Legion has established a "Lost Buddy Department" in the Brevoort hotel with the intention of trying to bring these friends together again. It will be a permanent feature of the encampment reunions.

Three hundred fifty members of the National Association of American Balloon Corps Veterans had a banquet in the Congress hotel. Of the group 225 were from out of town. Sidney Rothschild of Chicago heads the organization.

HOUSE SITS BACK AWAITING SENATE REPEAL BATTLE

Hoffman Assails Gag Rule Imposed by President.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—The house agreed today to remain quiet while the senate debates the neutrality issue, meeting only on Mondays and Thursdays and not discussing nor considering any legislation of importance.

The twice a week meeting schedule will be in effect until Oct. 9 and probably will be extended at that time unless the senate unexpectedly acts swiftly on President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the neutrality act.

One measure—dear to the hearts of the members—was passed unanimously. This was the resolution appropriating $222,000 [$171,000 for the house and $51,000 for the senate] to pay the travel expenses of senators and representatives attending the special session. Each statesman receives an allowance of 15 cents per mile, the average allowance being better than $400.

Hoffman Blasts Inactivity.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], in a statement inserted in the Congressional Record, assailed the forced inactivity of the house. He noted that when congress adjourned last Aug. 5, it left much important business unfinished. He pointed particularly to the failure of congress to enact amendments to the Wagner labor relations act and to the wages and hours law—which, he asserted, were demanded by more than 70 per cent of the citizens, according to reliable public polls.

"Calling congress back because of the European war, the President now demands that it repeal the neutrality act," declared Hoffman.

"On top of his demand that congress shall not do anything to solve our domestic problems, he has laid down the decree that congressmen, for the present at least, shall not even discuss neutrality legislation in the house.

"Why talk about, and get excited over, the actions of foreign dictators when the President himself denies to the elected representatives of the people the right of free speech in the halls of congress?"

"Gentleman's Agreement."

When Majority Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas presented the resolution calling upon the house to meet only on Mondays and Thursdays until Oct. 9, he announced that a "gentleman's agreement" had been reached between the leaders of the two major parties to take up no legislation during that period.

Speaker William B. Bankhead announced he plans to go back home to Alabama for a few days. A resolution appointing Rayburn speaker pro tempore was adopted. Many members announced their intention of following the speaker's example.

SCHOOLS CLOSED IN CITY TODAY FOR LEGION'S PARADE

All public and Catholic parochial schools in Chicago will be closed today to permit the students to view the American Legion parade, it was announced yesterday by James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, and the Very Rev. Msgr. D. F. Cunningham, superintendent of Catholic schools.

Schools in Cook county outside the city may close at the discretion of their individual school districts, Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, said. Under the state law his office can take such action only on legal holidays, he said.

Prominent legionnaires spoke on Americanism yesterday at special patriotic exercises in the assemblies of each of the city's 39 high schools. Units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps participated in the services. Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut was the guest speaker at Lake View High school, Ashland and Irving park avenues.

CLOSE AMERICAN SCHOOL TO DODGE JAPANESE RULE

PEIPING, China, Sept. 26, Tuesday (AP).—A girls' school operated at Kaifeng by the American Catholic Order of the Sisters of Providence has been closed because of insistence by the Japanese inspired Honan provincial government that the school install a Japanese adviser.

The order has headquarters at St. Mary of the Woods, Indiana.

Sister Maria Gratia [Josephine Luking] sent word here today that classes were disrupted and the students dismissed following the demand. The United States embassy here is protesting the order to the Japanese embassy. No known educational regulations require that a Japanese adviser be installed in such schools.

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't endure it first and cure it afterward. Find out what's giving you the trouble.

Chances are it's simple if you eat the super-refined foods most people do: meat, white bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, you should eat a natural "bulk" producing food—such a one as the crunchy, toasted, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. All-Bran is the ounce of prevention that's worth a pound of emergency relief. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Two views of two cartridges found in German Luger pistol on battlefield at Soissons during war in 1918. A (bottom) is the butt of shell A at top, and B (bottom) is the butt of shell B at top.

Legionnaire E. L. Seaton of Peru, Ill., yesterday showed friends two 7.65 millimeter cartridges he said were taken from a German Luger automatic pistol picked up in 1918 while war was still on by a First Division infantryman on the battlefield at Soissons. One of the cartridges was made in Germany. The other had the name "Western" and the date "1917" stamped on its butt and obviously was made in the United States. The gun, said Seaton, had been used against American troops. The cartridges were in the German pistol when it was found. Seaton fired them with a nail to prevent an accident while carrying them.

REPORT DELAYED ON WORK TOWARD TRACTION UNITY

A scheduled report of progress on negotiations for a unified traction franchise being carried on between the city and the transit lines was postponed yesterday until Oct. 5 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. Walter A. Shaw, the court's traction adviser and chairman of the three man negotiating committee for the transit companies, was to have made a progress report yesterday, but the date was moved ahead pending a meeting of the city council's local transportation committee and the transit negotiators on Wednesday.

Judge Wilkerson took under advisement the city's petition for the installation of a gasoline bus line by the Chicago Surface Lines in North Central avenue between Foster and Devon avenues.

RUMANIA DENIES PREMIER DIED IN 'GERMAN PUTSCH'

BUCHAREST, Sept. 25 (AP).—Rumania denied officially tonight that Premier Calinescu's assassination was the result of an attempted "German putsch."

Eugen Titeanu, assistant propaganda secretary, said 'the murder was the isolated deed of a few madmen and was not representative of public opinion or minorities."

Members of the outlawed pro-Nazi Iron Guard killed Calinescu last Thursday. The government executed many Iron Guardists—some estimates were 2,000—after the slaying. A life pension of $350 a month for Calinescu's widow has been ordered.

Washington Porter II. Named in Tax Judgment

Judge Thomas J. Lynch yesterday entered judgment of $15,020 in behalf of Cook county against Washington Porter II., south side art collector. The judgment represented personal property taxes for 1937 on objects in Porter's Lakeside Art Galleries, 4043 Lake Park avenue. Assistant State's Attorney William Kearney said that judgments entered against Porter in the last five years now total $75,000.

BILL TO REPEAL NEUTRALITY ACT GIVEN TO SENATE

Consideration Held Up by Committee.

posed to accept the neutrality repealer if it were hooked up with iron clad cash and carry conditions of export and rigid provisions to prevent the exposure of Americans and American ships to war dangers.

Hull's Opinion Denied.

At the committee meeting Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], one of the leaders of the noninterventionists, moved that Secretary of State Cordell Hull be requested to submit his views on the bill. The motion was defeated by the administration members in order to spare Mr. Hull, not to mention the President, certain embarrassments. These arise from Mr. Hull's inability to indorse the measure unreservedly and from a conflict between Mr. Hull's views of neutrality in 1936 and in 1939.

In 1936 Mr. Hull asserted the passage of the neutrality bill was necessary because international law was dead, whereas Mr. Roosevelt now would repeal the neutrality act in order to return to international law. Notwithstanding his rebuff by the committee Senator Vandenberg said he would write to Mr. Hull asking an expression of his views.

May Lose Majority.

The indications are that the administration now commands a majority of the senate for the repealer by a margin of one or two votes, without ten senators still on the fence. The debate on the bill is to begin next week and will continue at least a month.

It may be five or six weeks before the bill comes to a vote. In that time it might be beaten by popular reaction against it, just as happened in the case of the league of nations covenant, the world court, and the Roosevelt scheme to pack the Supreme court, all of which started out with apparent majority support. Senators are being inundated with letters running ten to one against the neutrality repealer and the volume of such protest might turn the tide.

HUTCHINS WARNS COLLEGE YOUTHS OF PEACE TASK

University of Chicago freshmen were advised by President Robert M. Hutchins yesterday to prepare themselves for the task of rebuilding the world after the war. He spoke at the opening assembly of freshman week, attended by more than 600 students.

"No matter who wins the war, whether America goes into it or not, the peace and the task of reconstruction are much more important than the war itself," Dr. Hutchins said.

"It is hard to think that education is important when the world is on fire. The temptation is to rush out and join the fire department. The trouble today is that it is difficult to say just who or where the fire department is.

"We know that the world has been brought to its present pass by stupidity, ignorance, selfishness, and greed. To these forces the American universities stand opposed. The hope that the rising generation will be more enlightened than its predecessors is the only hope we have."

10 World War Destroyers Commissioned for Patrol

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 (AP).—Ten of the 40 world war destroyers to be used in the neutrality patrol were commissioned today. Six commissioned at Philadelphia are the Dallas, Gilmer, Hatfield, Fox, Brooks and Kane. Four at San Diego are the Gamble, Montgomery, Ramsay, and Breese. They will remain in port temporarily for minor reconditioning work and probably will not go to sea for at least a week, the navy department said. No information was given as to their future stations.

Terms of Bill to Repeal Neutrality Act

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—Following is a summary of the Pittman bill drawn by the administration to repeal the neutrality law and to prescribe rules following proclamation of the existence of a foreign war.

1. The neutrality act of 1935, as amended and reënacted in 1937, would be repealed. This would eliminate the existing embargo on shipments of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to nations engaged in war.

2. The bill provides that "whenever the President or congress by concurrent resolution shall find that there exists a state of war between foreign states and that it is necessary to promote the security or preserve the peace of the United States or to protect the lives of citizens of the United States, the President shall issue a proclamation naming the states involved." [Existing laws contain no provision for a finding by congress that a state of war exists among foreign states.]

3. It would be unlawful for any American vessel to carry any passengers or any articles or materials to any belligerent named in the proclamation, except as to transportation on lakes, rivers, and inland waters bordering on the United States. This would exempt Canada as to transportation. The penalty for any violation of this section would be imprisonment for not more than five years and a fine of not more than $50,000.

4. It would be unlawful to export from the United States, to any belligerent named in the proclamation, any articles or materials until all right, title, and interest therein had been transferred to the foreign purchaser. The shipper would be required to file a declaration under oath that no United States citizen retained any rights in the exported articles and the declaration would constitute an estoppel against any claim by American citizens or by the government on their behalf.

5. The bill directs the President, whenever he finds that the protection of citizens of the United States so requires, to define, by proclamation, "combat areas," and thereafter it would be unlawful, "except under such rules and regulations" as the President might prescribe, for any American citizen or vessel to enter such areas. The penalty for violation of this section would be imprisonment for not more than two years and a fine of not more than $10,000. The provisions of this section would not apply to ships under charter by the American Red Cross, proceeding under safe conduct granted by the belligerents, in the transportation of Red Cross personnel and food and clothing for the relief of human suffering.

6. It would be unlawful for any citizen of the United States to travel on any vessel of any state named in the proclamation, except in accordance with such rules and regulations as the President might prescribe. [This is a provision of existing law.]

7. It would be unlawful for any American vessel engaged in commerce with any foreign state to be armed, except with such small arms as the President might prescribe. [This is a provision of existing law.]

8. It would be unlawful for any person in the United States to sell or purchase bonds, securities, or other obligations of the belligerent states, or to make any loan or extend any credit to any belligerent or its agents. The President is authorized to except from this prohibition for a period of not more than 90 days "without renewals, ordinary commercial credits and short time obligations in aid of legal transactions and of a character customarily used in normal peace time commercial transactions." [Existing law contains a similar provision, but it has no 90 day limitation.] The penalty for violation of this section would be imprisonment for not more than five years and a fine of not more than $50,000.

9. It would be unlawful for any person to solicit or receive in the United States any contribution for a belligerent state or agent thereof, except contributions for food and clothing to relieve human suffering. [This is a provision of existing law.]

10. The President would have authority whenever he had cause to believe that any vessel about to leave any port of the United States was about to carry money, fuel, or arms or other supplies to any warship or tender of any belligerent state, to require such vessel to post bond against making any such deliveries.

11. The President would have authority to issue a proclamation, after which it would be unlawful for any submarine or armed merchant vessel of a belligerent to enter a port or the territorial waters of the United States, or to depart therefrom, except under such conditions as the President might prescribe. [The British liner Aquitania, armed with 12 pounders, sailed from New York Saturday.]

12. The national munitions control board created under existing law would be reëstablished to register all manufacturers, exporters, and importers of arms, ammunition, and implements of war. Munitions could not be exported without a specific license issued in response to an application stating the name of the purchaser and the terms of the sale. The board would be required to report to congress twice each year, giving full information concerning licenses issued, the names of the purchasers, and the terms of the sales.

Harry Slattery to Leave Interior Post for REA Job

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 [Special].—Undersecretary of the Interior Harry Slattery will resign his position tomorrow to assume his new duties as administrator of the Rural Electrification administration, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes said today.

LEGION HILARITY HAS LOOP DOING A LOOP THE LOOP

Barrage of Fun Puts Business to Rout.

looking for friends from such outfits as subchasers, the 13th balloon company, War Risk office, 1st Gas regiment, and many battleships. There also was a lone M. P., looking, rather wistfully, for the other member of the military police.

So far as could be learned there is no lost and found department, and the most important loss seemed to be that of the Arkansas Legionnaire who had misplaced his auto in which he had left a 17 year old son.

Hotel elevators were so jammed that freight lifts were used to augment the regular service. One Morrison hotel clerk was heard to issue special orders that a car stop at the 19th floor to bring down a guest who said he had been trying to reach the lobby for an hour.

Forget Home and Business.

Home and business were forgotten, apparently. The Sherman's public stenographer reported she had taken only one letter in a six and a half hour stretch. That, she said, was a sort of speech.

The Legionnaires' revelry was contagious and during the evening brought thousands of civilians into the loop, causing trafic jams at every corner. The antics of the crowd outdid the wildest of New Years' eves, observers said. There was nearly a battle royal at the Clark street entrance of the Hotel Sherman with throngs trying to get inside and others trying to get out.

The carefree attitude of the visiting throngs was summed up by a large party in the garb of the woman's auxiliary. She said:

"It sure is fun not to have any place to go, just to keep going around and around until you get dizzy."

Thousands agreed with her, apparently.

By CALEB

WHEN we started out, the other morning, to pay a visit to a fine Chicago printing plant, we didn't know that such a word existed; and while we knew that such an art existed, we knew nothing whatever about it. The visit enlightened us on both counts; for we not only met one of the few individuals successfully practising the art in America—but became acquainted with much of the interesting and romantic history of the art—and imbibed a wholly new and inspiring respect for what our own book section means by "Fine Bindings." . . .

Books, by and large, are prized by two different kinds of people, for two different kinds of reasons. One type of buyer and owner is also a reader: the bibliophile. Your true book-lover, he prizes his book primarily for its content. The binding, so long as it is reasonably substantial, is incidental. The second type of buyer and owner may be a reader, or may not. He is the bibliomaniac—the book-collector. His specialty is old books, rare books, or beautifully bound books; and whether he peruses them or not, he exults in their possession.

With the bibliomaniac who "goes in for" fine bindings, however, the bibliophile and even the layman can be admiring sympathizers . . . for there is nothing which the kindred arts of architecture, painting, sculpture, pottery, jewelry, or glass can offer, that surpasses the best creations of the bibliopegist—or, if you prefer, bookbinder.

Bookbinding has, of course, two main divisions: machine work (commercial binding), and handwork (professional binding). It is obviously primarily the latter whose background, development, practitioners, and products, justify the layman's interest and desire for further information. Hence, if the comment-items gleaned from our visit prompt any reader's wider examination of the subject, such time and effort expenditure will be well rewarded. . . .

The bibliopegist actually traces his art's beginnings to the days of the Assyrians and Babylonians, who fastened their clay tablets in covers for precisely the same reason that we bind pages today—for preservation. As the later Egyptians developed writing materials from the papyrus, and the still later Greeks advanced the evolution of paper, crude binding kept pace. Phoenician and Venetian traders brought the practice into Europe, where the earliest paper-makers were Italians; and presently, on vellum and parchment, the scholarly monks of the Middle Ages began to give permanence to such learning as the world then possessed.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

[ADVERTISMENT]

"OH! MY POOR FEET!"

Do your feet fairly shriek at you after a hard day? And is there any worse misery? Why not try the wonderful liquid preparation that has made so many feet happier? Get quick relief with OIL-of-SALT. Keep it on hand for such emergencies as cuts, minor burns and scalds, bruises, non-venomous insect bites. At all druggists. Your money back if not satisfied.

RESIST ASSAULT! 21 NEW WORLD REPUBLICS URGED

U. S. Offers Economic Aid to Latin America.

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Sept. 25 (AP).—The United States, through Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, today urged the republics of the new world to resist all aggression—direct or indirect—and offered economic help to soften the European war's effects on the American continents.

Sumner Welles.

Representatives of the other American republics heard Welles declare at the first plenary session of their neutrality conference that the time had come for all 21 republics in the new world to come out clearly against any belligerent activities "in close proximity to the shores of the new world."

Plan to Protect Seas.

Immediately after Welles spoke, the conference heard proposals from Peru and Cuba for protection of American seas from activities of the belligerents. Several delegations later were reported as favoring a coöperative patrol.

Foreign Minister Enrique Goytisolo of Peru called for creation of a neutral maritime zone surrounding the American continents to safeguard commercial trafic. He proposed a zone extending from mid-Atlantic to mid-Pacific.

Secretary of State Miguel Angel Campa of Cuba proposed that the republics "reprove" all actions by the belligerents which would tend to carry their hostilities to American waters. The statement was regarded as an expression of the almost unanimous stand of Caribbean and Central American nations for a coastal patrol of both continents by American navies.

Opening the session, Foreign Minister Narciso Garay of Panama declared it was time for immediate action to conserve peace. He was elected president of the meeting.

Offers Coöperation.

Welles, in his speech, declared he was authorized to state that his government "wishes to coöperate with all other American republics in such efforts of each to develop the resources of its country along sound economic and noncompetitive lines."

"Our influence for peace and for the reëstablishment of a world order based on morality and on law must be unshaken and secure," he said. "To accomplish this we must, and we can, resolutely defend our continent from all menace of aggression, direct or indirect.

Many delegates, including the Mexican foreign minister, Eduardo Hay, voiced support of Welles' call for a stand against activities in new world regions by the warring powers.

AMERICANS QUIT CLAMORING FOR WAY TO GET HOME

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 (AP).—The maritime commission today reported a sudden decline in the clamor of Americans for passage home from Europe.

The Paris office of the United States Lines advised the commission that, although the S. S. Shawnee delayed its sailing from a French port for two days, its books were considerably less than the 500 passengers it can accommodate.

The commission said three other vessels chartered to provide passage for American refugees were en route to Europe, but advices indicated they, too, may return only partly loaded.

WATCHMAN ROUTS BURGLARS.

Two men who tried to break into the offices of the Mellowed Meat Products, Inc., 213 North Ada street, last night were fired on and routed by Michael Hlit, patrolman for a private watch service.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

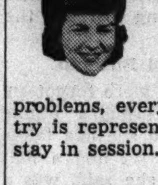
Do you think congress should remain in session to keep the country out of Europe's war?

Where Answered.

On North Michigan avenue.

The Answers.

James A. Salter, 1202 Granville avenue, salesman—Yes, I do, because if congress is in session it will mean that that many more minds are working for this country's neutrality. We have no business in the war. I think congress should stay in session and should not leave all the questions up to the President.



Miss Betty MacDonald, Allerton hotel, radio artist—I think action by congress is the only satisfactory way to settle many of the questions that are coming up because of Europe's war. When congress considers the problems, every section of the country is represented. I think it should stay in session.

Jack Merryweather, 43 East Ohio street, artist—Congress should stay in session by all means, so that its members will be in a position to take whatever steps seem necessary to preserve this country's neutral position. So many things may happen in Europe that will affect this country.

Miss Betty Agnew, 604 Bonnie Brae, River Forest—I think that congress is the only agency that is qualified to make important decisions in this critical situation, and that it should stay in session. The crisis is so important that the President or any one man could not handle it properly. Congress is needed.

Edward J. Wojtal, 2542 West Carmen avenue, radio sound man—If congress stays in session, then we will all have our representatives in Washington and we can exercise some control over them by writing letters or sending telegrams to them. I think they should stay there because lots of unexpected things may happen.

BUND CHIEF KUHN FACES ARREST ON PERJURY CHARGE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 [Special].—A unanimous decision to seek perjury indictments against Fritz Kuhn, head of the German-American bund, was reached by the house committee investigating un-American activities today after it had received evidence held to contradict that given to it by the former German machine gunner several weeks ago.

G. H. Seger.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The evidence was offered by Gerhart H. Seger, former Social Democrat member of the German reichstag and now publisher in New York of the German-American weekly Neue Volkszeitun. He disputed Kuhn's statements that the bund is not an agency of the Nazi government. No definite action toward the indictment of Kuhn is expected until after the committee has had other testimony and has recalled Kuhn for further questioning.

Besides offering rebuttal to Kuhn's testimony that his organization had no connection with the Nazi government Seger asserted that Kuhn falsified in stating that he never had been arrested in Germany and never had engaged in unlawful activity there.

PASTORS INDORSE NEUTRALITY LAW BY 215-37 VOTE

Adopt Statement of Views on European War.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Present neutrality laws were favored, 215 to 37, in a vote of Chicago pastors of 19 denominations yesterday. The action was taken at the first fall union ministers' meeting in Central Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street.

The resolution came as a surprise from the floor of the meeting. When an attempt was made to refer the measure to a Chicago Church federation commission for study, the pastors insisted on an immediate vote.

Oppose Sale of Munitions.

The resolution, which asked continued prohibition of the sale of munitions to belligerents, was presented by the Rev. Henry Huizinga, retired Baptist missionary, after the pastors had approved a statement of position on the European conflict. None of the points touched American neutrality laws being considered by the extraordinary session of congress.

The Rev. Theodore C. Hume, pastor of New England Congregational church, sought time to study the Huizinga resolution. The Rev. Dr. Norman Barr, retired Presbyterian pastor, former superintendent of Olivet institute, supported the resolution.

Statement of Pastors' Views.

The statement, presented by the Rev. Dr. Rolland W. Schloerb of Hyde Park Baptist church, chairman of the federation's commission on world friendship, included the following affirmations:

"The church should keep unbroken the world-wide fellowship in Christ which now exists. It should endeavor to maintain means of communication between Christians in warring lands.

"Church buildings, dedicated to God, should be used for that purpose; they should not be requisitioned or used by military agencies for promotion of war.

"The church should seek ways and means to minister to prisoners of war, to the sick and the hungry in civilian populations overrun by war, and to all who by war are left homeless and destitute.

"The church should try to prevent hysteria and hate, and the belief that responsibility for today's war lies with one individual or one nation alone.

"The church should believe, and encourage all men to believe, that God is able, through consecrated human effort, to establish world order, justice and peace."

Russian orthodox churches in the Polish provinces occupied by soviet armies have not been molested, but many Roman Catholic churches have been closed. Many priests fled toward the German side of the German-soviet demarcation line.

Steps were taken to build a Polish army in France to fight on the western front. The Polish ambassador to France, Julius Lukasiewicz, ordered all Polish men 17 to 45 years old, visiting or living in France, to be prepared to serve in this army.

German infantry operating near Warsaw reported the capture of a new type of anti-tank gun of British origin. It was the first mention of English war equipment being used by the Poles.

ESTONIAN CHIEF BOLTS MOSCOW; FLIES FOR HOME

Foreign Minister Departs on 'Urgent Business.'

BULLETIN.

MOSCOW, Sep. 26 (Tuesday)—(AP)—The entire frontier between soviet Russia and Rumania and Russia's big Black sea port of Odessa were reported unofficially today to have been closed to travelers.

MOSCOW, Sept. 25 (AP).—Abruptly ending his stay in Moscow after less than 15 hours, Estonia's foreign minister rushed for Tallinn, his capital, today on what was reported reliably to be urgent business.

Diplomatic circles said Russia might be making demands upon her little Baltic neighbor, whose territory was Russian ruled before the world war.

Secrecy shrouded the sudden cessation of conversations between Karl Selter, the Estonian minister, and high soviet officials, however. There was no inkling whether the talks merely had been suspended or broken off completely. Selter came here ostensibly to negotiate a trade treaty.

Hail Turkish Mission.

After Selter's departure a number of Russian officials welcomed a diplomatic mission from Turkey amid a great display of soviet and Turkish flags.

The Turkish delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, came for important diplomatic and trade talks.

Envoys of five Black sea and Balkan states were at the station to greet the vistors. They were the ministers of Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece, Persia, and Afghanistan.

[A Black sea pact has been reported numerous times in recent months as among Russia's objectives.]

It was said in diplomatic circles that Russia has a tremendous bargaining advantage over Turkey now that Germany and Great Britain, her chief rivals for Turkish trade, are at war.

Here's What Russia Wants.

Foreign circles said they expected Russia would seek a guarantee from Turkey to close the Dardanelles to any ships opposed to Russian interests in return for possible soviet guarantees against any German attack on Turkey.

Unofficial sources here said a group of German economic and trade experts will come to Moscow shortly for conferences on a new trade and credit agreement between the two countries as well as matters affecting Poland.

The consultations, it was said, will decide to just what extent Russia will help Germany economically. The question of oil from Russia's newly-won territory in Poland was expected to be one of the major considerations since oil is one of Germany's pressing needs.

A Red army communique tonight reported its army had penetrated farther westward into Poland. The soviets were said to have reached Suvalki [Suwalki] next to the East Prussian border; Yanov [Janow Podlaski], 20 miles northwest of Brest-Litovsk and 90 miles east of Warsaw; Opalin and Dubenka [Dubienka], two points, about 20 miles east of Chelm and about 45 miles west of Lublin, and Koziowa, 30 miles southwest of Stryi.

Belgians Say Nazis Seek to Trade Wheat for Fuel

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 25 (AP).—Belgian officials disclosed tonight that a German trade delegation which has been negotiating with Belgium since Sept. 14 had offered to exchange wheat for Belgian fuel and metal products. The Belgians commented that it was "curious" that the Germans apparently were not worried by the danger of a wheat shortage.

Welsh Son Follows Father as Town's First War Victim

SWANSEA, Wales, Sept. 25 (AP).—David John was listed today as the first Swansea man killed in action in the present war. His father was the first Swansea man killed in the world war.

HITLER'S RETURN TO BERLIN STIRS NEW PEACE TALK

Negotiations Under Way Amid Mystery.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Sept 26, Tuesday (AP).—A supreme army command communique issued today said: "After all efforts failed at convincing the Polish commander of the gruesomeness and uselessness of resistance in Warsaw, fighting operations against the city were begun yesterday. In the west there was artillery and barrage fire and minor scouting troop activities. In air fights five French planes and two captive balloons were shot down. Anti-aircraft guns shot down one French plane."

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler will return to Berlin from the Polish front tomorrow and at once will become the chief figure in mysterious negotiations.

Unless "important diplomatic negotiations which are being carried on at present show that England and France are willing to attempt to come to terms with the authoritarian powers," Hitler intends to proceed to the western front," a responsible Nazi source said today.

The negotiations are cloaked in mystery, it was said, because only if they promise success will those participating in them be willing to show their hands.

Soviet Russian circles also talk of peace negotiations. In these groups it is stated that "if the English and French learn that Russia may decide to declare war on them instead of England and France declaring war on Russia, the western powers may decide it is healthier to try to come to terms with the Germans and us."

Many Leaders Called In.

Hitler has summoned many men to Berlin and important conferences have been prepared for his arrival. It is expected that the national defense council will hold a big meeting under his orders in the chancellery near the end of the week.

Extraordinary activity was evident in recruiting offices of Berlin and other German cities today. Elder men are now being called to the colors as well as the classes of 1901 to 1904. The elder men expect they will be sent to Poland to replace the divisions sent to the western front.

Hitler today visited the German army on the Lodz front where the biggest battle of the war in Poland was fought. Long columns of Polish prisoners filled the roads as the Fuehrer looked on. He also watched the seige of Warsaw. Germans assert that Warsaw is not an open town, but is strongly fortified.

Praise New Attack Plane.

That the civilian population took arms has aroused Nazi indignation, especially against the women volunteers, whom the Nazi press calls "hags with rifles."

The press also spoke glowingly of victories over Warsaw by Germany's newest and strongest weapon, the diving combat plane. It is a combination of the heavy and pursuit bombing plane and is nicknamed "Stuka."

[A Budapest dispatch said Warsaw's radio had been silent for 24 hours, but European listeners learned from German broadcasts that the Polish capital still was unconquered. Using a wave length once belonging to Warsaw, the German announcers, speaking Polish, said that Warsaw was again under heavy artillery fire and that Modlin fortress, 18 miles to the northwest, was surrounded.]

The supreme high command's communique today said:

"The movement of German troops toward the demarcation line [between German and soviet Russian zones of occupation in Poland] continued frictionless everywhere and in perfect unison with Russian units."

Isolated Polish troops still are resisting on the Hela peninsula.

Mass Army on Neutral Border.

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (AP).—Germans in informed quarters explained tonight that the massing of troops near the three-cornered border of Germany, the Netherlands, and Belgium, was a precaution against any French or British designs to find a "soft front" for a drive through neutral soil into the reich.

[The Germans heretofore repeatedly have denied the big concentrations of troops near the neutral countries.]

These sources said it would be against Germany's interests to carry on military operations there because of its proximity to the Ruhr coal fields and lower Rhine industrial region.

A communique meanwhile announced the sinking of an unidentified British destroyer by a German submarine and the shooting down of eight French war planes.

Sweden, disturbed by the sinking of Swedish boats carrying wood pulp to England, is planning to escort its merchantmen to the North sea where they can then be convoyed by British warships. Reports of gunfire in the North sea caused neutrals to speculate on the possibility of a major naval engagement in that area.

French Attack

QUEBEC TO VOTE ON DOMINION'S WAR LEGISLATION

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 25 [Special].—Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec today announced that his government will hold a provincial general election on the alleged invasion of Quebec's constitutional rights by federal war legislation. The action, it was believed, may threaten Canada's unity in war.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King's federal government was reported to have "leaned over backward" in its war measures in an attempt to avoid the racial cleavage caused in the world war by the indictment of conscription in Canada. He has pledged himself against conscription. The regulations which this government have passed to control finance and industry authorize a degree of regimentation, but so far have been applied with a light hand.

The purpose of the exchange control regulations—which some say prompted Duplessis to claim that Quebec's autonomy has been infringed—is intended, it was explained here, to conserve Canadian financial resources from speculative raids.

REVEAL FRITSCH DIED ON PATROL DUTY IN POLAND

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York News.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—Some details concerning the death of Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch on the Warsaw front were learned here today.

Von Fritsch was on the front with an artillery regiment, of which he was honorary commander. Actual command of the regiment, however, was delegated to another colonel. Von Fritsch, evidently disappointed at not having a responsibility commensurate with his rank, accompanied a reconnaissance patrol to the Polish first line. The patrol was caught in machine gun fire, which killed the general and others.

Doughnut from "Cannon" Nips Legionnaire's Nose

Philip C. Baer, 45 years old, a Legionnnaire from Hammond, Ind., won his battle scars last night. He was acting as a trafic director at Clark and Madison streets when a "40 & 8" squad approached, shooting stale doughnuts from toy cannons. Baer got in the way of a doughnut. At the Henrotin hospital early today it was learned he had been shorn of part of his nose.

masens. This offensive appeared to be reaching out toward the Siegfried line itself.

The Haardt range, a continuation of the Vosges mountains, covers a 20-mile sector between the German town of Pirmasens and the French town of Wissembourg.

Observers said the French apparently believed they had found a weak spot in the Nazi lines in this vicinity.

British troops were reported continuing to move up toward the front. It was announced authoritatively there were almost six times as many British divisions ready for service in 1939 as there were at the start of the world war.

The British reported 32 divisions were ready, some of which already had started taking their places in the front line.

Nazis Bombarded All Night.

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 25 (AP).—French shelling of the Siegfried line today followed a night long bombardment of German fortifications, dispatches stated.

Military advices noted French advances, notably in the Mandel and Blies Creek valleys and the area northwest of Wissembourg in the Palatinate forest.

NORWAY REPORTS GUNFIRE AT SEA; SUSPECTS BATTLE

Islanders Watch Ships Exchanging Shots.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 25 (AP).—Inhabitants of communities and small islands on the coast of Norway today reported day-long cannonading far at sea which they interpreted to mean a naval battle was raging.

It was impossible to learn the time the firing started but it stopped—at least temporarily—between 7 and 8 p. m.

Inhabitants of a small island south of Bergen in southwestern Norway said they saw several ships of undetermined nationality proceeding northward at full speed last night amid a constant exchange of gunfire.

Island Houses Shaken.

Others, however, reported first hearing the big guns at about 6 a. m. They said the concussion shook some island houses.

Late in the afternoon residents along the coast said the firing appeared to be moving northward and westward—away from Norway.

Earlier the residents of Algroi Island, six miles west of Bergen, had said the battle—if it was a battle—seemed to be moving toward shore.

[The British admiralty said Monday night that it had received no report of a naval engagement off the Norwegian coast, "as would have been the case had one taken place." Cannonading last week in the Kattegatt, between Denmark and Sweden, first was taken for a naval battle but later proved to be target practice by Swedish batteries.]

Reports came from Marstenen, a small island off Bergen, that six or seven boats had been seen to the northward constantly maneuvering, but they could not be identified.

Cannonading Lulls.

The cannonading quieted down for half an hour early in the afternoon, but when it was resumed the sound of lighter caliber guns could be heard distinctly in coastal towns.

Watchers on the shore near Stavanger—100 miles south of Bergen—saw the Swedish steamer Suecia pick up men from two small boats adrift at sea. Belief was expressed they were victims of the "battle."

Later it was learned that they were crewmen of the 1,839 ton Swedish freighter Silesia, bound from Gothenburg, Sweden, to Hull, England, which was torpedoed, presumably by a German submarine.

The sinking of the freighter was the fourth neutral ship to go to the bottom in three days. Two Finnish merchantmen and another Swedish vessel were sunk earlier in the Skagerrak, an arm of the North sea between Norway and Jutland.

SPORTS WRITER GIVEN TERM FOR REVEALING BRITISH WAR SECRETS

LONDON, Sept. 25 (AP).—Donald Owen Reginald Adams, 56, described as a racing writer for newspapers, was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude today on charges of violating the official secrets act.

Adams pleaded innocent June 30 when charged with recording information in 1938 "which was calculated to be or might be directly or indirectly useful to the enemy." Details of the charge were not revealed. Adams denied exposing anything "not in the public press."

GERMANY LISTS COMMANDMENTS FOR NAZI SOLDIER

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (AP).—The propaganda ministry, reaffirming German determination to fight in accordance with international conventions, disclosed "Ten Commandments of the German Soldier."

Every German soldier, the ministry said, carries a copy, which reads:

"1. Fight chivalrously without unnecessary brutality.

"2. A soldier must be uniformed.

"3. A soldier must spare the life of any opponent who surrenders.

"4. Treat prisoners humanely.

"5. Must refrain from the use of dum-dum bullets.

"6. Must respect the Red Cross.

"7. Must spare the civil population unnecessary hardships and refrain from plundering.

"8. Respect the neutrality of noncombatant states.

"9. On capture give name and identification, but nothing respecting army organization.

"10. Report violations of these principles by the enemy."

Nazis to Mobilize 100,000 Girls for Work Service

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (AP).—Getting set for a long war, Germany today prepared to mobilize 100,000 girls between the ages of 17 and 25 for work service, particularly on farms. Camps are being established throughout the reich for girls who will work days and return to dormitories at night. Work in fields and homes will be alternated with instructions to make the girls more efficient in their service to the nation.

ZEPPELIN MOTOR WORKS BOMBED BY ENEMY FLYERS

Nazi Plant Reported Put Out of Operation.

ROMANSHORN, Switzerland, Sept. 25 (AP).—One of Germany's principal airplane motor plants in the former Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen was reported today to have been raided by enemy planes.

Observers here on the Swiss shore of Lake Constance, five miles away, said they saw the raids last night. The same observers said they believed the plant had been put out of commission by several direct hits from the planes, which were not identified. But the German border was closed and the report could not be confirmed.

[D. N. B., the official German news agency, quoted the high command as saying French airplanes had been sighted and fired on over the area but the raiders had failed to bomb any object in Germany. The agency said the planes had been chased into Swiss territory.]

A Show for Spectators.

Thousands stood along the Swiss shore of Lake Constance to watch the bursting bombs on the ground and the exploding antiaircraft shells. Darkness screened the attackers.

Military sources estimated at least thirty bombs were dropped despite heavy antiaircraft fire.

Reports of the raid were confirmed by this communique of the Swiss general staf:

"Sunday night after 9 p. m. an air attack took place against, in all probability, hangars of the Zeppelin factory at Friedrichshafen. The explosions of bombs were heard and very violent defensive fire with the use of tracer bullets was observed.

"In the late evening, between 10 p. m. and midnight, many frontier towns in Switzerland reported hearing the noise of airplane motors. An investigation was opened in an effort to ascertain whether our territory was really violated by the passage of foreign planes."

Swiss observers said the attack included the small town of Manzell, about three miles from Friedrichshafen. The Zeppelin works was converted recently into an airplane motor factory and another plant was opened at Manzell.

The two meetings were confused in an announcement from league headquarters.

AMERICANS SAVE SHELL TORN FLAG IN WARSAW SIEGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—A group of Americans who escaped from Warsaw through Koenigsberg, East Prussia, and Danzig reached Berlin today on their way home.

An American flag, which was damaged as it flew over the American consulate during the shelling of Warsaw, was being carefully guarded. Members of the consulate staff saved the flag when the building was struck by a shell.

The Americans said that men and women standing in bread lines in Warsaw suffered the most during the shelling. They declared that most Americans in Warsaw did not suffer severe privations because they had food, water, and electricity. These persons remained in the cellar of the consulate for 18 days.

BRITAIN TO REVISE ITS MUNITIONS SUPPLY SYSTEM

Labor Expected to Have Bigger Role.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Drastic overhauling of Britain's ministry of supply organization seemed likely tonight following a conference of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain with Clement R. Attlee and A. Greenwood, Labor leaders.

The prime minister called Leslie Burgin, minister of supply, and A. E. Brown, minister of labor, the two departmental chiefs immediately concerned, into the conference, and the Labor leaders later saw Leslie Hore-Belisha, war minister. This was interpreted to mean that Laborites will be given a bigger rôle in the munitions drive.

Trade union leaders have objected to the burocratic methods whereby Burgin proposes to organize production. Attlee and Greenwood presented two demands today—immediate large scale expansion in the system of munitions manufacture and direct labor representation on the central organization of war production. It was indicated the government is prepared to make concessions.

Labor Council to Get Report.

Attlee and Greenwood will report on the Chamberlain conference to the national council of labor tomorrow, and to the general council of the trades union congress on Wednesday.

A meeting of the war cabinet was held today to examine the munitions supply situation.

The first meeting of Burgin's supply council, which will direct the production of munitions, will be held tomorrow.

King George VI. today paid a surprise visit of an hour and a half to secret headquarters of the British air force coastal command near London.

New Leaflet Raid on Nazis.

The British air force carried out another pamphlet raid on west and northwest Germany, the ministry of information reported tonight.

The planes dropped leaflets telling the Germans that Adolf Hitler's hope of successful lightning war has been destroyed by Britain's decision to prepare for three years of war.

The leaflets added that British and French fleets have swept German merchant shipping from the oceans, that Germany's supplies of essential war materials are almost gone, and that the Germans cannot rely upon neutral supplies because their government can't pay for them. The pamphlets also stated that British troops are standing shoulder to shoulder with the French on the west front.

Soar Over Nazis by Day.

British planes yesterday carried out daylight reconnaissance flights over western Germany and returned safely, it was announced.

The second casualty communique issued by the air ministry lists three British airmen killed and 21 missing.

The French collier Phryne, 2,660 tons, was sunk by a German submarine off the British coast while persons ashore looked on, it was announced today. The Phryne's crew was saved.

TAX COLLECTION FOR 1938 SHOWS $2,194,386 GAIN

County Treasurer John Toman reported yesterday that collections of 1938 taxes by Sept. 1, the final penalty date, totaled $155,562,721, an increase of $2,194,386 over collections by the final date last year. Collections increased to 75.8 per cent of taxes billed. Last year collections were 73.1 per cent of billings.

The ratio of 1938 real estate tax collections to bills extended rose this year to 80.6 per cent from 79.8 per cent for collections of 1937. It was announced that previous figures released from Toman's office erroneously had indicated a decrease in the rate of real estate collections. Following is the final revised comparison of collections of 1938 and 1937 taxes:

Real estate...	$147,206,201	$117,993,031	80.6

Railroad	9,206,670	8,232,154	91.2

The tabulations include all payments made by mail and in person at Toman's office or to country town treasurers before penalty dates.

Hitler Thanks Slovakia for Army's Aid in Poland

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today sent a telegram of thanks to Dr. Josef Tiso, Slovakian premier, for the assistance of the Slovakian army in the Polish campaign.

ROME PRESS HITS ROOSEVELT PLAN TO LIFT EMBARGO

Says He Would Make War a Business.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the arms embargo was bitterly attacked in many Italian newspapers today.

It was called, among other things, "immoral, unneutral, likely to prolong the war, contrary to international law and designed to serve the interests of the cannon merchants."

Il Messaggero declared Roosevelt "considers the war purely by a commercial opportunity." La Tribuna called his message to congress a "typical document of mercantile puritanism."

Neutrality Called Illusion.

Repeal of the embargo, La Tribuna asserted, "deliberately favors the French and English. The embargo law was intended to strengthen neutrality and safeguard American shipping, sacrificing only the interests of the cannon merchants. Roosevelt's plan sacrifices American shipping to the interests of the cannon merchants, reducing American neutrality to an illusion."

If Roosevelt has his way and the embargo is repealed, it will "injure Europe severely and contribute positively to prolonging the conflict," La Tribuna declared.

Held Contrary to Law.

Repeal of the neutrality law will give the United States a privileged position among the neutrals, "absolutely contrary to international law by creating a false neutrality," La Tribuna said.

President Roosevelt's type of neutrality, according to La Tribuna, not only does not suffer by the conflict, but "grows fat on it and therefore would not like to see it end. It is manifestly immoral."

CANADA IS LOOKING AFTER OWN DEFENSE, NEW MINISTER AVERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 (AP).—Loring C. Christie, new Canadian minister, said today Canada is seeing to her own defense, although it appreciates President Roosevelt's pledge of assistance in case of attack.

Loring C. Christie.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

After presenting his credentials to President Roosevelt, Christie was asked to comment on Mr. Roosevelt's statements regarding any attack on Canada.

"President Roosevelt's words were received in Canada in the same way as his speech at Kingston, Ont., last year," he said. "That is, it was received with friendliness, but at the same time Canadians realize that we have our own responsibilities for the defense of Canada."

President Roosevelt, at a recent press conference, said the Monroe Doctrine included American determination to resist a change in the sovereignty of those parts of the western hemisphere, including Canada, already held by foreign powers.

POLISH PLANE LOSSES PUT AT 600 IN 19 DAYS

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Sept. 25 (AP).—An unofficial survey today showed Poland lost between 600 and 700 planes in 19 days of aerial warfare with Germany. Poland was reported to have had approximately 1,000 serviceable planes at the beginning of the war Sept. 1. Aside from about 300 bombers, combat, reconnaissance and training planes interned in Rumania and Lithuania, the Polish air force virtually was wiped out by Sept. 20 as a result of Germany's whirlwind aerial attack.

20,000 SOLDIERS SLAIN IN BATTLE FOR CHINESE CITY

Both Sides Lose 10,000 in Jap Push on Changsha.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 26 [Tuesday] (AP).—A total of 20,000 soldiers—10,000 for each side—were said by Japanese and Chinese reports today to have been killed in Japan's present drive on the south central China city of Changsha.

The drive started shortly after Tokio and Moscow reached a truce—on Sept. 15—in the dispute over the Outer Mongolia-Manchukuo frontier. Japanese military authorities said it had reached a point 25 miles from the city. Chinese officers earlier said the invaders were repulsed 60 miles away.

Much of City Burned.

Capture of the city, however, would not give Japan the prize it once would have been. Chinese, expecting a drive to be opened on Changsha last October, burned much of it to the ground at that time.

The Japanese military said 60 Chinese divisions, consisting of some 300,000 men, were outflanked by three Japanese columns driving southward from Tungting lake.

The retreating Chinese, they said, ran into their own advancing reënforcements, creating an excellent target for Japanese bombs and aerial machine gunning.

Japan's westward attack toward Changsha, from Nanchang, in Kiangsi province, was said to have brought steady fighting to fronts extending 200 miles east and west and 100 miles north and south.

Twenty Cities Bombed.

A new outbreak of aerial activity was reported from Foochow, where it was estimated that at least 1,000 Chinese were killed or wounded by Japanese bombing in northern Fukien province during the last week.

More than 20 cities were said to have been bombed and machine gunned from the air. No Americans or American owned properties were known to have been hit. Chief targets, it was said, were hotels, offices, and business places.

Chinese attributed both the Changsha battle and the Fukien bombings to Japanese efforts to terrorize the Chinese into supporting Wang Ching-Wei, former premier of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government. Wang was said to be moving for consolidation of the Japanese controled Peking and Nanking governments into a single Japanese sponsored régime in China.

GERMANS CLAIM AIRPLANE OUTPUT BEATS BOTH FOES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—The German institute for business research today boasted that Germany's industries and capacity to manufacture airplanes are greater than the combined industries of Britain and France. An institute report asserted Germany employs 14,400,000 persons in her industries, which is claimed to be much higher than the employment figures of both France and England.

The report adds that Germany has spent $36,000,000,000 for armaments in the last six years, against $10,000,000,000 for Britain and $6,000,000,000 for France during the same period. The institute declares Germany can manufacture $15,000,000,000 worth of airplanes for every $10,000,000,000 worth built by Britain and $4,000,000,000 built by France.

German labor, reported much cheaper than English and French, means that for the money spent Germany obtains greater results.

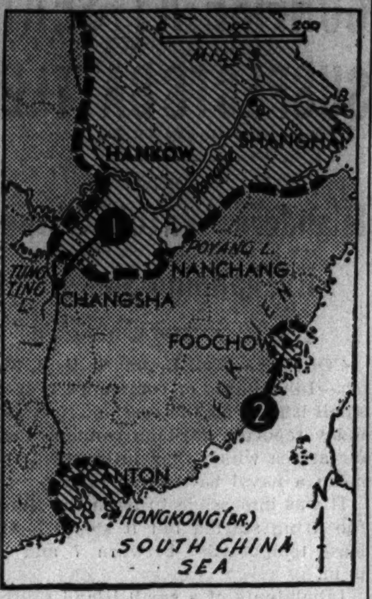
CIVIL EMPLOYES OF GOVERNMENT AT RECORD HIGH

Washington, Sept. 25 [Special].—Civil employés in the federal government establishment numbered 920,310 on June 30, an increase of 58,396 since Dec. 31, 1938, according to the semiannual personnel report of the civil service commission issued today. The total recorded is the largest in history, according to civil service reports, comparing with 861,914 on Dec. 31, and an estimated wartime peak of 918,000.

Actually, the number of employés on the federal pay rolls for June was 925,260, including temporary substitutes to the number of 177 in the District of Columbia and 5,495 in the field. In July, always a peak month, the pay roll number rose to a grand total of 927,887.

Battle Rages in China

(Story in adjoining column.)



Twenty thousand soldiers—10,000 on each side—were reported today to have been killed in the Japanese drive on (1) Changsha, city in South Central China. Japanese bombing planes were reported to have caused 1,000 Chinese casualties at (2) Foochow. Diagonal lines show areas controled by the Japanese.

NO HAMBURG LINE SHIPS ON SEA BUT OFFICES ARE OPEN

New York, Sept. 25 (AP).—Although it has no ships in operation and has cut personnel drastically, the combined Hamburg-American North German Lloyd line will keep its offices open, John Schroeder, New York manager, said tonight.

Earlier an official announced that Hapag-Lloyd's offices in this country closed today except for the work of cleaning up final records. Schroeder said 250 out of 400 employés did not work today as they were allowed to look for new jobs. He said they would be paid until Oct. 1. He added skeleton staffs would continue working in the absence of an official order from Germany.

FRANCE'S ARMY FILLS NEED FOR LIGHT HOWITZER

Adopts Weapon Capable of Rapid Fire.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

Patterning after the example set long ago by all foreign artilleries, the French finally adopted a light howitzer. This howitzer, model 1935, is of 105 mm. caliber.

The French predecessor of this type dates away back to 1890, and 84 of these pieces, out of the 210 in existence, were mobilized in 1914. However, the short range of these cannon, 5,000 yards at most, and their lack of precision and stability during fire soon caused them to be relegated to the quiet defensive sectors which existed during the first years of the war.

The new 105 mm. howitzer of 1935 is described in a set of French army regulations which were approved April 12, 1937. This is a rapid fire howitzer, mounted like the long 155 mm. gun of 1917 on a carriage with shields and a split trail equipped with an automatically variable recoil brake.

Has Wide Horizontal Range.

The new 105 mm. howitzer has a wide horizontal field of fire of nearly 60 degrees. For instance, at a range of 10,000 yards its muzzle can be swung horizontally to reach targets nearly 10,000 yards apart.

With its trail open, the new weapon also has a high degree of elevation. It can be fired slightly down grade and all the way from there to nearly 45 degrees above horizontal. With the trail closed the weapon can be fired, but the angles of elevation are reduced greatly. Such firing is done only in cases of urgent necessity.

Whether the trail is open or closed, however, the gun always must be anchored, that is, the two spades must be thrust firmly into the ground before the first shot is fired.

The weight of the rear carriage in marching order with all equipment and accessories is 1,705 kilograms 3,757 pounds. [A kilogram is 2.2046 pounds.] The weight of the piece laid for firing is 1,627 kilograms, as compared with 1,140 kilograms, the weight of the French 75 mm. gun, model 1897.

It should be noted that the split trail, which gives the new 105 mm. howitzer higher elevation, increases the weight by about 150 kilograms. When it is transported, the howitzer is hitched to a limber drawn by six horses, or is towed by a tractor. In the latter case it is either provided with wheels having pneumatic tires or it is mounted on a bogie [a low, strong carriage]. Mounting the howitzer on a bogie is an easy operation requiring only 10 minutes.

This bogie assures the elastic suspension necessary for rapid travel. The bogie has four small solid wheels equipped with rubber tires and with ball bearings, their axles being connected by means of leaf springs.

Speed Is 12½ Miles.

Owing to these arrangements, the average speed of a group of batteries reaches 20 kilometers [12½ miles] per hour on roads. When the guns are to be transported over a broken terrain or across country, the bogies are removed.

The speed of 12½ miles per hour is that contemplated for large scale strategic movements of artillery. It is likewise the average speed of tanks and therefore of the main bodies of mechanized divisions and large motorized units

A speed of 12½ miles per hour seems at first glance to be low, but one must bear in mind that the speed of a column is limited by the power of the brakes that regulate the distance between the vehicles, which is fixed in such a way as to prevent telescoping in case of the breakdown of a vehicle.

"More and more" says MRS. LAWRENCE TIBBETT "my guests are choosing wine"

She plays hostess to America's busiest, most active people

Charming hostess, patron of American music, mother of four lovely children, Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett entertains frequently. "People nowadays need to relax, to enjoy themselves—yet many find it pays to do so moderately," she reports. "These strenuous days I feel any guest of mine is entitled to choose wine."

All over the country hosts and hostesses are noticing how many people nowadays say "make mine wine."

Women find it so at afternoon parties. So many wives, looking ahead to family supper tables at home, would rather sip just a glass of refreshing, golden Sauterne or Muscatel with their afternoon salad or sandwiches.

In the evening, more and more men now take Sherry before dinner, in a cocktail-size glass. Or a taller glass of red piquant Burgundy with the main dinner course. Or over cards or good talk, fragrant Port to be sipped slowly.

That's the best thing about wine. When you linger over your glass your pleasure in it increases. You don't want to bolt wine down.

Next time you have guests in, just try doing as Mrs. Tibbett does. Offer each of your guests an opportunity to choose wine. For accepted wine-serving ideas, see your retail dealer.

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA

In the most discriminating households the good wines of our country are usually served today. Actually more than 9 out of 10 hosts and hostesses are choosing wines grown here. The wines of California for example, are grown to strict standards of quality. True to type. Well developed. Inexpensive.

This advertisement is printed by the wine growers of California, acting through the Wine Advisory Board, 85 Second Street, San Francisco

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW TO SERVE WINE

There are many varieties, but only two main types of wine . . . (1) Wines made to serve with meals, called table wines; (2) Wines for use with desserts or with refreshments, called sweet wines.

A delicious table wine is red, piquant Burgundy. Usual serving is half the size of a water goblet.

A favorite "sweet" wine is Port, richly red, full-bodied, fragrant. Serve any time in the afternoon or evening in a cocktail-size glass.

WARN NEW YORK MILK BUYERS OF NEW PRICE RAISE

Fourth Increase Under Wallace Control.

New York, Sept. 25 [Special].—Milk consumers in the Metropolitan area, already paying a higher price for delivered milk than prevails in any other city, were warned today of another price boost in the near future.

Holton V. Noyes, state commissioner of agriculture and markets, issued an order increasing the wholesale price paid to producing farmers for fluid [class 1] milk from $2.60 to $2.82 per hundred pounds [47 quarts]. It is indicated that an increase of one-half cent per quart in retail prices is a virtual certainty.

The current price of delivered milk in New York is 14¼ cents per quart of grade B, the most widely purchased grade, and 17¼ cents per quart of grade A.

Increase Follows Strike.

These prices were established recently after termination of the producers' strike which had strong backing of the C. I. O. and resulted in serious violence and sabotage upstate until settlement resulting in higher wholesale prices was reached.

That, incidentally, was the third price increase which consumers have had to shoulder in this area since institution of the federal and state marketing orders which gave Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace virtual dictatorial control over the milk industry.

Commissioner Noyes' order today followed an announcement that 97.32 per cent of New York metropolitan milk area producers polled in a mail referendum favored increasing the minimum prices to dairy farmers.

Rises in Other Brackets.

Within a few hours after receiving the report of the vote, Noyes signed the order making the amendments effective Oct. 1, having satisfied himself that 75 per cent of the New York milk producers who send milk to the New York metropolitan market are in favor of the price changes.

In addition to the increase in price in the fluid classification, the amendments also provide for rises in the other brackets, including cream.

Noyes announced that joint state and federal hearings on several other amendments to the order regulating the handling of milk in the New York City market are to be held Oct. 10 in Albany and Oct. 16 in New York City.

TELL HOW MILK IS SOLD IN PAPER CUPS IN CHICAGO

Restaurants, hotels, and drug stores in Chicago regularly sell milk in paper containers regardless of a city ordinance requiring that milk be sold only in glass bottles.

This fact was brought out yesterday at a hearing before Jacob I. Grossman, federal master in chancery. Grossman is hearing testimony in a suit brought by the Fieldcrest Dairies, Inc., seeking to force the city to permit the use of paper containers for milk sold in Chicago. The suit is pending before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward.

Attorney Fred A. Gariepy, counsel for Fieldcrest, said that milk bought by the glass to be carried out of restaurants, including those in hotels and drug stores, is poured into paper cups which have a paper top. Two clerks from Gariepy's office, Brooks King and Andrew J. Bunta, told from the witness stand of buying milk in paper cups Saturday afternoon.

Tax Board Overwhelmed; Company Asks Levy Boost

The three members of the Will county tax board of review in Joliet received a shock yesterday when officials of the Stanoline Pipe company appeared before them. The officials asked that the 1939 personal property assessment on the company's oil lines be increased, saying that the board of review had neglected to levy on line sections in the eastern part of the county. The board will examine these sections and remedy its error.

18 NEW POSITIONS NEEDED TO PLAN SUPERHIGHWAYS

Philip J. Harrington, commissioner of subways and traction and acting head of the new city department of superhighways, yesterday told the council finance committee that 18 positions with salaries ranging from $6,600 to $1,200 a year are planned for the department. Most of the jobs are for structural, electrical and mechanical engineers and designers. Their work will be to complete superhighway plans. They are to be paid out of an appropriation of $100,000 made when the department was organized. Harrington said he now has eight men working and will not employ others until necessary.

DRIVER ESCAPES JAIL TERM; HE'S A LEGION HOST

A Safety court defendant charged with driving while intoxicated escaped a jail sentence yesterday when he pleaded that he had been entertaining visiting American Legion friends.

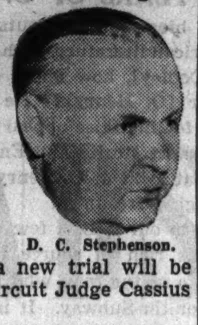
The defendant was Gottfried Larson, 36 years old, 810 Buckingham place, a carpenter. Larson's car rammed a parked car Saturday at 1338 Irving Park road. Larson testified he had taken five drinks, but blamed the accident on a rut in the street.

Assistant State's Attorney Howard Christensen recommended that since the Legion convention was on, Larson be shown leniency. He was fined $100. Judge Francis Borrelli, however, cautioned all Legionnaires and other motorists to avoid mixing gasoline and alcohol.

Ted Wasik, 27, of Chicago Heights, was sentenced to five days in jail for reckless driving.

D. C. STEPHENSON OUT OF CELL FOR NEW TRIAL PLEA

Noblesville, Ind., Sept. 25 [Special].—D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, who has served 14 years of a life sentence for the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, was brought here tonight from Michigan City prison by Sherif Joseph Newby. His petition for a new trial will be heard Oct. 4 by Circuit Judge Cassius M. Gentry.



D. C. Stephenson.

Previous efforts of Stephenson to obtain a new trial have been blocked by the state. His plea is based on his charge that errors were made in the trial here in 1925.

Stephenson's counsel charge that he could not testify at his trial because of fear for his life.

Judge Gentry ordered Stephenson brought here because, he said, Stephenson was entitled to be in court at the hearing on his application for a new trial.

FEDERAL JUDGE ASKED TO DROP MURDER CHARGE

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday was asked to quash the murder indictment of Jack Russell, Oklahoma outlaw, who is awaiting trial for the kidnap slaying of Billy Hamilton, Kansas milling salesman. On July 12, Russell escaped from the Oklahoma state prison where he was serving a robbery sentence. Hamilton was kidnaped shortly afterwards and two days later he was found shot to death near Ringwood in McHenry county.

Russell, who confessed the killing after his recapture in Arkansas, was indicted under the Lindbergh law. Attorney Donald D. Rogers told the court the Lindbergh law does not apply because there was no attempt to collect ransom. Judge Woodward continued the hearing until Oct. 10.

FINISH 3 MILES OF SINGLE TUBE SUBWAY SECTION

Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and traction, yesterday announced the completion of three miles of single tube section in Chicago's subway system. When completed, the subway will total nearly sixteen miles of single tube or eight miles in double tube sections.

The State street section from Illinois street to Bellevue place, which is being built by the Herlihy Mid-Continent company, is almost finished, Harrington said. Only 334 feet of the more than 4,000 feet in the section remain to be tunneled. The station platform underneath State street and Chicago avenue has been completed by the Herlihy company and a second station platform at State and Grand avenue is nearly completed.

Tunnel work is in progress on four of the nine subway contracts let so far. More than 10,000 feet of tunnel has been built on the State street section and 5,702 feet on the Dearborn street portion. The other contractors are doing preliminary work preparatory to tunneling.

THEY SAY IT'S OUR WAR.

The bill to repeal the arms embargo was drafted at a private meeting of the fourteen members of the foreign affairs committee of the senate who were known to favor the repeal. Other members of the committee, including such Democrats as Senator Clark of Missouri, were not invited to participate.

It isn't hard to understand why the opponents of changing our neutrality law in the midst of a war were excluded from the meeting. They were kept out because they had points to raise and questions to ask which the advocates of repeal don't want to face. The senators who favor repeal have observed a considerable confusion in many minds regarding the present law and hope that they can compound the confusion as time goes on. They don't want to be forced to talk candidly in the privacy of a committee room where they will know that obfuscating oratory will have no effect.

We doubt if these tactics will succeed. We doubt it because the facts, in reality, are not very difficult to grasp.

The present law permits the sale to belligerents of everything this country produces—wheat, iron, steel, cotton, copper, oil, and everything else—except such deadly weapons as guns, explosives, ammunition, and airplanes. The question before congress is whether this law should be modified now, in the midst of war, to permit the export of the deadly weapons also.

Two reasons have been advanced for making the change at this time. One of them is to make more money out of the war than we otherwise could. That was the reason which seems to have been in the President's mind the other day when he said that the manufacture of arms for the allies in this country would promote our prosperity. So far as we know, he is the only man in this country who has dared to put forward that argument. Neither the spokesmen for labor nor the spokesmen for manufacturers have sought this kind of profit. Most of the organizations which speak for business and labor have taken the opposite view. They don't want a munitions boom because they don't want the post-war depression which a munitions boom will make inevitable.

The other argument for removing the embargo starts with the declaration that we must make it certain that the allies will win. This war, so we are asked to believe, is our war, and we must help to win it. If congress votes to lift the embargo because the war is ours, how can congress stop there? If it is our war, what right have we to content ourselves with making money out of it while leaving Englishmen, Frenchmen, and Canadians to die for us? Those who say it is our war, but for profit only, are placing our country in a position so degrading, so mean, and so cheap that Americans will shortly find it intolerable and we shall be impelled by the logic of our course into active participation on the battlefields.

In this connection it is worth noting that all those who favor lifting the embargo do not favor participation in another European war; but every one who wants America to go to war favors lifting the embargo. The social climbers, the revolutionaries, and the third-termites who have their own reasons for wanting us in the war are unanimous in wanting the embargo repealed. They take this position because they well understand that the country at present will not tolerate a declaration of war but they are confident that one thing will lead to another. Lifting the embargo will be the first step. Once the admission has been made that this is our war, the rest will follow automatically. It can only be a queston of time until we shall be in it.

So much for the embargo. The other important changes proposed in our neutrality laws would forbid the shipment of goods to belligerents in American vessels, and would keep American citizens out of the war zones. It is argued, and with some truth, that if our ships and our citizens are not endangered there will be less likelihood of our becoming involved. Little opposition to these provisions, at least in principle, is to be expected, though it should be noted that those who are demanding a return to the old law of nations ought to oppose this cash-and-carry idea as inconsistent with old-fashioned neutrality.

But that is beside the main point. What could be more absurd than to remove possible occasions for our involvement while at the same time creating a moral imperative that we enter the war? If we say, as the repeal advocates want us to say, that this is our war, we won't need to have any of our ships blown up or any of our citizens drowned to get us in.

STILL NOT SO DIGNIFIED.

A couple of months ago, commenting on their then impending convention, we voiced the opinion that it won't be many years before the Legionnaires will be dignified whether they want to be or not. We urged them to regard the ancients of the G. A. R., and have their fun while they can.

It looks as if we were a mite premature. The average age of the Legion is 47 years, the average waistline is fuller, the average thatch is marked with gray, and by tonight, we suspect, the average bunion will be a little larger than it was in France twenty-two years ago, but there's life in the old boys yet. We wouldn't bet too much on their staying power, but they're as good as ever in a four day sprint.

Chicago has entertained them for two days now, and the city appears to be enjoying it as much as the Legionnaires. There are supposed to be 200,000 Legionnaires in town, but on Sunday evening there must have been 300,000 natives down in the loop watching the fun.

We want to inject one note of caution in the general hilarity. Water isn't always soft. Even a water filled paper bag, when it has dropped twenty stories, strikes with about the same impact as a paving brick. A woman was killed by such a missile last year in New York—not at a convention of the Legion, but at that of a safety organization.

Therefore we suggest that whenever any one feels the urge to drop water filled bags from high windows he go down to the street and help direct trafic instead. The amateur trafic cops should be encouraged. They couldn't tie up the boulevards any worse than the park authorities have already done, and they might untangle them a bit.

WE NEED NO DICTATOR.

The moment they entered the war the so-called democracies of Europe perforce abandoned all democracy. To wage war against a dictator they have turned themselves into dictatorships.

It is not only state control of the economic system that has been copied from the totalitarian system. In Great Britain the rights of citizens that accrued from the struggles of centuries have been swept away for the duration of the war. Freedom of the press, of speech, of assembly, are gone. The freedom from search and seizure that John Wilkes established is gone. No longer is the Englishman's home his castle. The right to public trial is gone. The government may seize property. Parliament becomes a debating society. The king, which means his ministers, may set aside any of its laws. No elections will be held for the duration of the war.

The British people are assured that they are giving up their liberties only for the period of the war. Presumably this assurance is given in good faith, and presumably they will regain part of their liberties if they win the war. But they are gambling against history. Liberty is often lightly yielded, but always dearly won.

If the United States goes to war we may expect to follow the path of the British. The design is not concealed from us. The bills that would establish a dictatorship are already drafted. They have been published. They are ready for presentation to congress the day we start fighting.

If we want to keep our liberties, if we want to escape dictatorship from which, once imposed, we may never escape, we must keep out of Europe's war. If we want to keep out of war we must keep congress in session.

Our form of government, and with it our prosperity and happiness as a nation, has survived for more than a century and a half. It has survived because it is a government of checks and balances, a plan that recognized the lesson of history that arbitrary power can never safely be concentrated in one man, whatever his character or however plausible his appeal. Rarely if ever in our history have we needed more a check upon rash and impulsive actions, a national balance achieved through full discussion before we act. Only congress can furnish that check and that balance. We must keep congress in session.

It is true that we face a national emergency. The source of that emergency is not in Europe or Asia. It is in Washington. Our democracy and liberty are threatened. The threat does not come from abroad. It comes from those at home who, step by heedless step, would embroil us in war and use that war as an excuse to impose a dictatorship.

Congress can deal with this emergency. It will, as it should, weigh questions of foreign policy fully and carefully. But there are equally pressing domestic problems. There is the failure to supply our own army with modern armament that is fast approaching a scandal. We must keep congress in session.

INJUNCTIONS AND DOGS.

In the opinion of Judge William V. Brothers a court injunction is of very little or no use at all as an instrument to govern the natural habits of dogs. "I have been here fifteen years and never ran up against anything like this," Judge Brothers told a complainant who sought to protect his porch from canine carelessness. "I can't restrain a dog and neither can the owner."

So far as his remarks pertain to dogs Judge Brothers is perfectly right. Dogs cannot read restraining orders, writs, or decrees. But as to the owners, there Judge Brothers seems to err. Owners who cannot restrain their dogs certainly ought not to have them. All that is required is firmness, patience, and an intelligence a shade above the dog's.

The owner who fails to exercise a proper restraining influence brings down needless ire upon himself and unfair criticism on dogdom.

THE BUMPS.

This editorial is addressed to engineers and to civil engineers in particular. It asks a question having to do with road construction. Is there any good reason why the Outer drive, particularly on the south side, should be as rough as it is? There is a wave in almost every yard of it. Heavy trucks do not use this highway. When it was new it was smooth. Now it is a succession of uneven waves from Randolph street to Jackson park. How should the road have been constructed to avoid this fault?

Editorial of the Day

NEW LAWS FOR ILLINOIS.

[Rockford Register-Republic.]

It now can be reported that the 61st Illinois general assembly, at the time of its adjournment July 1, had enacted legislation sufficient to pack the pages of a 1,216 page printed volume just off the presses.

It also can be reported that 191 pages of the volume are devoted to printing of appropriation laws and 177 pages to revenue laws. If the number of pages of laws enacted is any measure of a subject's importance, taxing and spending certainly lead them all.

It is interesting to compare the volume of new laws affecting counties with the new laws affecting cities and villages. Only 11 pages are devoted to revisions and additions in the field of county government; 88 to cities and villages.

Including a complete codification of the probate laws, the section on administration of estates contains 81 pages. Other leading chapters deal with schools, 73 pages; employment, 63; state government, 43; motor vehicles, 45; civil service, 33; fish and game, 33, and [perhaps the best of all], repeal of antiquated statutes, 30 pages.

Is there any signficance in the fact that schools rate 73 pages while crime gets only 20; or that fish and game rate 33 to alcoholic liquors' 10?

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

EARLY YEARS OF O. HENRY.

Speaking of biographies of outstanding figures in recent American literature, such as Finley Peter Dunne [Mr. Dooley], how about one of William Sydney Porter [O. Henry]? He is becoming a minor classic, for his tales appear in the anthologies of great short stories and English profs. are discovering that a bit of O. Henry is a fine appetizer for sluggish freshmen.

There came to our desk a few days ago a publication that is rich in source material on the vague early life of the man who first called New York Bagdad-on-the-Subway. It is "Hard to Forget," by Lollie Cave Wilson [Lymanhouse, Los Angeles], and it contains many reminiscences of O. Henry's life in Texas from 1882 to 1896. Mrs. Wilson met him when he stepped off the train at Houston, a humorous youth from North Carolina, and was one of his closest friends until he disappeared into a federal prison for embezzlement. She makes it clear that he was innocent of the charge, and quotes him as saying that he would not defend himself by involving a friend. [The defalcation amounted to $5,557.02.]

The indictment against him charged embezzlement committed on Nov. 12, 1895. He had resigned from the bank eleven months before, and since October, 1895, he had been a writer for the Houston Post.

This early newspaper work was largely that of a columnist. His first title was "Tales of the Town." This soon became "Postscripts and Pencilings," and then evolved into "Some Postscripts by the Post-Man."

His career as the favorite author of magazine editors was brief—hardly more than ten years. He died on June 5, 1910, like a true columnist, with a gag on his lips. His last words, spoken only two minutes before his death, were:

"Turn up the light; I don't want to go home in the dark."

He was referring to the refrain of a popular song, "I'm afraid to go home in the dark."

DES MOINES, PLEASE WRITE.

Will some one please inform me,
Will some one answer why
So many local smart guys
Attempt to Frenchify
The English street name Devon,
By dubbing it "De Vonn,"
And twist plain Lamon avenue
To the snootier "La Mon"?
But these same local linguists
Will never, never deign
To loose their gift for parlay voo
And pronounce Des Plaines "Dé Plane."

Coon Cats at the Cabin Door.

We are in the mysterious Maine woods, where the mysterious coon cat prowls around our cabin door. The natives are in doubt about the origin of this animal, but there is a legend that once upon a time a French-Canadian habitant brought into Maine a beautiful Persian cat, which became the great-great-granddaddy of all coon cats, the great-great-grandmammy having been a common house cat. Shall we send you one of these fluffy critters?

Lillian Little Henning.

[The best thinkers in Maine, including our contributor Chiggers, hold that sea captains had a habit of bringing back exotic cats, and that these importations hybridized with plain American cats. Furthermore, these fancy felines took to the woods and devoured most of the bird life of the state. Thoreau mentions coon cats somewhere in his nature notes.]

We Can't Get Rid of Them Now.

The war is getting serious! Among other things, F. D. R.'s proclamation of Sept. 5 prohibits the export of:

Chlorvinyldichlorasine
Dichlordivinylchlorarsine
Monochlormethylchlorformate
Trinitriphenol methyl nitramine
Hexanitrodiphenylamine
Pentaerythritetetranitrate
Trimethylenetrinitramine.

SHADOWS OVER A CRADLE.

You sleep with baby confidence
Within your dainty bassinet,
A rosy cherub whose repose
Is never marred by war's grim threat.
The quiet skies arch overhead,
Beneficent with sun or rain,
Far from the flash of shrieking bombs
And sudden screams of frantic pain.

You wake to coo with chubby joy,
And I rejoice that you are well
And that your laughter purls in tones
Far sweeter than a golden bell.
Yet always in my heart remains
Those desolate and sunken eyes,
And always sounding in my ears
Are starving children's anguished cries.

Hail and Farewell to the Interurbans.

Hurry, hurry, hurry! If you want the thrill of your life, ride the interurban line between Indianapolis and Terre Haute. They are going to discontinue it most any day now. Coney Island, Riverview park, and the world's fair in New York haven't a ride as interesting. The swaying car, whistling at every tenth telegraph pole; the foxtails, ragweed, and sweet clover growing between the tracks, the small villages with front porches almost touching the car, the friendly passengers—all linger in your memory.

You can have your Rockets and Trail Blazers. Give me the interurban for thrills. The car I rode on last week got up to sixty miles an hour, once.

Have You Heard?

One way to learn foreign languages is to become a bus boy in a large hotel. The staff of the Bismarck hotel speaks thirty-six languages. Its champion is a bus boy named Khyya Kahnoo, but called Joe Yonan, who claims that he can speak Russian, Polish, Syrian, Greek, Arabic, Serbian, Hebrew, Turkish, Bulgarian, Persian, and English.

The girl who does everything under the sun always has shadows under her eyes. Serega.

Our one good deed for the day was a bust. We sat down beside an out-of-town Legionnaire on the front ledge of a bus in order to tell him about the sights of Sheridan road, but he slept all the way downtown.

THE ROLE OF DIET IN KIDNEY DISEASE.

THERE was a time—not so long ago—when every one afflicted with kidney disease was counseled solemnly never to eat meat. With modern advances we know that trouble with these structures, serious at times, does not signify a sentence of death as was formerly believed.

But the chances are that we have been paying entirely too much attention to the kidneys and too little to the patient as a whole. Spare these organs, yes, but not to the extent of destroying the body that surrounds them. Better that they should take a little punishment [and they will stand a good deal] than to consign their owner to a life of helpless invalidism. Aforetimes we reduced his edibles to a point where he could not possibly carry on even moderate labor. As Richard Bright once said, "Light animal food frequently agrees," although he cautioned that the use of wine and spiritous liquors should be minimal in quantity.

At the outset—in the acute phase—it is entirely consistent to use milk as the principal article of diet. The sufferer probably has within his own tissues some spare protein that can be utilized. But later—should the condition become mildly chronic—these depots will be exhausted. Cow's milk, containing slightly less than 4 per cent of this needed element, is an excellent source. Enough must be administered to replace that which the system loses through wear and tear every day. Even though the patient is starved the excretion of nitrogen—the chief element in the metabolism of protein—continues. Hence this type of nourishment may not place the slightest additional load upon the renal apparatus.

Recently a study of the effect of meat upon the kidneys was made, and many authorities hold that there is no deleterious influence, no rise in blood pressure, no aches or pains. A volunteer worker took five times the needed amount daily for six months without harm. When Stefansson and Anderson were in the arctic, their meals were largely flesh. Subsequent to their return to New York they ingested far more than normal and a high excess of fat—with no injury. The conclusion seems to be waranted that a reasonable meat ration increases the function and power of the kidneys.

Among the prominent symptoms which accompany renal impairment is swelling of the tissues, due to the accumulation of water, but this may mean nothing more nor less than meat starvation. How much should be fed? Possibly as little as two ounces in each twenty-four hours, although there is no evidence that damage will ensue if more is taken. The penalty for not using enough is loss of strength, anemia, and finally, incapacity. If albumin is thrown off constantly via the urine, we must make up for this loss and, in addition, supply what activity demands.

What proteins may be used? Both animal and vegetable forms may be combined. Cheese, eggs, fish, meat, and milk may be employed with beans, peas, and whole wheat bread.

Products likely to manufacture uric acid should be omitted. Such items include liver, kidney, tongue, sweetbreads, etc.

Should albumin be detected in the urine as a result of some infection indicating acute nephritis, the management consists in bed rest with the initial diet confined to milk and a glucose-fruit juice mixture. The latter consists of a 30 per cent solution of this sugar with the juice of two oranges added to each pint. This is administered in five ounce doses along with the lacteal fluid every two hours until 8 p. m. Only one serving is given during the night. Later, as improvement occurs, cream, bread and butter, and light cereals may be added. With still further progress, more protein may be prescribed up to three or four ounces in each twenty-four hours.

With skilled medical care we have a right to assure these victims that they will live for a long time in comfort. The old bugaboo of no roast beef—ever—has been "shooed" away.

DUST MAY BE A FACTOR.

Mrs. L. B. writes:

1. What could be the cause of an itching throat? Sometimes it gets sore.

2. Can the tonsils be responsible? I have sudden attacks of head colds often attended with violent sneezing.

REPLY.

1. A chronic infection of the nose and throat lining membranes. Irritants, such as gases, dusts, chemicals, etc., may also be factors.

2. Possible, but not likely. Have an examination if the trouble persists.

NO DIRECT ACTION.

R. G. K. writes: I have been advised that cucumbers are good for a kidney condition. Is this true?

REPLY.

Of no more value than so much water and vegetable fiber. There is no direct action, favorable or unfavorable, on the kidneys.

NO, BUT IT'S GOOD EATING.

J. N. writes: Does honey have any value in the treatment of asthma or other ailments?

REPLY.

Although it is an excellent food it has no specific curative action on asthma or related diseases.

TO THE ILLINOIS SENATORS.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—I have sent a letter to the two Illinois senators and to all our representatives. In it I say:

"All America joins Mr. Roosevelt in saying 'I hate war,' but many of us unhappily mistrust our President's methods to keep us out of war. We hate war, and we mean to keep out of war. We thank God for the Johnson act and the debt repudiation by the entente allies, if they will only serve to keep us steadfast in our determination to mind our own business and keep out of Europe's wars.

"We ask, we implore, we demand that you vote against the repeal of the arms embargo and against any change in the neutrality act of the United States."

FREDERICK J. BERTRAM.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—One of your dispatches today says: "Twenty-four Senate Leaders Pledge to Fight Repeal of Arms Embargo."

I wonder what became of the Illinois senators, Slattery and Lucas. They were not mentioned along with senators from other states. Does this mean they have let us down?

Loads of credit goes to Congressman Ralph E. Church of Evanston to take a chance on his life to fight for us when he was forced to go in a wheel chair. He's got what it takes.

M. D. S.

HOW ONE FAMILY FEELS.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Allow me to commend you on your present sensible stand on the neutrality question. I cannot understand how any one who really wants to keep us out of trouble can take any other position if he studies the situation thoroughly.

Our family of two sent eight air mail letters and five night letter telegrams to members of congress. It is still not too late to let your senators and representatives know how you feel. If they go ahead and vote for amendment or repeal of the present act after the flood of protests they are receving they are going to be minus several thousand votes at the next election.

One other suggestion: Let us have more picture pages like that of THE TRIBUNE of Sept. 20—only one war picture on the back page. Also take about two-thirds of the war news you are now putting on the front page and put it on page 'steen for those who want to read it.

H. H.

THE ISSUE IN BRIEF.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—There can be only two reasons for repeal of the arms embargo: The first is that we may profit by the sale of arms; the second is that we may help England and France.

The first means bartering our souls for filthy lucre.

The second means definitly taking sides in the European war. As it is, neither side can buy our arms; let us stay neutral.

H. H.

MORAL, NOT MONEY, ISSUE.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 22.—Real neutrality is the only American course for this country to take.

It is morally wrong to contribute to murder in war by selling munitions to either side. This is a question of morals, not one of money. Our munitions will make widows and orphans. The President is in error again. This is not his only blunder.

ELMON ARMSTRONG.

CITY HALL, WAKE UP.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—I have just read a letter in your column about the rat situation in Chicago. The facts about rats are:

1. Rats carry disease and pestilence.
2. Rats may start a fire.
3. They are propagated in numbers when we throw garbage into our alleys and have garbage containers without lids.

What can be done about it? Very much, but the controling factors in our city hall are asleep to the situation.

We have in our city hall a well paid organization which could get rid of Chicago's rats in a hurry. Let street inspectors report conditions of alleys to ward superintendents, this inspection to start three days after alley is cleaned by the usual street cleaners; the report must then be sent to the police and fire prevention departments and to the city board of health.

Squad cars while on duty shall apprehend any one throwing refuse loosely into the alleys or into cans without covers. Squad cars cover practically every alley in our city in passing over their respective beats. Should there be any offenders, fines shall go to purchase a new garbage can and cover.

All this presupposes the city hall is on the job; which it isn't.

FREDERICK SPIECKER,

OUR LITTERED STREETS.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—In the last water bill I received Mayor Kelly has a leaflet inclosed, asking property owners to help keep our city clean. He asks that we pick up papers from lawns and premises. Now I am kept busy most every day cleaning up this trash. Our streets and alleys are just littered with it. Why doesn't Mr. Kelly and the council put a stop to this? It is their duty.

What right have advertisers to litter every hallway and porch in the city with their trash of publications, hand bills, etc.?

OLD TIMER.

BURYING THE SILENT "UGH."

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 24.—THE TRIBUNE'S burial of the silent "ugh" brings to mind the words of Prof. Lounsbury: "The silent letters act as a sort of tombstone to mark the place where lie the remains of a dead and forgotten pronunciation. The English race will not be content to sit down with a system of spelling which has nothing to recommend it but custom and prejudice, nothing to defend it but ignorance. nothing but superstition to make it an object of veneration."

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

Sept. 26, 1914.

RHEIMS—This historic city was shelled for many hours by heavy caliber German guns. The ancient cathedral was damaged severely and among the dead were found seven nurses, five of whom were nuns.

VERDUN—The allied forces turned the German right near Tergnier and St. Quentin after terrific losses on both sides. Meanwhile, all along the western front hammer blows were falling from both armies, but the result was still in doubt.

BERLIN—Kaiser Wilhelm feared that the Austrians would be unable to hold the Russians at Cracow. He, therefore, replaced the Austrian command with German officers and sent German troops to augment the Austrian force.

WASHINGTON—President Wilson closed the Siasconset, Mass., radio station of the Marconi company, because it declined to permit the government to censor messages transmitted by it.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION.

Chicago, Sept. 20 [Legal Friend of the People].—Will you please give me a short summary of the unemployment compensation act?

A. B.

The Illinois unemployment compensation act [as amended in 1939] defines "base period" as follows: "Base period" means the twelve consecutive month period ending Dec. 31 immediately preceding the first day of a benefit year [Sec. 2 (i)].

Section 4 [b] states that "An individual's 'weekly benefit amount' shall be an amount equal to 5 per centum of his total wages for insured work during that quarter of his base period in which such total wages were highest, except that if such amount is more than sixteen [$16.00] dollars, the weekly benefit amount shall be deemed to be sixteen [$16.00] dollars, or if less than seven [$7.00] dollars, shall be deemed to be seven [$7.00] dollars."

Section 4 [c] fixes a maximum per year of "whichever is the lesser of sixteen times his weekly benefit amount or one-fourth of the wages earned by him for insured work during his base period." In both cases odd cents are increased to make even dollars.

The act applies only to employers of eight or more through 1939, or of six or more in 1940 and thereafter [Sec. 2 (e)].

Excepted occupations are similar to the lists in the federal social security act. There is a waiting period of two weeks before benefit payments begin [Sec. 6 (d)].

INCOME FROM ESTATE.

Chicago, Sept. 21 [Legal Friend of the People].—About two and a half years ago my brother died, leaving his estate in trust. I was to receive the income from the estate every three months or oftener. After the estate was closed I received a check every three months until last month. Wrote to the executor asking him if he had sent one and received an evasive reply, directing me to get in touch with the lawyer. The lawyer mentioned is lawyer for the executor.

1. Should the executor have been bonded?

2. How can I find out if he is? Is it too late to have him bonded now?

3. How could I do it now?

4. How can I keep him from selling real estate belonging to the estate. All of the property is in Canada.

J. A.

1. Most wills contain expressed wording excusing the executor from furnishing surety on his official bond. If the probate in your case has been closed, then presumably the man is acting as trustee rather than as executor.

2. You could get some information by obtaining a copy of the will from the clerk of the court.

3. The first step would be to ascertain the facts.

4. Depends on the wording of the will.

Here you'll see what's new in homefurnishings . . . assembled in these houses as you might arrange them in your own home. All through the store, in every homefurnishing section, you'll see complete displays of the new trends shown here. For all three houses are full of inspiring suggestions that indicate the great wealth of new home fashions here in the store.

THREE HOUSES—EIGHTH FLOOR

It's a glorious homefurnishing event . . . one of the most important of the year. Best of all, these exhibits will leave you knowing all about trends. And, if you want a hint, check over the short resume below. It represents in words what you'll actually see all through the store today.

WHAT ARE THE NEW TRENDS?

In color:

Popular colors are medium tones, neither dark nor light. All are grayed soft. Smart colors are very strong in tone and used mostly as accents. (Olive green in Trend House; Lime in Modern House.)

In period:

Traditional modern is the dominant contemporary influence; Regency is the new note with 18th Century; French Provincial is in favor for informal rooms; Victorian, above all, is the leading romantic style. (See the new Houses for these trends.)

In texture and materials:

In fabrics and rugs everything is texture, definitely on the shaggy side. Glass is significant; now being used for fabrics, wall coverings, furniture, fireplaces, mantels. Woods in both modern and traditional schemes are both light and dark. Rattan is increasingly popular used in bedrooms, dining rooms, living rooms. Leather is being used more and more for upholstery and for covering occasional pieces. Plaster for baroque mirrors, lighting fixtures, cornices, picture frames. (Watch for all these trends in the Three Houses.)

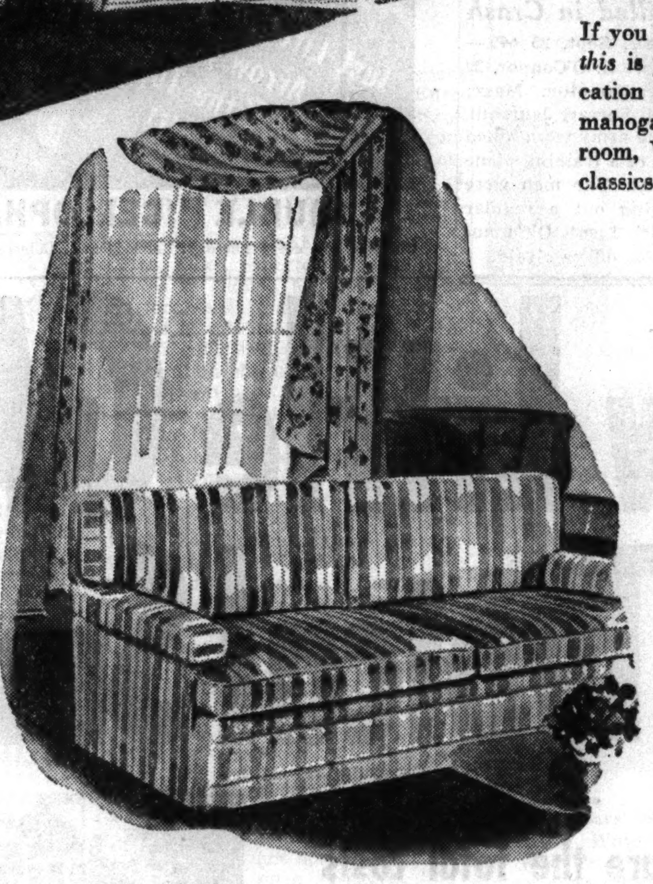
TREND HOUSE

combines charm of 18th Century with sophistication of Regency

If you prefer Roquefort cheese to pie, caviar to jam . . . this is your house. For here is elegance and superb sophistication in a charming, gracious setting. Lovely 18th Century mahogany pieces, Edwardian drapery, a Regent's Park bedroom, Victorian chairs. Here are the new fall trends in the classics you love. And the prices are so beautifully modest.



Edwardian accents—

New trends in the living room are the Edwardian type draperies—huge cabbage roses, full blooming against a soft-toned blue ground—the red and white Regency sofa in a smart candy stripe, and the fine deep forest green rug.

Sofa, $132.50 Draperies, $2.25 yard
Rug, $8.95 square yard

Important colors—

Olive green and watermelon pink are high fashions this fall as accent colors. They are both used here in the living room — watermelon pink buttons on two chubby olive green chairs. They're a perfect foil for the Edwardian effect.

Chair, $79 Chest of drawers, $69

The Baroque foyer—

Brown and white striped walls, a tent ceiling and a white plaster cornice. The two little Victorian chairs in demure white moire stand near a white baroque table and its mirror. Here, the new trend to plaster creates a modern setting for the classic style of the furniture.

Chairs, each, $29.75 Table, $98
Mirror, $47.50

A Regency Park bedroom—

Wallpaper bright with Regency figures inspired this room. Draperies are red and white candy stripes, the Scandia rug is the deep gray-blue of English skies, the bed is an 18th Century lyre back.

Draperies $1.95 yard
Bed, $49

DR. GORE SLAYS SON'S ATTORNEY IN MURDER CASE

Climaxes Tilt Over Trial in Stepmother Killing.

Benton, Ill., Sept. 25 [Special].—Carl Choisser, attorney and newspaper publisher, was shot to death today by Dr. George W. Gore, whose son, George Gore Jr., is awaiting trial for the slaying of his stepmother July 23.

Carl Choisser [top] and Dr. George W. Gore.

Choisser, 46 years old, was a cousin of young Gore and had been retained to defend him in his trial. Choisser and Charles F. Settlemoir, a locksmith, were walking through an alley from the public square to Choisser's Benton Evening News plant when, witnesses said, Dr. Gore came up behind them and fired five shots.

Three shots struck Choisser in the back. He was taken to a hospital, where he died without making a statement. He had served three terms in the Illinois house.

Late tonight Dr. Gore was removed to the jail at Marion as a precautionary measure.

Son Tells of Quarrel.

Young Gore, who is held without bond in the Franklin county jail, said his father and cousin had quarreled over his defense. The elder Gore wanted his son to plead guilty in the slaying of his stepmother and Choisser insisted that he plead not guilty and stand trial.

Young Gore asserted his father, who is said to be well to do, had refused to pay any fee to Choisser or to pay the expenses of preparing his defense. The young man said Choisser was his best friend and had promised to defend him and pay trial expenses.

Slaying Confession Repudiated.

Dr. Gore's second wife, Nancy, who had been his secretary for ten years, was shot to death last July 23 on a sleeping porch at their home. George Gore Jr., who managed his father's office in Cape Girardeau, Mo., was arrested and confessed the shooting. He later repudiated his confession.

Dr. Gore married his second wife two years ago, a year after his first wife, the mother of young Gore, died. The son was said to have resented his father's marriage.

Young Gore's wife, Katherine, also is in jail here. She confessed she stole $750 from a woman living in the rooming house where she and her husband lived and that her husband used $60 of the stolen money to buy an automobile to drive to Benton. The car was found abandoned several days after the slaying of Gore's stepmother and he admitted he bought the car and registered it under an assumed name.

Seized in Robbery

Sylvia Downing.

Rosemary Bergamin.

Two young women were being held as burglary lookouts by Shakespeare avenue police last night. Also held were the husband of one and the sweetheart of the other. The latter is said to be an ex-convict, now out on bond, from Rockford, Ill., on two robbery charges.

The four are Rene Bergamin, 29 years old, 3251 Washington boulevard, and his wife, Rosemary, 28; Miss Sylvia Downing, 23, of 623 North Springfield avenue, and William Kobley, 40, of 3018 North Parkside avenue, the alleged ex-convict.

They were seized late Sunday night after Bergamin and Kobley had smashed a window in the rear of the Roberts Varnish company, 3914 Fullerton avenue. The two women were found in an automobile at the mouth of an alley, allegedly acting as lookouts. The arrests were made by Policemen James Lynch, Harry Jensby, and Edward Sureck.

WOMAN IS SLAIN IN HOME; YOUNG SON FINDS BODY

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP).—A matron was strangled with her own apron today by an intruder who broke into her secluded home a mile west of Norristown. The victim was Mrs. Clara Buchanan, 38 years old, wife of an official of a Philadelphia paper company.

Their son, Edward Jr., 8 years old, returned home from school and found his mother's body sprawled on the dining room floor. Much of her clothing was ripped away. The apron was looped tightly around her neck.

Kaye Munshower, chief of county detectives, said the killer apparently was a thief whom Mrs. Buchanan surprised in the house, which had been ransacked. Buchanan told detectives his wife drove him to a railroad station this morning, saying she was going shopping later. A bag of groceries was on the kitchen table, indicating she had returned shortly before she met death.

SEIZED IN TAVERN.

Joseph Spiggio, 27 years old, 428 South Halsted street, was seized by Des Plaines street police early yesterday in a tavern at 740 Randolph street. Police said he had broken into the place and was preparing to leave with 14 packages of cigarets, 8 bottles of whisky and $14.

DEV-LIN BLACKOUT THWARTS RAID BY COURTNEY POLICE

State's Attorney Takes Over Shooting Quiz.

Lights were out last night at the Dev-Lin inn, a gambling emporium at Devon and Lincoln avenues, in the suburban village of Lincolnwood, which has one policeman.

Last night some detectives from State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney's office wished to inquire about the persons present when Joseph Manaster, a poultry merchant, cashed in chips which gave him net winnings of $675. They were investigating the robbery and shooting of Manaster before he got home with his winnings.

State's Attorney Courtney yesterday instructed his police staff to take jurisdiction of the investigation of the robbery of Manaster. He assigned Assistant State's Attorney Maurice G. Meyers to coöperate with the Rogers Park police, in whose district Manaster was shot and robbed. A bullet had struck Manaster's skull, but surgeons said he would recover.

City Police Handicapped.

The city police were handicapped in their investigation because they have no jurisdiction in Lincolnwood. They were certain some one at the gambling house would know who followed Manaster from it.

They wanted to question William Johnson, gambling king and partner of William R. Skidmore, the alleged political fixer, who was indicted last month by the government as a tax dodger.

Therefore, Mr. Courtney, whose police have jurisdiction in the village of Lincolnwood, took charge. Sherif Thomas J. O'Brien and his aid, Highway Police Chief Lester Laird, said they undertake only to police unincorporated areas, and Lincolnwood has a local government.

No Gayety or Gambling.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, sent the detectives to the Dev-Lin. He said they had instructions to raid it. But instead of gayety and gambling, only darkness and silence met them.

In the morning Mr. Courtney had a conference with Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, and Fred Pretzie, an observer for the crime commission. Pretzie had spent several days last week in the so-called Racket court which is presided over by Judge Joseph Hermes. Each day 40 or 50 persons arrested after raids in hand books in the city were discharged by Judge Hermes, Pretzie stated.

After the conference, the crime commission issued a bulletin criticizing the practices in the Racket court where six lawyers divide the daily business. The commission named them as follows: Michael H. Brodkin, Lawrence E. Dowd, William Goldstein, Abel B. Kretske, John W. Lee, and Clifford Tavernier.

Hold Suspect in Murder of New York Girl, 13

Penn Yan, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP).—State police tonight announced the arrest of a man in connection with the slaying of 13 year old Evelyn Reed, who was found beaten to death today in a field 12 miles from her home here. The suspect is said to have admitted he had killed the girl. Pending an autopsy the police would not say whether the girl, an honor student at Penn Yan Junior High school, had been raped.

FLORIDA JURORS HEAR STORY OF GIRL'S SLAYING

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 25 (AP).—Charles Jefferson, 29 years old, today went on trial for the rape-slaying of Frances Dunn, 17 years old, stage-struck Miami schoolgirl. A jury of 10 married men and 2 bachelors was chosen quickly. It was seven weeks ago that Jefferson drove away from Miami with Miss Dunn and her 16 year old chum, Jean Bolton. He had posed as a movie talent scout.

Jean Bolton. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

State's Attorney Phil O'Connell read two statements signed by Jefferson, seeking to show the tall defendant lured the girls from home with promises of film fame, raped and slew Miss Dunn and held Miss Bolton captive three days.

Police testified that Miss Bolton helped them find Miss Dunn's nude, ravished body in a palmetto thicket and that they captured Jefferson as he walked along a main highway.

Jack Salisbury, court appointed counsel for the prisoner, indicated he would strive only to disprove any premeditation and thus save Jefferson from the chair.

Army Pilot and Argentine Student Killed in Crash

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 25 (AP).—Second Lieut. Robert G. O'Connor, 22 years old, of Northampton, Mass., and Capt. Hugo I. Ferrari Jaurequi, 34, of the Argentine army were killed today in the crash of a training plane near Randolph field. The men were engaged in carrying out a regular training flight, with Lieut. O'Connor acting as instructor, officials said.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

At 37.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 25.—On what the business man would identify as the 28th inst. your correspondent will have attained the ripe old age of 37 years. This may be of little import to you, but it is of vital import to him because it is becoming an advanced problem in mathematics to get that many candles on one cake. In fact, it is becoming a problem to get a cake.

The press of the country will not cover my birthday, so I'll tell you exactly what will happen. I'll arise, shave, wash my teeth, take a shower, get dressed, have breakfast, read the papers and come to the conclusion that I'm very lucky to be alive, well, and 37. . . . This year the birthday party will be enlarged. Bonnie, our Scottie, has three little puppies [the fourth one died], so it will be quite an occasion. The birthday party will have to go to Bonnie because she refuses to leave the shingled doghouse where she sits guard over her brood of youngsters. With Hitler and Stalin on the loose, she's taking no chances and you can't blame her. She probably heard what happened to Poland.

At 37 your correspondent sits down to slice a birthday cake with the world in disorder, and yet it seems to me that it is less disordered than it has been in many years. At least, the true issues are now to be observed by all, which is preferable to a condition where things pretended to be what they were not. Communism, Naziism, and Fascism have plagued the world for years, each pretending to be something other than what it actually was. At 37, at least I know what they are—that they are what some of us believed they were. . . . So in resolving that three cornered riddle. the world is the gainer even while it is the loser. Cynicism has been flushed into the open, where you can take a pot-shot at it.

Since 1902, when I was born, this world of ours has bounded forward at a tremendous pace, so it is not surprising that at times it has spun itself off balance. We have come a long way from horse cars to planes that span the oceans, from mail steamer to radio, from kinetoscopes to sound pictures in color. It has been unfortunate, and inevitable, that human nature hasn't kept pace with the technicians who have built a new world, but you can't have everything.

It was amazing to me, at the New York World's Fair, to observe the one glaring omission from the World of Tomorrow. In all of the buildings, which were visioned in this World of Tomorrow, not a single church or cathedral was charted so far as I could determine. They showed airports and new highway systems and new and novel skyscrapers, but they were so busy outlining material improvements that I guess they plumb forgot the churches. And if a world of tomorrow is to emerge, it will have to be founded and based on religion. At the present moment Europe's chaos testifies to the destructiveness of godlessness. There is no religion that would not be an improvement on, and a safeguard against, the gangster tactics of the dictators.

At 37 I'm convinced that we have concerned ourselves too much with material values, too little with spiritual values. Indeed, what doth it profit a man to have gained the whole world? You can't take it with you, which is another reminder that all tombstones read alike. The world must return to religion if it is to win a furlough. It will.

At 37 I've come to the conclusion that 999 out of 1,000 people are decent people, although it is not immediately obvious because some of them are not so articulate as others. I've met tens of thousands of people; the exceptions have been the stinkers. People, as a general rule, are decent, law-abiding, self-respecting, sympathetic, helpful, tolerant. It's a pretty nice world, regardless of the headaches.

Language, the difference in languages, has done more to keep the world apart than anything else, I think. How else can you explain the fact that the entire world chuckles at the same moments of a Charlie Chaplin comedy; thrills identically to the heroism of a Lindbergh Atlantic flight; becomes enthusiastic identically in every quarter of the globe over a Walt Disney masterpiece; applauds the same operas; acclaims the same novelists? The people of the world essentially are the same kind of people and some day this unanimity of interest and emotional response will remove the spite fences that politicians erect deliberately.

At 37 I'm certain that the greatest single force in public opinion and the astounding thing is the accuracy of its conclusions. It seems to be almost an animal instinct, and no red herrings can be drawn across the trail when public opinion is marking out the course it will follow.

At 37, thanks to all of you who have made this particular birthday a happy one. You've been a grand audience, believe me.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

This tale of Janosik, "The Bohemian Robin Hood," probably has fictional episodes, but it is founded on fact, and, as filmed in the Carpathian mountains, is a film of great beauty and real worth.

Janosik, a handsome giant of a fellow, was the son of a peasant. He lived in the Carpathian mountains during the early part of the eighteenth century, and with his parents endured the grinding heel of feudal lords until one day a brutal boss killed his father. . . . Fleeing into the mountains, Janosik assembled under him other rebels of oppression and, like Robin Hood, terrorized and stole from the rich for the benefit of the poor.

Eventually he was captured. Offered his freedom if he would enlist a regiment of men like himself to fight the Turks, Janosik yelled defiance. In the shadow of the gallows he executed a dance macabre and went jubilantly into the hereafter, leaving a memory that should live forever.

The action is forthright and compelling, flung against backgrounds of wild loveliness magnificently photographed. Unself-conscious acting and costumes quaintly picturesque add their charm.

See you tomorrow.

Chicago Alumni of Williams to Play Friday

BY JUDITH CASS.

JUST what the wives of Williams alumni will be doing for amusement on Friday night isn't certain, but any who are in the vicinity of the Onwentsia club that afternoon can't be blamed if they try sneaking in to watch a much heralded soft ball game between older and younger alumni. James B. Forgan and Scott Durand are the battery for the older team.

Out to prove that a man is as young as he feels [even if he can't run as fast as he once did] will be Albert B. Pattou, John P. Wilson, and Stuart J. Templeton. Although out of college only 17 and 20 years, respectively, John R. Montgomery and Willard N. Boyden will play for the "older men," a thought that probably will come as a shock to themselves and their contemporaries.

The ball game is but one of many events of the Williams Alumni association's annual outing. Golf and tennis are on the program also. Robert Goulding, who is in charge of arrangements, will be toastmaster at dinner. Mr. Montgomery is president of the association.

More Chicagoans to Leave Europe.

Mrs. Robert Gardner takes more than a casual interest in the European situation, for her brother, Samuel Douglas Flood Jr., is in the consular service in Naples, and two cousins, sons of the Frank Benns of London, are at the front. Her mother, Mrs. Flood, was in London with the Benns when the war started.

Mrs. Flood expected to spend six months in Naples, but now plans to sail for home from Southampton at the end of this month. If Mrs. Gardner has sufficiently recuperated from an operation she underwent recently she will leave for New York on Oct. 5 to meet her mother.

George R. Carr has received a cable from his daughter and son-in-law, the Robert Henzes, that they are arriving in New York on Oct. 3 with their little son, Peter Francis. They previously had booked passage on the Manhattan, but because of the crowded conditions they thought it better to wait for accommodations on the Statendam, which sails from Southampton today.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Orr have not heard when his sister, Miss Mimi Orr, will be leaving London, but in her last letter she said it would be as soon as possible. She had left Berlin just before the outbreak of the war.

Robert Ross, son of Walter W. Ross of Evanston, is another young Chicagoan who has not been able to tell his family just when to expect him home. He was in Berlin when war started and he still is there, according to a cable received late last week. He expects to be able to return home soon, however. One of his brothers, Ames Ross, and his wife and daughter, Jannine, are moving at the end of this week from their new house in Brittany road, Highland Park, to another house they built several years ago in the same road.

The house the Rosses are vacating is to be occupied by Harold N. Samuel and his bride. Mr. Samuel and Mrs. Elizabeth Blough Matson were married on Sept. 16.

Higinbotham-Dickson Nuptials on Friday.

No household could be busier than that of Prof. and Mrs. Leonard Eugene Dickson. Their daughter, Miss Eleanor Dickson, and Harlow N. Higinbotham are to be married on Friday, and the Dicksons are leaving the next day for Palo Alto, Cal., where they are to live.

The wedding is to be a small one at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Thorndike Hilton Memorial chapel. A small reception will follow at the Quadrangle club. The bride's only attendant will be Mr. Higinbotham's niece, Nancy Skelton, who is to be the flower girl.

Nancy, who is 5, and her little brother, Skelton, and their mother, Mrs. Skelton Williams, the former Florence Higinbotham, are at Harlowarden, the Higinbotham home in Joliet. Mr. Williams is arriving from Virginia today to be here until after the wedding.

Through the Looking Glass

There are several foundations on the market that can be given right back to the manufacturers as far as we're concerned. But in the last few years we've seen a gradual improvement in these preparations, so you can see that the boys and girls who cook up such things are trying.

Some of them are succeeding admirably. Just a few days ago we got a new one that is as close to filling our own requirements in the way of a makeup base as any we've ever found. This has been in the making for a long time, and you can tell by the beautiful quality of it that it's been no slapdash job.

The finish it gives the skin is moist but not soggy. The skin feels dewy and soft and the makeup goes on the way you've always hoped it would. AND it doesn't get all soggy or dotted after a couple of hours. That's the part we like best about it.

This is a cream base, though it's not of a texture you've been accustomed to. It's a kind of gooey cream to touch. And this gooeyness is an advantage. It's easy to apply. Just a few dots here and there on the face, then a quick blending with the finger tips and your makeup film is exactly what the beauty doctor would order. There's no trick at all to putting it on, and it doesn't take time.

It's the kind of a base that makes the skin look a little luminous and more than a little velvety. It's particularly suited to the dry skin and it conceals minor blemishes. It's in three shades—good basic skin tones.

Buds of Season Pass in Review at Casino Tea

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

Miss Barbara White is leaving on Oct. 8 for St. Louis to attend the Veiled Prophet ball on the 11th, but she will return to Chicago in time to be in St. Luke's fashion show on Oct. 17.

There is no doubt that she will be invited to model in the show, for the 37 board members present at a tea given yesterday by the show committee for the 17 debutantes not away at school all were enchanted with her looks and charming manners.

The tea, given in the Fountain room of the Casino, was to let the St. Luke's women meet the debutantes. As a result, some of the young women will be asked to model and others will be invited to sell programs and posies on the afternoon and evening of the show.

Only 16 of the special guests yesterday will be here for the show, because Miss Marion Munson will have returned to her home in Providence, R. I., before that date. Which is a pity, for she is one of the most attractive looking girls in this year's crop and would be a great addition to the beauties who will parade on the runway in the ballroom of the Stevens hotel on the 17th.

Miss White, a decided blonde, was the only debutante wearing her hair in a page boy bob, but most of them had long hair. Miss Anne Stuart, Miss Elizabeth Stenson, Miss Alice Blair, and Miss Helen Mary Bryan had their tresses clipped short enough to be in the style the hair dressers have decreed for this winter. All the others had bobs that could be described as longish, if not extremely long, as in the case of Miss Byrd Littlefield, Miss Lela Ellis, and Miss Evelyn Lawrence.

Miss Kitty Lawrence wears her hair shorter than her sister but she is larger and more athletic looking, being a tennis player of note. Miss Virginia Skinner is the tallest of the debs—at least of those at the tea. The other girls there yesterday were Miss Barbara Buchanan, one of the prettiest buds of the season, with delicate features and medium brown hair; Miss Caryl Harrison, the first to arrive and rated "very attractive" by some of the hostesses; Miss Susanna Allen, much smaller than one would suppose from her pictures; Miss Mardo Pattou, with very blonde, very curly hair; Miss Caroline Floto, smart in a scarlet turban and several sable skins around her neck, and Miss Madeline Hedly, sweet-faced and dressed all in becoming French blue.

The hostesses were busy inspecting the guests as they sipped tea or coffee and chatted, but the guests were equally busy casting sidelong glances at the older women, most of whom were wearing new and startling hats. Mrs. Charles F. Glore was wearing a dazzlingly bright red felt, which from the front looked like a doll's sailor with a narrow brim of seven layers. At the back was a large felt snood edged with a ruffle of the same material, a sort of Red Riding Hood.

Mrs. Seymour Wheeler, just back from a summer on Cape Cod, was stunning in a peacock blue suede hat with some feathers of the same color shooting up one side. On the lapel of her black and white suit was a boutonniere of the same bright colored feathers. Mrs. Gordon Kelley's hat was distinctive and lovely, shaped like a "tin hat" with a bird poised as if for flight on the front. The whole was made of white feathers, "pearlized." Mrs. Press Hodgkins was wearing a small brown fez with brown ball fringe running around it.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf's dashing red felt hat had a loose snood of black, and her daughter, Mrs. Walter F. McLallen III., had a snood of varicolored velvet finishing a trim little hat of black.

Sandpile Patriotism.

An American Legion band has been practicing in a playground at Delaware place and the Outer drive. A little girl came home from the playground sandpile yesterday and asked her mother:

"Mummy, don't you think one big stand-up ought to do for The Star-Spangled Banner?"

Neutrality.

Harry D. Gideonse, speaking at the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations Saturday on the repeal of the arms embargo, quoted the Irishman who said recently: "Sure, we're neutral. But who are we neutral against?" This reminded Gideonse of an editorial in a newspaper in Senator Borah's home environs. The first three paragraphs said over and over again that America must be neutral, then added that France and Britain are certain to win this war.

"The American people will not have it otherwise," it added stoutly.

Wartime Words.

Certain words are appearing with increasing frequency in the news, on the radio, in lectures. We listened at the Council on Foreign Relations talk to hear how the various speakers pronounced isolation, propaganda, economics, ideology. Donald F. McPherson, the new president, who presided for the first time Saturday, pronounced isolate with the i long and one of the speakers pronounced it issolate with a short i. The other words were pronounced differently by the speakers. For your information, Webster's International Dictionery gives isolation with a long i preferred, a short i correct. Similarly with ideology. It gives economics with a long e preferred. Propaganda has only one pronunciation, with a short o in the first syllable, rhyming with flop.

Overheard.

"I played hearts with them Sunday night and she got mad if he didn't get all the hearts and the queen of spades in every hand. I don't think the marriage will last long."

* * *

"She ought to stay out of the Pump room more often. . . ."

Hardly a Woman Is Now Alive . . .

An old building on Wabash avenue between Jackson and Van Buren is being torn down. It was erected in 1872, according to the cornerstone. A sign on the newly exposed wall of the building to the south has come to light: Hewes & Prescott, Millinery and Straw Goods. The sign must have been painted before 1872. Anybody remember buying a bonnet of Hewes & Prescott? It would be nice to hear a description of the establishment. And the hat, too.

They Hunted a Fox

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1939: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Alison Young and her fiancé, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, are guests at Chenerys, the English country estate of Tom Boldre, to attend a fox hunt and ball. Wynn Marchmont, sister of Tom's wife, Pat, is engaged to Tom's brother, Derek, a veterinary. Alison overhears a love scene between Pat and Arthur Kingsclere. Tom Boldre defies death by riding his horse bareback up the slippery ancestral stairs. Chenerys is mortgaged to the hilt. Gregg, Tom's agent, urges him to accept an offer made for the estate, but Tom refuses to sell. At the hunt, from a far off hill, Alison and Colin see Tom thrown and a man bending over him. When they reach the accident they find Derek stooping over Tom's prostrate form. A farmer, Glover, happens along and helps them. Tom, revived, is surprised that Derek, rather than his neighbor, Maj. Fitts, found him. Three weeks later Tom is again thrown in the hunting field and dies soon after. Alison visits Wynn at Chenerys. Riding near the scene of Tom's first accident they find the body of farmer Glover. He'd been shot through the head. Official verdict is that Glover was killed by a shot from a passing car. Kingsclere, Derek, and Maj. Fitts all drove that way. Inspector Headcorn from Scotland Yard investigates.

INSTALMENT XIV.

THE MISSING WEAPON.

If any car had stopped just opposite the gulley all sign of this had been eradicated. On the whole, after much sweating and thought, Inspector Headcorn was inclined to assume there had been no stoppage at all. The car in question might have kept its engine going, merely slowing down to a crawl. It could have happened, if the murderer possessed a sufficiently good aim, and there remained the possibility that the shots had been fired by some one on foot.

Brisk steps and a voice roused him. Still hunched over his task he glanced up to see a middle aged gentleman of military spruceness bearing down on him.

"Good afternoon! I take it you are the inspector from Scotland Yard?"

"Quite, sir. And I am addressing——?"

"Fitts is my name. I live at Yew lodge, you know, just at the end of this lane. Hah! Tire prints, is it? Thought so. Well, I may be able to give you a little assistance."

They always put it like that. Patiently Headcorn got to his feet.

"Kind of your, sir. It's Maj. Frederick Fitts, isn't it?"

"Right, inspector." Gratified, the major flicked his monocle into his eye. "Chief constable mentioned me, I suppose? Hum, yes. Did he tell you how I tooled past here Saturday evening more or less around the time Glover was pipped off? Passed here twice—once going to the vicarage, once coming back." Forestalling comment, he stooped, scanned the tangle of prints, and plumped his ash stick on one of them.

"There! Knew I could spot my car's signature. See that small flaw?" He indicated a triangular indentation the inspector had at once noted in his book. "Care to come and have a look at the actual tire?"

"Thanks, major, I may call round. Can you give me the exact times of your two journeys?"

"M-m-m—I think so, inspector. Ask Crump—that is the vicar—if I didn't turn up at his place pretty close to seven. That would mean I passed this bit at—shall we say 6:40? I know I left Crump at 8 sharp. What beats me is not seeing that damned body."

"Tell me, major," the inspector said, "had you any acquaintance with this man Glover?"

"O, Lord, yes. Small farming chap, lived just up that hill. Dozens of times I've called by his place to water my horse."

"Did you hear the two shots?"

"Can't recall noticing anything. If I did, I must have taken them for backfires. Like every one else, or so I've gathered." The major seemed to be thinking hard. "I suppose," he blurted out, "rather a lot will turn on those bullets?"

"It may," confirmed the inspector guardedly.

"O, then the weapon's not been found? Well, and it won't be, inspector." The statement was made almost in triumph. Fitts added, "I mean, would any chap in his senses let a gun be traced to him? Not much. It would be too damned idiotic."

Odd, that. The chief constable from his bed of sickness had delivered the same opinion, and with much the same satisfaction.

The main road on which both Chenerys and Sompton Hall abutted formed connections with the route to Bewkesbury market town on the one hand, the mile stretch of lane on the other, and, directly opposite, a short fork leading at once into Sompton village, by way of the church. At the junction were paddocks, and into one of these Sergt. Budworth gazed raptly, intent on the perfections of two dappled hunters. His chief's voice ruptured his dream. Six foot of cricketer's muscle straightened round, revealing a face as downy as a young duckling.

"I've collected what you wanted, sir. Is your job done?"

"It is," grumbled the inspector dissatisfiedly. "And now, I suppose, these hurdles can come away. That the vicarage along there? Get the car, we'll drive to it."

The Rev. Hilary Crump, torn from meditation over a brand new bridle, gave the anticipated replies. Maj. Fitts had arrived for the school's meeting promptly at 7, if not a little before the hour, and had taken his departure at 8.

"Which," observed the inspector, back in the two seater the chief constable had kindly placed at his disposal, "tells us just nothing. Drive to that gulley. I'd like to make a small test."

In five minutes they reached the gap in the hedge. Headcorn issued more instructions, which met with outraged protest.

"Lie down? What, me, in all this wet?"

"Exactly. Pretend you're the corpse, now, while the light is just as it was on Saturday. O, to hell with your clothes!"

Hardheartedly the inspector drove on. A dozen times, back and forth and at varying speeds, he repassed the gulley. Finally he stopped and released his disgruntled victim, who climbed back into the car and began, sulkily, to scrape mud from his shoes.

"Well, sir, and what did you get from that act of cruelty?"

"Not much. It's possible to spot it, and just as possible to miss it altogether, because of the angle at which Glover lay."

"You are banking on its being there between 6 and 7, are you?"

"It seems probable, from the medical report. They made due allowance for acceleration of body cooling as result of the night air and the registered temperature outside."

"Don't forget he lay in running water," said the sergeant bitterly. "Blooming Niagara that is."

"What, that trickle? What I want to hunt now is real water. A lake, a pond. Where? Doesn't matter, if it's within chucking range of the road."

They scoured the neighborhood, making ever-widening circuits. Not till they had regained the Sompton crossroads did Budworth receive an order to halt, followed by a second command which he found somewhat mystifying. He got out, scanned the ditch, and handed his chief a fairly hefty stone. For a second it looked as though the inspector were about to bean him with it. The next, he was deluged by a cold shower from some source unseen.

"Wasn't I drowned enough to please you?"

Wheeling indignantly Budworth saw, just in the crotch of a scrubby hedge, a minute duckpond so covered with green slime as to appear undistinguishable from the enclosing meadow.

"I spied it straight off," chuckled the inspector. "It seemed entirely too obvious, that's all."

"Obvious! My hat, it's too shallow! Why, in a couple of days it'll be just a graveyard for dead newts."

"Still, we'll get it dragged. Look, is that car stopping?"

Tidy Wife Is Lovely Sight at Husband's Breakfast Table

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Advisers on romance and marriage frequently attack the subject of the home woman who sends her husband off to work with a mental picture of her that bodes ill for her in comparison with the very smart young secretary and clerks he meets on arrival at his place of business.

We aren't going into the melodramatics of the situation. We think it is overrated, for one thing. For another, we don't think the average husband is as interested in his secretary's looks as he is in her efficient turning out of the work he allots her.

However, we do think a woman's early morning appearances is of infinite importance to herself. Our observation is that women who slop around the house in the early morning, prepare breakfast without the personal preliminaries of bath, haircomb, and so on, seem to carry throughout the whole day a certain slipshod and inefficient household performance.

We do draw one comparison between the woman who has to get up and get breakfast and the business one who has to get to work on time looking pretty trig and snappy. It is the matter of donning fresh stockings and underthings each morning. The housewife is more likely to say that she'll attend during the day the simple laundry duties the business girl performs before retiring. Then she, the housewife, fails simply because she hasn't that pressure of competition in her limited circle. We aren't making a generalization, you understand. Some women are like that. But these women are not the efficient home women nor the attractive ones who grace our many households.

There's something unusually charming, and we don't know why it should be so, about the woman who appears at the breakfast table looking pleasantly attractive.

The Housewife

Instead of using a lot of little measuring spoons which have a way of getting lost in utility drawers in the kitchen you can now have a single spoon which is really a seven in one affair. By sliding along a clever little metal bar its bowl is divided into the following measurements: ¼ teaspoon, ½, ¾, and 1 teaspoon; 1½ teaspoons, and 2 and 3 teaspoons. The sliding gauge measures the contents accurately and pushes them over the lip of the spoon under thumb pressure.

This gadget is nickel plated and is about 7¼ inches long. The cook who believes that success comes with careful measuring of ingredients will certainly appreciate this spoon.

Jellied salads are so attractive and appetizing that twice-a-weeking them in the menu seldom brings objection from even the stoutest champion for variety in meals.

Here are some delightful recipes for jellied salads. Each has an element of surprise in its flavor, and each may be modified or changed to suit the whim of the salad maker.

Jellied Grape Salad.

[Serves six.]

1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup grape juice, hot
1 cup halved, seeded grapes
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup grated American cheese
½ cup cream or evaporated milk, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot grape juice and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, lemon juice, and salt, and cool until the mixture begins to stiffen. Add grapes and cheese, and fold in whipped cream. Chill until firm and serve with whipped cream mayonnaise.

California Salad.

[Serves six.]

1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup hot water
¾ cup grapefruit juice
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
12 pecan meats
½ cup diced celery
12 stuffed olives, sliced

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add sugar, salt, and hot water. Stir until dissolved. Add grapefruit juice. Pour a little of the mixture into the bottom of individual molds which have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Arrange a ring of sliced olives around a pecan meat in each mold. Cool remaining gelatin until it begins to thicken, then stir in remaining celery and olives. Chill, turn out on lettuce leaves, and garnish each salad with mayonnaise and another nut meat.

Tea Room Salad.

[Serves six.]

1 package lemon gelatin
¾ cup warm water
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 can [1¼ cups] tomato soup
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
1½ cups finely cut celery
¾ cup mayonnaise or cooked dressing

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add vinegar and soup. Chill until sirupy. Mix cheese until soft, add celery and mayonnaise, and fold into gelatin mixture. Chill in individual molds until firm. Serve on crisp greens with more dressing. Finely chopped ripe olives are a good addition to this salad.

Pear and Ginger Salad.

[Serves six.]

1 package lime gelatin
1 cup warm water
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 cup pear juice
¼ teaspoon salt
4 canned pear halves, diced
1 tablespoon finely chopped candied ginger

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add vinegar, pear juice, and salt. Chill until slightly thick and fold in pears and ginger. Chill until firm and serve with a dressing made by blending equal parts of mayonnaise and cream cheese.

W. C. T. U. to Make Pilgrimage Thursday to Willard Birthplace

As Chicago area units of the Woman's Christian Temperance union prepared for observances of the Frances E. Willard birthday centenary, national officers and delegates from Evanston and Chicago left for Rochester, N. Y., to attend the 65th annual convention of the organization.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Evanston, national president, will address the convention at its opening session tomorrow. She will lead the 3,000 delegates on the anniversary Thursday on a pilgrimage to Miss Willard's birthplace in Churchville, 12 miles from Rochester.

A new mural painting of the suffragist and dry leader will be dedicated Thursday at the Frances Willard public school in Chicago. Miss Willard's home in Evanston, Rest Cottage, is to be open all week to student groups and the public. The Evanston Historical society has arranged a special exhibit.

On the House

If you are troubled with porous spots or even leaking cracks in your basement walls, it may be that some inexpensive repair material will remedy the condition. There are several common materials in wide use which have "dried up" many a damp basement. One is patching cement, another is paint, a third is plumbers' pipe joint compound, and a fourth is asbestos fiber roof filler. Try the cement first for a crack in a wall. The roof filler will work for both cracks and porous spots. LOUISE BARGELT.

Chicago Alumni of Williams to Play Friday

Dicksons' son, Campbell Dickson, will read the wedding service. Mrs. Campbell Dickson gave a luncheon yesterday for her sister-in-law. Howard Swann, whose cousin, William Huntington to New York, is to be best man for his former Harvard classmate, gave the bachelor dinner last night. Mr. and Mrs. Huntington will stay with the Swanns until after the wedding.

Mrs. Williams is giving a dinner at Harlowarden on the eve of the wedding, and the bride's parents will give a luncheon on the day of the ceremony; Campbell Dickson won't arrive from Ann Arbor until then. Mrs. Douglas Moir is giving a dinner tonight.

Mr. Higinbotham and his bride will make their home at Harlowarden, where they will receive their friends after Nov. 15. They are going to Mexico on their wedding trip.

Mrs. A. H. Patterson Home from Europe.

Mrs. A. H. Patterson has returned from abroad and is settled at her Libertyville farm for the autumn. Her sister, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., is coming to Chicago on Thursday or Friday for the wedding of Miss Dickson and Mr. Higinbotham, who is Mrs. Crane's and Mrs. Patterson's nephew.

Mrs. Crane will remain in her Lake Shore drive house only a few days and then will go back to Castle Hill, her Ipswich, Mass., home, for another month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ross [Frederika Walling] are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter on Sunday afternoon at the Evanston hospital. The baby, a granddaughter of Mrs. Willoughby G. Walling and the late Mr. Walling of Winnetka, is being named Pauline for Mr. Ross' mother, Mrs. William B. Ross, of Memphis. The baby will be called Polly.

The Walter R. Kirks returned yesterday from about six weeks in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Pritchard, who have been occupying the John R Montgomery home in Hubbard Woods for the last two years, are moving today into the Winnetka house they have purchased. The house is at 136 Chestnut street. Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard plan to have a house warming as soon as the remodeling on the house is completed.

Marilyn Martin Has Operation.

Debutante Marilyn Martin's departure for the Finch school in New York will be delayed because yesterday she underwent an appendectomy. Miss Martin is in the Evanston hospital.

William B. Rawleigh, the James N. Rawleighs' younger son, has left for his last year at Lawrenceville. His brother, James Jr., has decided not to return to Yale and is continuing to work in southern Illinois.

Miss Barbara Behrens, Miss Laura Moyer and Miss Frances Orcutt are going back to school this fall, but their notebooks will be filled with hints on how to keep house and how to cook. They have entered the School of Domestic Arts and Science to take a homemaking course.

Miss Moyer will put her knowledge into practical use when she becomes the bride of Arthur A. Burrows Jr. next year. Mr. Burrows is a senior at Yale.

Mothers May Replan Their Children's Day

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

This last year—that is, last fall and early last winter—when school had gotten well launched I was asked more than once to outline in a definite way a plan for the day of young school children, especially those of 6 and 7 years.

Seven is the point in growth when many little boys and girls lose their chubbiness, and lengthen out and slim off into the "string bean" phase. It is a normal phase of growth and need occasion no real concern, except where it is associated with fatigue or loss of appetitie definitly accented by attendance at school.

I can't seem to present a definite scheduling of a child's day—particularly as households vary so individually, and as city and suburban and rural living cause further variations in the march of the day's events. What would be most generally helpful, I believe, would be general suggestions.

Any recommendations that have to do with helping a child to adjust herself to school must cover both physical and psychological factors. That means that you ought to scrutinize certain aspects of your child's daily living. You might ask yourself such questions as these:

Is my child more tired at night than usual?

Is she tired in the mornings?

Does she sleep well?

Is his appetite as good as usual?

Does she rush through her meals on school days and eat less, while on week-ends she eats more and with composure.

Does she seem to have developed a general slight fearfulness? Or is there a reluctance to go to school, with either fears or nervousness manifest? Is she tense over her achievement or her marks [though "marks" in early years should be out] in classroom work?

The above are among the effects of school on some young children. On the other hand, there are many children who thrive from the regularity and interest that school supplies.

"Helping the Nervous Child" is a leaflet of interest to parents, teachers and nurses. Send a large, stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

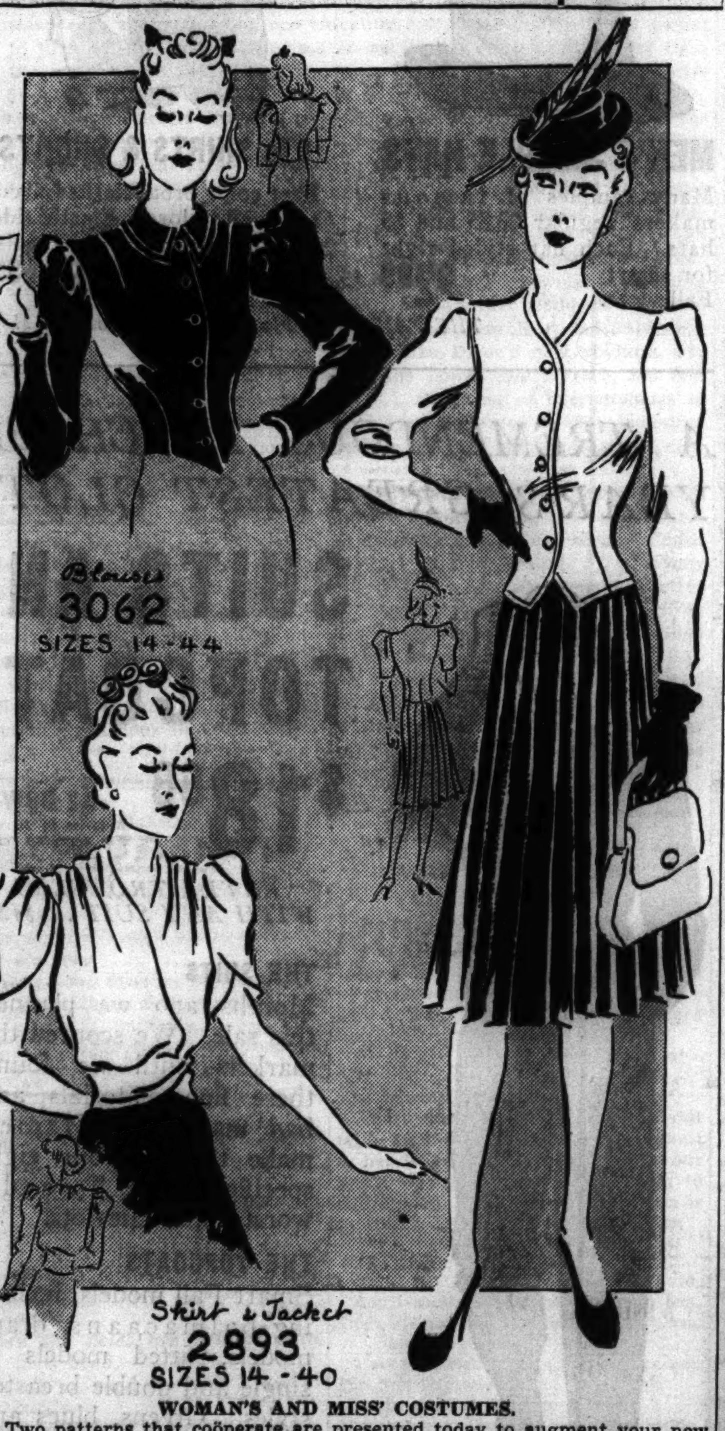
Two Patterns That Co-Operate



WOMAN'S AND MISS' COSTUMES.

Two patterns that coöperate are presented today to augment your new season's wardrobe. One, No. 3062, fashions two widely different blouses; the other, No. 2893, a jacket and skirt ensemble, all of the pieces agreeably keeping each other company. One blouse is strictly tailored, the other a shirred and draped model. The jacket has dressy cardigan lines and the skirt is plaited. Both woolens and silks may be used for these patterns, and fabrics may be contrasted for smart effect.

Style No. 3062 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 1⅞ yards of 39 inch material for collarless surplice waist; 1⅞ yards of 39 inch material for long sleeved blouse with collar.

Style No. 2893 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 1⅝ yards of 39 inch material for jacket; 3⅛ yards of 54 inch material for skirt.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Hoods, Snoods—They'll Top Fall Costumes

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Hoods and snoods! Hoods are on the new wool coats, on fur coats, on jackets, and on camel's hair sports coats! There are fur hoods to be worn with gloves cuffed in fur or with matching fur muffs. There are velvet hoods attached to small shoulder capes that can be worn over simple long evening coats or with snappy daytime reefers.

You'll find a hood on a reversible raincoat that is lined with warm, cozy Scotch plaid wool, the hood also reversible and detachable. You will pull a hood over your hair almost everywhere you go this fall and winter and most of them are fastened securely or cut with the coat or dress.

Exciting new dinner dresses and some particularly dramatic hostess gowns are made with flattering hoods that are as decorative when pulled casually over the curls as they are when worn down around the shoulder line.

Snoods not only are part of the smartest new hats, but you can buy them without the hat. New affairs are of a soft, rather thick yarn, with a demure bow on the top and big fuzzy balls of yarn as decoration. These come in black, brown and dark colors. Gold mesh evening snoods are resplendent toppers for party clothes. Some are simple mesh affairs, others twinkle with sequins, beads, rhinestones and seed pearls. Some have dozens of tiny bows tied hither and thither among the mesh pattern, others are of velvet ribbon in lattice effect, and some in all colors; still others are suede, shoestring width, laced and interlaced to make a mesh of color.

The new veilings are decorated with the biggest chenille dots ever stuck in mesh—black, brown, taupe, green, red, gold and navy veils, all with huge soft balls of chenille for decorative trim. These come in circular veils to throw over a snappy small pillbox or dashing Spanish turban headdress or by the yard to hang distractingly and mysteriously over the face or to cover the back shoulder lines.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

The problem that perhaps recurs most frequently is how to handle a suit in which two vital honors are lacking. Whether to risk loss of time and entries in order to take two finesses, or to play for a break, is a question that often produces considerable wrangling, even among experts. Today's deal is a case in point:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the heart deuce. East won and returned a heart, declarer winning. The club eight was led toward dummy. West hopped up with the ace and laid down the heart jack, which declarer ruffed with the spade four. The spade ace now brought the ten spot from West, which virtually guaranteed that the trumps would not break 2-2; that East had started with the 8-5-3. At this point, however, there was little or nothing declarer could do about it. He drew two more rounds of spades, then led low to the diamond jack. West properly ducked and East won with the king, returning a club. Declarer discarded his four of diamonds while winning with dummy's club king, then led the diamond nine to his ace. At this point dummy and declarer were reduced to one trump each and declarer still had the 10-6 of diamonds to handle without loss. Obviously he was helpless. He led the diamond ten. West covered and dummy had to ruff or concede the trick. Now declarer ruffed a club with his last trump, but had to surrender the diamond six to West's seven spot.

The contract had been lost at the point at which South ruffed West's jack of hearts with the four of spades. Declarer should have realized that it would be highly desirable to lead diamonds from the dummy rather than from his own hand and, to that end, should have created an entry in dummy. This entry could be only in the spade suit and, obviously, the spade nine could not become an entry if declarer retained the A K Q J. On the sound theory that the odds were tremendously against a 4-0 spade break, declarer should have ruffed the heart jack with a spade honor, then should have cashed the ace and king and entered dummy with the four spot to the nine. Then, leading the diamond jack through East would have put the contract "in the bag." East would cover and the ace would win. Then a low diamond would be led to the nine. West would have to go up with the queen and now declarer would have one trump with which to ruff one diamond, and the club king upon which to discard his only other loser. The diamond ten would now be high.

The hand is a very nice example of timing and unblocking which I commend to readers' attention.

DOUBLE VICTORY WILL GIVE FLAG TO CINCINNATI

Walters, Davis Get Mound Jobs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 25.—The little world series, almost an annual affair by which the National league uncovers a candidate for the main event, starts here tomorrow with a doubleheader. The pennant race may all be over by nightfall, or it may string along until the waning hours of the regular season's campaign on Sunday.

Challenging the pacemaking position of the Cincinnati Reds, who since last May have been tearing along so swiftly that only their dust has been discernible to the pursuers, are the St. Louis Cardinals, who because of their baseball manners are known as "the Gas House Gang."

The Cardinals, who have mauled and run their way from nowhere to three and one-half games from the lead, now face their big chance. And the Reds, who for the last couple of months have successfully fought off one slump after another, are confronted by the most severe test of all.

First Game at 1 o'Clock.

Tomorrow's opening act of the so-called crucial series will start at 1 o'clock in order to assure a little extra daylight for the double affair. The series will continue with single battles on Wednesday and Thursday. The question of which contender is to battle the Yankees next week can be determined quickly. A double triumph for the Reds tomorrow would be decisive. Or one for Cincinnati tomorrow and another on Wednesday would mark the spot on which the Cards surrendered. Anything less than four straight would not boost the Gas House gang into the lead. Even with four straight here there'd be another fight ahead for them.

The Cardinals have come up for their final test as the result of a brilliant splurge which did much to eliminate the Cubs, the team many thought would not only contest Cincinnati's lofty position, but capture it at the last moment. Somewhere along the pennant trail the Cub machine is piled up as wreckage. The Cards knocked it off the road in a recent series in Chicago by winning two out of three decisions. Starting with those two victories the Gas House Gang has accumulated 18 triumphs in 21 games. This record inclues a seven game winning streak, the last three of the seven being contributed by the Cubs in St. Louis last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Win 16 Out of Last 20.

But while the pace of the Cards has been spectacular it must be disheartening for St. Louis to realize that it has netted them practically nothing in ground gained. The Reds, who had their moments of jitters, have been able to snare victories in 16 of their last 20 starts. This shows that even under terrific pressure, a condition they didn't anticipate in view of their dozen or more games lead earlier in the season, they have had enough in reserve to carry on. That should indicate they are not going to blow up now that they are almost home.

Bill McKechnie, the Red leader, has his plans arranged so that for one half of tomorrow's double bill he'll have half his pitching staff available. The half he will send into one of the games is William [Bucky] Walters, one time Philly third baseman who has achieved no fewer than 27 victories this year. If Bucky wins his 28th tomorrow he may go into retirement for the season, the idea being to rest him for the Yanks. Gene Thompson with a 10-5 record will make the other start for the prospective champions.

Cards to Start Curt Davis.

The Cards also will start their big winner, Curt Davis, who like Walters is a Philly graduate, but who, in between, had the pleasure of being a Cub until the latter club unwisely traded him to St. Louis. The Cub castoff has picked up 22 victories while losing 14 this season. The Cards' mound workman in the other game will be Morton Cooper, the same fellow who held the Cubs to two runs and beat them last Friday.

The only regular who may be absent from either lineup is Ival Goodman, the Reds' right fielder. He was absent yesterday because of neck trouble resulting from a dive during the series with Philadelphia, but if his ailment hasn't cleared up his berth will be occupied by Vince Di Maggio, who while not much of a hitter, at least can throw. That's important against a running outfit such as the Cards.

So far this year the Cards and Reds have split 18 decisions and played two ties, but the Reds have an 86 to 83 edge in runs scored in those 20 games.

JACK KNOTT, White Sox pitcher, has his portable radio sing him to sleep each night the Sox are traveling. . . . Five hundred Oklahoma rooters in Mattoon, Ill., will come to the Northwestern game next weekend on a special train. . . . The party, which will be led by J. Logan Gover, is made up of oil men whose headquarters are now in Mattoon. . . . Earl Caddock Jr., son of the former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, is an end candidate at Iowa. . . . Jimmy Dykes is the only American Legionnaire still on the major leagues' active players list. . . . Don Twedell and Don Widseth, guard candidates at Minnesota, are brothers of former Gophers who were elected to starting positions in the Chicago All-Star game. . . . Ed Widseth was a tackle on the 1937 All-Stars and Francis Twedell was a guard on this year's opening lineup.

The Question.

Our eyes are dim these twenty years with weeping
For those we loved and lost across the sea,
Those who on foreign battle fields are sleeping
The long, long slumber of eternity;
They gave their lives that peace might be enduring,
That men might turn from greed to things above,
That shipwrecked souls might find a steadfast mooring
In the great golden harbor of God's love.

But lo, the flames of hate again are raging!
Men have forgot the blood our heroes shed,
And file on file their armies are engaging
Till all the fields are littered with their dead;
And shall we send our sons again to battle—
To die in Europe's slaughter house
like cattle? —T. E. B.

LYONS SURVIVES BROWNS' FINISH; SOX WIN, 4 TO 3

Sweep Five Game Series from Tailenders.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox and the Browns yesterday battled in the cold at Comiskey park for one hour and twenty-nine minutes and the brief exposure to pneumonia was worth it, because the Sox beat the Browns, 4 to 3, to sweep the five game series.

The victory, which was Ted Lyons' 14th success of the year, enabled the Sox to gain half a game over the fourth place Indians, whom they now shade by a game and a half. The Sox will play an afternoon-night double header with the Indians tomorrow, then will go to St. Louis to conclude their season's work, insofar as the American league is concerned.

The year's series between the Sox and the Browns was boosted to 17 victories for the Sox out of 19 games.

Yesterday's final was the best played of the five games. The Sox made 13 hits in producing their four runs. Four of the hits and two of the runs were made by Ollie Bejma. His main abettors were Mike Kreevich and Eric McNair.

Each Misses Opportunities.

The Sox made no use of a first inning single by Bejma and a walk to Kreevich. In the second a double by Rosenthal went for naught. In the third Bejma knocked another single, but was out trying to score on a single by Kreevich and a fumble by Laabs.

In both ends of the fourth inning there were three singles and two doubles, but only one run. McQuinn opened for St. Louis with a single and stopped at second on Laabs' single. Clift doubled to left, McQuinn scoring. When Walker lit on the seat of his bloomers while in pursuit of the ball, Laabs tried to follow McQuinn across the plate, but was out, Walker to McNair to Tresh.

At the start of their half of the fourth the Sox seemed bent on going places. McNair opened with a single and stopped at third on Walker's double. Then Rosenthal fouled to Harshany, Tresh struck out and Lyons grounded to Christman.

Sox Finally Score.

In the fifth the Sox tied the score 1 to 1 on their seventh and eighth hits. Bejma hit his third single, went to third on a single by Kuhel and scored on Kreevich's infield out.

Hoag opened the Browns' sixth with a double to left and went to third on McQuinn's out. Then Laabs grounded out to Lyons and Appling threw out Clift.

The Sox scored their second and third runs in the seventh. Bejma opened with his fourth straight single. Kuhel, trying to sacrifice, fouled to

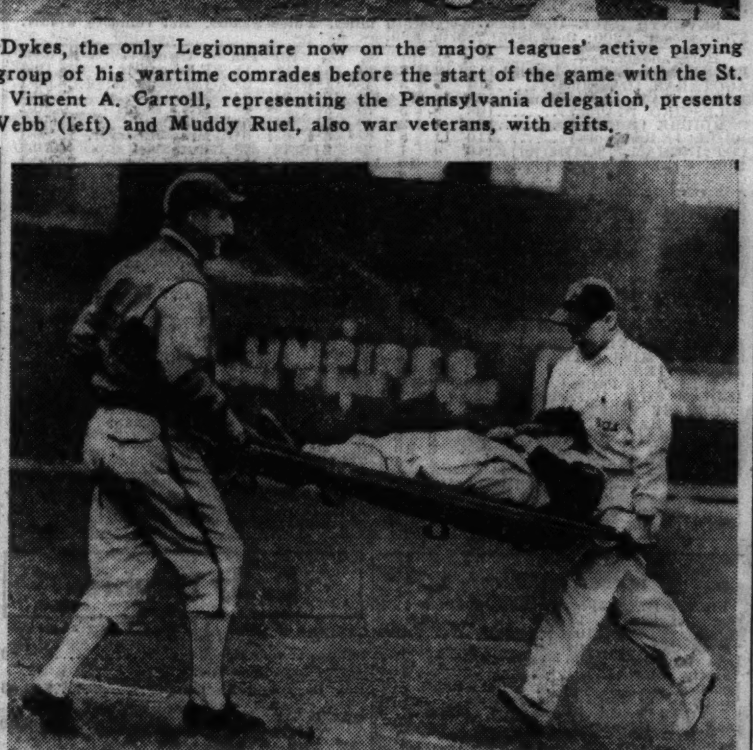
Legionnaires Go to Bat for Sox Buddies

White Sox Manager Jimmy Dykes, the only Legionnaire now on the major leagues' active playing list, yesterday was honored by a group of his wartime comrades before the start of the game with the St. Louis Browns in Comiskey park. Vincent A. Carroll, representing the Pennsylvania delegation, presents Dykes (right) and Coaches Billy Webb (left) and Muddy Ruel, also war veterans, with gifts.



[TRIBUNE Photos.]

And here are the remains after the good Mr. Dykes had picked up his beard and hobbled out to do a bit of third basing for the boys. Pitcher Dungan Rigney (left) and Sharkey Colledge, the clubhouse boy, remove the body. The Sox won anyway, 4 to 3.

Indiana Plays Only 2 Games on Own Field

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 25.—When Indiana university opens its fifty-fourth football season Saturday against Nebraska, the Hoosiers not only will be seeking their nineteenth victory under Coach Bo McMillin, but they will be making their only appearance in Memorial stadium until the final game of the season when Purdue pays its biennial visit here.

That Indiana, kicked around the Western conference in earlier years, has now won 18 games, 10 against Big Ten opponents, and tied three other conference teams in five years, is not startling news unless the background of the record is considered. At that, last year's Big Ten record of one victory and four defeats will require further discussion.

It may be unusual that in the list of conference teams which have scheduled Indiana in the last five years only Minnesota has escaped defeat along the route.

Schedule Making Is Hit.

That Indiana has only one conference football game at home is an indictment of the Western conference whose annual schedule meetings develop along the line of power politics, frequently are deadlocked over which big money team will consent to meet Indiana, Purdue, or Iowa, and often shield individual selfishness behind the claim of greater natural rivalry and responsibility to home town fans.

As far as Indiana is concerned, it is not a question of finances, for we believe that the university doesn't have imperative need for gate receipts to protect its athletic plant as do some other universities. But it is a fact that while Nebraska and Purdue series are on a home and home basis, Ohio State, Illinois, and Wisconsin—1938 opponents—again will play Indiana at Ohio State, Illinois, and Wisconsin.

It is a vicious circle that Indiana's teams must be better, so critics say, in order to schedule games, which will attract crowds, yet, when Indiana's teams were sufficiently strong in 1936 and 1937 to win six and tie one of ten conference games, there was no noticeable change in schedule attitude.

McMillin is starting on the third year of the ten year contract with

GIANTS RALLY IN NINTH TO DEFEAT BOSTON, 6 TO 5

New York, Sept. 25 (AP).—Johnny Dickshot singled to drive home the winning run in the ninth inning today as the Giants defeated the Boston Bees, 6 to 5 before the smallest Polo grounds crowd in 21 years—1,122—in the National league's only game.

Louisville Opens Series Against Rochester in East

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP).—After passing up a workout opportunity this afternoon because of a strenuous drill they underwent in their own park Sunday, the Louisville Colonels, American association playoff champions, tonight awaited the opener of the 21st junior world series with the Rochester Red Wings of the International league tomorrow evening.

The Colonels are in charge of Bill Burwell. Donie Bush, the manager, has been ill most of the season. Billy Southworth's Governor's cup champions, conquerors of the Newark Bears, held a lengthy hitting drill.

Burwell confirmed Leroy [Bud] Parmelee, former Chicago Cub, as his starting pitcher against Mike Ryba, 20 game winner for the Wings, and formerly a St. Louis Cardinal.

Rochester, second place club during the regular season, gained the series by eliminating Newark in a seven game series after eliminating Buffalo. Louisville, beaten in its last junior series opportunity in 1930 by another Rochester team, qualified by ousting Minneapolis and Indianapolis.

Southworth has managed five clubs here, all of which have gained the annual inter-league series.

LOSES FIRST SIX ROUNDS, THEN TURNS THE TIDE

Challenger Almost Out at Finish.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25 [Special].—Billy Conn, world light heavyweight champion, made his first title defense a successful one in Forbes field tonight. He beat off the challenge of stout hearted Melio Bettina of Beacon, N. Y., the man he beat for the championship last July.

Promoter Mike Jacobs announced that 18,422 fans witnessed the battle, of whom 17,534 paid. The gross receipts amounted to $67,892 and the net to $58,117.

The Pittsburgh youngster marched right into his rugged foeman to carry off the decision of Referee Stewart [Red] Robinson and Judges Charles Rogers and Johnny Funday in a manner that left no room for doubt as to his superiority.

Bettina Wins Early Rounds.

Conn, first ring champion Pittsburgh has had since the days of the late Harry Greb, was making his first appearance here as a titleholder.

The rugged, awkward Bettina, with his unorthodox southpaw stance, constituted something of a problem for the first six rounds, but thereafter Conn discarded his unnatural defensive tactics and, fighting in the style and manner to which he is accustomed and attuned, the champion belabored the challenger until Bettina maintained an erect position in the closing two rounds only with the greatest difficulty.

On several score sheets Conn won the battle by eight rounds to seven on a round by round basis. Bettina, winning the first six in a sweep, was hammered through the next six as Conn fought savagely. In the thirteenth Bettina rallied desperately and won the round, but in the fourteenth and fifteenth Conn fought with such reckless fury and utter contempt for the blows of his foe that he swept Bettina steadily before him.

Billy Scores with Rights.

Though the round by round tabulation was close, Conn won off by himself on a competitive appraisal. He was the boxer; he was the ring general, the man with a plan of battle and an oily method of execution; a rip-tearing, blazing swinger contrasting sharply to his stocky, awkward foeman.

Conn's right hand attack turned the tide in the seventh and eighth and in the latter round a left by the champion cut Bettina's right eye.

In the ninth Bettina made a stand for a while with his short lefts, but his foe soon began beating him to the punch with his right. In the tenth Bettina's left eye was cut, and, although he came back for a while in the next three rounds, he wasn't able to outscore Conn. Weary and tired, he tried to slug with the 21 year old champion for a few moments in the fourteenth, but he finally was forced to retreat. For two minutes of that round and again for the same length of time in the fifteenth Billy belted away almost at will as Bettina hung on.

Conn Marked Up, Too.

At the finish Conn's left eye was slightly cut, and both of Melio's eyes were gashed. There were no knockdowns, but there might have been except for Bettina's game stand against Conn's clouting rights to the head and bruising assault to the body in the last half dozen rounds.

With Bettina out of the way, the champion now is confronted by Gus Lesnevich, the Edgewater, N. J., 175 pounder who recently knocked out Dave Clark of Detroit. The Conn-Lesnevich bout is scheduled for Madison Square Garden Nov. 17.

After that Billy probably will spend the winter building up his frame to heavyweight size. He wants to weigh 180 pounds or more so that he can campaign among the big fellows.

Results of the preliminaries:

Milo Theodorescu, 145, Rumania, beat Carmen Notch, 145, Pittsburgh [8].
Harry Bobo, 206, Pittsburgh, beat George Hughes, 188, Pittsburgh [6].
Emil Joseph, 135, Pittsburgh, beat Billy Marquart, 135, Chicago [8].
Georgie Abrams, 160, Washington, D. C., beat Billy Soose, 159, Farrell, Pa. [8].

SHOT PUT WINS IN PHOTO FINISH AT HAWTHORNE

Legionnaires See Russia Make Strong Bid.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Hawthorne track entertained members of the American Legion yesterday, calling the races by martial names in honor of its guests. The seven horses which ran in the Gen. John J. Pershing purse gave the war veterans a thrill by closing their ranks and racing side by side through the stretch as in a miniature cavalry charge. Near the end, Shot Put and Russia forged ahead, the former getting the judges' decision in a photo finish. Lifelike was third.

The crowd had established Russia as the favorite in this gallop of a mile and seventy yards, considerable backing also going to Kenyon C. Though Shot Put had scored two firsts and two seconds in his last four starts, he got to the post at better than six to one odds.

Shot Put Saves Ground.

While Over Yonder, Linger Awhile and Kenyon C. were dominating the early running, Shot Put was far behind, saving ground on the turns. Approaching the stretch Jockey George South took him out from the rail and began working him up. There was a general closing in as the field straightened out in the stretch and out of the pack came Shot Put and Russia, nose and nose. After Shot Put had scored his victory his backers collected $14.40, $6.60 and $4.20.

Forever Prince, which had shown excellent speed at shorter distances in recent weeks, yesterday demonstrated that he hasn't forgotten how to go a longer route. He won the American Legion purse at a mile with three lengths to spare, Chance Ray being second and Flip Flap third.

While Busy Morn opened a good early lead, Jockey Eugenio Rodriguez worked Forever Prince up gradually, engaged the pace setter on the last turn and took the lead at the head of the stretch. He then held Chance Ray at a safe distance throughout the run home.

Make Entry 3-5 Favorite.

The Valdina stable, which seldom sends its horses out one at a time, assigned Valdina Gold and Valdina Nymph to bring in the 33d Division purse. The betters were so confident that the juvenile fillies would fulfill the task that they made the entry the 3 to 5 favorite in the field of seven.

Though neither of the Valdina horses had ever gone more than three-quarters of a mile before, they showed they weren't a bit afraid of the six and a half furlongs. Nunzio Pariso sent Valdina Gold into the lead with a rush while Joe W. and Ortaisi made an early attempt to keep pace.

On the turn Valdina Gold opened up an advantage of five lengths. Meanwhile Valdina Nymph and Pigeon Fly were moving up to challenge Joe W. for second place. The latter tired soon after the stretch run began and Valdina Nymph, under Eugenio Rodriguez's strong urging, beat Pigeon Fly out of second place while Valdina Gold was coasting in to win by three lengths.

Charleston, Elmhurst to Open Little 19

Boomington, Ill., Sept. 25 [Special].—Football squads of the Little Nineteen conference resumed practice today. Elmhurst, Carbondale Teachers, Eureka and DeKalb Teachers open their campaigns this week.

Charleston Teachers, Illinois State Normal, Macomb Teachers and Carthage won their openers last week. Charleston beat Central Indiana 16 to 0; Normal trounced Culver-Stockton, 20 to 0; Macomb overcame Penn of Iowa, 9 to 6 when a freshman, Bert Moore, drop kicked a field goal with only eight seconds of play remaining, while Carthage was tied by Burlington, 6 to 6.

Elmhurst opens at home Saturday against Charleston Teachers in the only Little Nineteen game. Friday night Carbondale is at Cape Girardeau, Mo. The Saturday schedule:

Eureka at Shurtleff, Normal at Platteville, Wis.; Carthage at Illinois college, Macomb Teachers at Parsons [Fairfield, Ia.], De Kalb Teachers at Mount Pleasant, Mich. [night].

A scarcity of veterans at Elmhurst has forced Coach Pete Langhorst to rely on newcomers. Five regulars expected to return have not reported. The only members of the 1938 varsity eleven available are Capt. Don Rosbach, end; Glen Bauman, tackle, and Henry Bucholz and Bill Bohl, backs.

Three reserves who won letters a year ago probably will start against Charleston. They are Erv Volbrecht and Walter Goletz, sophomore backs, and Bob McDougall, tackle. New men running on the first string are Don Cash, end; Vernon Greene and Dick Mernitz, guard, and Vic Houde, center.

LACK OF FROST BALKS HUNTERS IN WISCONSIN

BY BOB BECKER.

Wisconsin's early partridge and sharp-tailed grouse season, which started Sept. 23 and continues this week, has attracted a number of Chicago hunters to the north woods. They learned that old Jack Frost had not done enough work with the vegetation to make the hunting conditions suitable.

With the leaves still on all the birches, maples, poplars, and other trees in the northern forests it was difficult to see the tricky partridges, to say nothing of getting a shot at the fast flying birds.

Complain of Vegetation.

We heard the boys complaining about the abundance of vegetation on our quick trip into the Land o' Lakes region just below the Michigan boundary line. Kenneth Curtis of Winnetka reported on the Boulder Junction area where he hunted on the opening day. He said grouse had two strikes on every hunter due to the heavy protective vegetation.

We roamed through the woods southwest of Land o' Lakes with Chester Harris, a resident of that town, and James Coston of Chicago. Although our 12 gauge guns crashed through the leafy vegetation with pretty good success, we soon discovered that a fellow needed a pair of X-ray eyes to see the birds every time that he heard them.

Strategy Fails.

We remember one shot in a veritable jungle of young maples. We swung the gun where we figured the bird might be behind the leaves and then squeezed the trigger in the hope that the mile a minute partridge would run into the shot charge. But it didn't get a feather ruffled by our blind shooting.

The north country now has had its first heavy frost. [When we were up there we awoke one morning to see the ground white with frost.] By the time the next grouse season opens up on Oct. 14 the leaves should be off the trees and conditions ought to be right for hunting those tricky game birds.

INDIANA SLIGHTED ON HOME GAMES; BIG TEN RAPPED

Plays Only Nebraska and Purdue on Own Field.

Indiana. This contract was in the nature of a vote of confidence by the university, and since it established permanent policy has helped create the current feeling of equality in Big Ten football. These Hoosiers now have outgrown the complex that some teams always are better.

Which brings us to Indiana's 1938 record of four defeats and one victory; that one touchdown was the margin of defeat in each game except against Illinois, when the Illini intercepted a pass in the last 15 seconds to score again, is evidence of the caliber of the Indiana eleven.

Even McMillin, normally able to take a licking and smile, admits that the monotony of one touchdown whippings got him down. Then, too, Indiana had a record number of injuries.

The unusual fact about the squad we watched training this afternoon is that only three of the players are seniors. Indiana had an unduly large number of sophomores on the 1938 squad. On trips 24 of the 35 men were sophomores. This year, perhaps six of the 35 men on a trip will be sophomores. Indiana's schedule, remember, consists principally of trips.

Bank on Experience.

Experience is one reason why Indiana hopes to better last year's record. The players should have more poise, assurance, and confidence. It would seem to be impossible that the team can have as many injuries, but three right half backs already have been lost. Cobb Lewis, recently operated on for appendicitis, was released from the hospital Saturday. He will not be able to play this year. Clee Maddox has injured his elbow and he is out indefinitly. Harry Brooks has an infected toe, but he is expected to be able to play against Nebraska.

Other injuries are of a minor nature, with the possible exception of Emil Uremovich's knee and Bill Smith's sprained ankle. Seven players failed to return to school.

We asked McMillin today what he considered the chief weakness of last year's team. He replied "tackling," then he continued: "We have always worked hard on fundamentals, always had a lot of blocking practice. But back in 1937, when we had very few backs, we were afraid to have too much contact work. Just were jittery about more injuries, and that year and last the boys didn't tackle enough. Some don't need to tune up in tackling, but most do. Have to sorta spread that net when a runner's in the open field. Can't just rush him and take a razoo at him.

"Unless you have good tackling, you'll look back at every game and see how you might have won with one more good tackle. We will have 22 practice sessions before Saturday and two thirds of each have been on fundamentals. Tackling, blocking, rushing the passer, defending the passer, and all the rest."

First Stringers Named.

Barring injury the current ranking of the squad is as follows:

RIGHT TACKLE—Emil Uremovich, Frank Smith, Bragalone.

RIGHT END—Edward Rucinski, John Jangaruk, Jim Ellenwood.

RIGHT HALF—Harold Zimmer, Kenny Smith, Auburn Herron.

Frank La Porte, Former Major Leaguer, Dies

Newsomerstown, O., Sept. 25 (AP).—Frank B. La Porte, 59 years old, former major league infielder, died today of a heart attack. La Porte formerly was with the New York, Washington, and St. Louis American league clubs.

Aron Knocks Out Mexico in Third; 1,610 See Battles

Milt Aron, Illinois' leading welterweight contender, knocked out Midget Mexico of El Paso, Tex., in the third round of a scheduled ten rounder in Marigold Gardens' indoor arena last night. Mexico took a seven count early in the third round when he was hit by a right cross on the jaw. A little later another right cross sent the Mexican down again, this time for the full count. Aron weighed 148 pounds and Mexico 146.

One thousand six hundred and ten people paid a gross gate of $1,870 to witness the show.

Johnny Barbara, South Bend, Ind., 150 pounder, won a close decision over Tommy Pallatin of St. Joseph, Mich., in the eight round semifinal bout. Several furious rallies were staged during the battle. Barbara scored with a hard right cross and a series of lefts to the head in the fifth and had Tommy hanging on. In the seventh Pallatin came back with a few left hooks that hurt Barbara.

In the other bouts Harry Fredricksen, Chicago middleweight, pounded out a four round decision over Jimmy Denver. Jess Yarber beat Joe Ojida in another four rounder and Billy Ryan won the opener by knocking out Jimmy Parks in two rounds.

Fight Decisions

At Galveston, Tex.—Johnny Stevens stopped Chato Gonzales [2]; Sammy Musco beat Mike Delgado [6].

At New Orleans, La.—Ervin Berlier beat Bill Cooper [5].

Star Purdue End to Miss Irish Opener

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 25 [Special].—A preseason back injury will cost Purdue the services of Stanley [Swede] Thursby, veteran senior end, for the season's opener with Notre Dame at South Bend on Saturday, it was learned here today. Thursby, rugged 193 pound major letter man, had been slated for one of the regular wing berths, but reported for drill with a back sprained while laboring at his home in North Tonawanda, N. Y., during summer vacation. It had been expected that the injury would clear up in time for the Irish encounter, but Coach Mal Elward announced today that Thursby would be unable to compete.

Swede Thursby.

STUDY PURDUE PLAYS.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 25 [Special].—Notre Dame turned its attention to Saturday's opening game with Purdue today, taking its first glance at Boilermaker plays in dummy scrimmage.

Most of the session was given over to a thorough review of fundamentals, starting with blocking, a reflection of Coach Elmer Layden's dissatisfaction with the showing made against the freshmen Saturday. The varsity won, 39 to 0, but couldn't score in the second half. The veterans capitalized on an absence of frosh offense, yearling overanxiety, and poor freshman tackling, Layden said.

INJURIES HIT MARQUETTE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 25 [Special].—Injuries today again prevented the Marquette university coaching staff from naming the lineup which will be started against the University of Wisconsin in the season's opener in Madison Saturday.

ILLINOIS GETS READY.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 25 [Special].—Illinois today began preparations for Saturday's game with Bradley. Flip Anders, Moline sophomore, was back at end. Anders was tried at right half back during the past week, but Coach Bob Zuppke has decided he'd be more valuable at end.

Laverne Astroth, sophomore from Roxana, was at the half back post vacated by Anders. Full Back George Rettinger and Guard Gordon McKenzie worked with the first team while Cliff Peterson and Joe Turek rested.

TWO GOPHER ENDS OUT.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 25 [Special].—Minnesota will start without two ranking ends when it opens the season against Arizona Saturday. Coach Bernie Bierman today announced that Bill Johnson, No. 1 right end, and Johnson's top reserve, Bill Atkins, will not be able to clear up their present ineligibility status in time for the Wildcats from Tucson. To compensate for their loss, temporarily now and as insurance for later on if they don't make it, Bierman has shifted Ed Steinbauer, junior full back, to the outpost.

BADGERS SCRIMMAGE.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 25 [Special].—Still dissatisfied with the attack, as shown in its game with the freshmen troops Saturday, Coach Harry Stuhldreher sent the Wisconsin varsity through a stiff scrimmage session this afternoon in preparation for the opener with Marquette Saturday.

Barring injuries the Badgers will be at full strength for the Hilltoppers with the exception of Bob Grinde, senior tackle, and Howard Kaerwer, sophomore tackle from Oshkosh.

Maroons to Get More Defensive Work for Beloit

Although Coach Clark Shaughnessy has found in Beloit college an adversary with a smaller squad than the 35-man University of Chicago group, there will be no letup in the pace of Maroon defensive drill today in preparation for the game Saturday, since Shaughnessy still is dissatisfied with the blocking of the tentative first string line.

The Beloit squad totals 33 men, although it has twelve lettermen to Chicago's eight, and averages three pounds lighter.

Cubs to Woo Pirates for 3d Place Favor

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25 [Special].—The Cubs came to Pittsburgh today, hoping Pie Traynor's gentle Pirates would be as kind to them as they were to the Reds during their recent series in Cincinnati. The Cubs are eager for such hospitality, which might enable them to recapture third place in the National league from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Cubs will open their two game series with the Pirates tomorrow half a game behind the Dodgers and with five games to play. The other three are with the Cardinals in Chicago.

Traynor to Experiment.

Manager Traynor brought his team back to Forbes field today after losing five straight games to the pace-setting Reds, which practically assured the Reds their first pennant in 20 years.

The Cubs already have taken the season's series from the Pirates so the games with Chicago will offer Traynor a chance to see his rookies in action.

Oadis Swigart, 23 year old right hander from Knoxville, who lost his first start in the majors, then came back to blank the Bees on eight hits, will face the Chicagoans tomorrow. Charley Root is likely to be Manager Gabby Hartnett's choice.

Chicago Boy at Third Base.

Maurice Van Robays, rookie outfielder, is batting over .300 since taking the left field job, and has hit two home runs. Bob Elliott, a graceful fielder, is batting at a .380 clip and has three home runs to his credit.

Frankie Gustine, a 19 year old Chicago boy, who was recalled from Gadsden, Ala., in the Southeastern league, to help fill an infield emergency, is stationed at third base. His fielding has been steady.

PICK 4 TO TELL COLOR STORY OF SERIES ON RADIO

Four outstanding broadcasters have been named as the "color" announcers for the Mutual network's exclusive broadcast of the world series. The announcement of the color broadcasters, who will be heard before the start of the games and after the contest, was made jointly yesterday by the Mutual network and the Gillette Safety Razor company, sponsor of the broadcasts.

Those named are Grantland Rice, sports writer; Gabriel Heatter, radio news commentator; Lowell Thomas and Edwin C. Hill, newspaper and publication writers and radio commentators. One will be heard each day, the four alternating on the series games.

Bob Elson, W-G-N sportscaster, and Walter [Red] Barber, New York sports announcer from WOR, will handle the play by play description of the games every day.

Speed, Sharp Blocking Are Sought at N. U.

Developing team speed and sharper blocking became the principal problems at Northwestern yesterday as a result of last Saturday's intrasquad scrimmage. Most of the drill was confined to these two departments.

Don Guritz.

John Haman, center, and Don Guritz, guard, returned to the first team in recognition of their improved play Saturday. The pair had been demoted last week.

Coach Lynn Waldorf continued to keep four back field units shuffled up with sophomores and veterans. Just who will take the field for the opener against Oklahoma on Oct. 7 probably will not be determined until after Saturday's clash with the freshmen.

SCHMIDT CHECKS MISTAKES.

Columbus, O., Sept. 25 [Special].—Ohio State spent most of the two practice sessions today under a broiling hot sun working on errors checked by Coach Francis Schmidt in Saturday's scrimmage games. Mistakes made by the regulars and substitutes in the week-end session were called to the attention individually and collectively, and plays to be used in the offense for the opening game with Missouri were rehearsed.

IOWA PUTS ON PRESSURE.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 25 [Special].—Coach Eddie Anderson today began putting the finishing touches on running and passing as he prepared his University of Iowa football team for the opening game against South Dakota university here Saturday.

PASSES WORRY CRISLER.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 25 [Special].—In an effort to correct the defensive weaknesses shown in Saturday's intrasquad scrimmage, Coach Fritz Crisler sent his Michigan team through a long defensive drill today with special emphasis on stopping enemy passing attacks. Last season a vulnerable pass defense was one of Crisler's chief headaches.

Sox Win, 4-3; Sweep Series from Browns

Lawson, but Kreevich sent Bejma to third with a single and himself took second on a throw to third. Appling struck out again, but McNair singled to right, scoring Bejma and Kreevich.

This Was a Big Run.

Rosenthal and Tresh got the home eighth under way with singles after which they moved up on Lyons' sacrifice. Bejma grounded to Clift and Rosenthal was run down between third and home. Bejma diverted the play to himself between first and second, and as the Browns were running Ollie down Tresh scored.

Lyons, perhaps with sympathetic memories of Clint Brown's and Jack Knott's struggles in the final inning of each of the games in Sunday's double header, had something of a struggle of his own in the ninth. With one down, Laabs singled and Clift walked. Gallagher doubled, scoring Laabs. Harshany grounded to Appling, Clift scoring to bring the score to 4-3, Gallagher reaching third. Sullivan batted for Christman and struck out.

Celebrants of "Comrade Jimmy Dykes day" braved a temperature of 56 degrees to put on their pre-game didoes in Comiskey park yesterday. Jimmy, only Legionnaire on major league active player lists, as well as White Sox Coaches Bill Webb and Harold [Muddy] Ruel, also veterans, were showered with gifts.

Manager Dykes started the game against the Browns at third and made the first putout of the game. When Myril Hoag, second batter, whizzed a single past the skipper, a stretcher squad dashed from the Sox dugout and carried James away. McNair then went to work.

Gayer Shoots 76 to Triumph in Legion Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Eddie Gayer, Twin Orchards professional who jockeyed an ambulance overseas for 15 months during the world war, yesterday maneuvered a golf ball around the No. 1 course at Olympia Fields to win the ninth national open golf championship tournament of the American Legion. Gayer led a field of 125 with a gross card of 36—40—76, a smart total for a day in which the wind strafed many a well meant shot.

Gayer's name will be inscribed on the Patrick J. Hurley Perpetual trophy as the winner of the national title in the Army division. REPUBLICANS CUT STATE PAY ROLL OUTLAY IN IOWA

Reduction Is $35,983 Per Month; 375 Dismissed.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 25 [Special].—Iowa's state pay roll has been reduced $35,983 a month since the Republican administration of Gov. George A. Wilson took office at the beginning of the year.

State house employés to the number of 375 have been eliminated, and the cutting down process is continuing, according to an announcement today by State Controler C. Fred Porter.

The number of state employés decreased from 3,081 on Nov. 30, 1938, to 2,706 on July 31, 1939, the controler said. During the same period the semi-monthly pay roll dropped from $241,006.41 to $223,014.97. The pay roll of Nov. 30, 1938, was the last one representative of the Democratic administration of former Gov. Nels G. Kraschel, Porter said. The Kraschel fiscal year, however, did not end until June 30, 1939, and many of the major Republican reductions did not take place until after July 1.

Must Wait for Comparison.

Hence, the true comparison of employment under the Kraschel and Wilson administrations will not be made until the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, can be compared with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939.

Consolidations and reorganizations of state departments effected by the last legislature showed up for the first time on the July 31 pay roll. Porter cited the newly created state department of public safety as an example, saying that on that date there were 60 fewer employés than in the corresponding department during the same month of Kraschel's last year as governor. The decrease in the semi-monthly pay roll on July 31 as compared with the pay roll for the same period in 1938 was $3,154.84.

Tax Commission Fires 85.

Eighty-five employés have been dismissed by the state tax commission, which succeeded the state board of assessment and review and which was given additional tax collecting duties under a reduced budget. The pay roll savings amount to $5,470.34.

The new full time, three member state board of social welfare pared its staff by 156 employés and cut its semi-monthly payroll by $7,213.53, the controler said.

GEORGE LYTTON ESTATE'S VALUE SET AT $500,000

Joseph F. Geary, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell, approved a second current account yesterday in closing the estate of George Lytton, merchant, sportsman and art patron, who died in December, 1933. It showed a net estate in excess of $500,000.

At the time of Mr. Lytton's death it was thought his estate would total $2,000,000, but shortly thereafter depreciation of stock values reduced assets to $250,000. Although the estate has appreciated since, charitable bequests contingent upon Mr. Lytton's leaving an estate of $1,500,000 are now wiped out.

Stuart J. Templeton, attorney for the estate, listed cash at $247,328, 8,000 shares of the common stock of Henry C. Lytton & Sons at $200,000, and 1,520 shares of the preferred at $152,000. Claims paid include $81,697 in income tax and $3,580 in Illinois inheritance taxes.

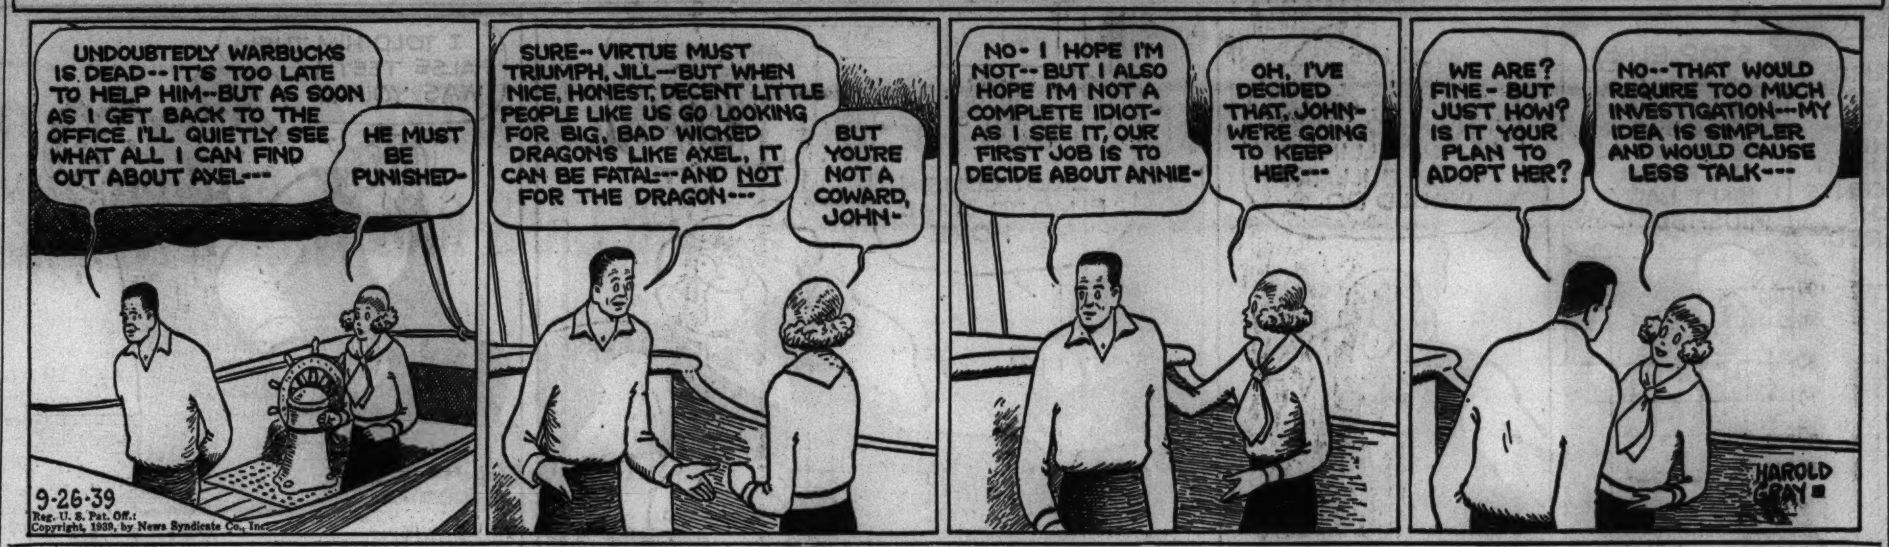
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Girl He Left Behind Him



UNDOUBTEDLY WARBUCKS IS DEAD--IT'S TOO LATE TO HELP HIM--BUT AS SOON AS I GET BACK TO THE OFFICE I'LL QUIETLY SEE WHAT ALL I CAN FIND OUT ABOUT AXEL---
HE MUST BE PUNISHED-
SURE-- VIRTUE MUST TRIUMPH, JILL--BUT WHEN NICE, HONEST, DECENT LITTLE PEOPLE LIKE US GO LOOKING FOR BIG, BAD WICKED DRAGONS LIKE AXEL, IT CAN BE FATAL---AND NOT FOR THE DRAGON---
BUT YOU'RE NOT A COWARD, JOHN-
NO- I HOPE I'M NOT--BUT I ALSO HOPE I'M NOT A COMPLETE IDIOT-AS I SEE IT, OUR FIRST JOB IS TO DECIDE ABOUT ANNIE-
OH, I'VE DECIDED THAT, JOHN-WE'RE GOING TO KEEP HER---
WE ARE? FINE- BUT JUST HOW? IS IT YOUR PLAN TO ADOPT HER?
NO--THAT WOULD REQUIRE TOO MUCH INVESTIGATION---MY IDEA IS SIMPLER AND WOULD CAUSE LESS TALK---

WARN NATION'S SAFETY NEEDS FREE BUSINESS

Bankers Urge Less Federal Control.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fred I. Kent.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 25.—National safety demands that the federal government act promptly to unfetter business and industry so that the nation will be prepared to meet any emergency growing out of the European war, Fred I. Kent, New York banker, today told members of the American Bankers' association.

Kent asserted that unwise federal laws now impair the efficiency of the national economic machine at a time when every means shoud be employed to place the country in an impregnable position.

Other speakers at today's opening session of the convention echoed Kent's views that the Roosevelt administration should seek to restore confidence in the government in the interest of national safety.

Reluctate to Grant Powers.

Wood Netherland, vice president of the Mercantile Commerce Bank and Trust Company of St. Louis, told the state bank division of the association, that congress hesitates to vote further emergency powers to the President because it is suspicious of the ends to which the powers will be used.

"It is difficult for those of our people who have been the victims of Mr. Roosevelt's bludgeoning to trust him implicitly with sufficient power to deal with the critical issues that now confront him," Netherland declared.

"Because of the President's record, he is now faced with the necessity of convincing a large segment of the population that such additional powers as may be granted will not be abused and that these powers will not be permanently appropriated after the emergency has passed."

Urge Strengthening Nation.

The addresses of Kent and Netherland emphasized the general theme of today's speakers that the country is faced with the immediate necessity of strengthening itself financially and economically to meet any possible emergency.

Kent attacked proposals that have been made for conscripting capital in the event of war and for eliminating profit on war business. Either step, he asserted, would be extremely dangerous.

"When a government kills the earning power of its people and the ability of the nation to produce for war emergency by passing unwise laws just because of fear that somebody may make a profit, it is assuming a perilious policy," he warned.

"Conscription of capital in time of war, just because there is conscription of men, is suicidal. They have nothing to do with each other.

Needs of Men and Capital.

"Men are required to fight the nation's battle and capital is required to protect them in doing so. Capital should, therefore, be so conserved and utilized that it will give government the greatest economic power possible to its people, in order that those at the front may have needed supplies and those at home may live."

The present European war gives emphatic warning, he said, that government should take steps that are needed to restore industry and enable the country to hold its own in present world turmoil. This requires, he added, the repeal of all laws in existence that prevent the sound functioning of private enterprise.

Kent is a director of the Bankers' Trust company, New York.

The administration of the National Labor Relations act was cited by Netherlands as an example of the results that may flow from the granting of unusual powers to government. It is imperative, he declared, that new requests for broad powers be examined in the light of how such powers have been used in the past.

"The grave danger is that laws voted in an emergency are seldom repealed or the emergency is indefinitly prolonged," he said.

Stock Prices Close Higher in Quiet Trade

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 25.—The stock market closed irregularly higher today. Strength in rail and specialty issues was the feature of today's activity as traders switched from war shares to these issues. Price changes were mostly fractional.

Trading was quiet, except for a splurge in the second hour. Volume was 1,225,610 shares. The bulk of activity, brokers reported, came from professionals.

Renewed congressional discussion of prospective neutrality legislation was considered by most market observers to have been the chief restraining influence.

Market Uneven at Start.

The market opened irregular, turned strong under the lead of rail stocks in the second hour, assumed a hesitant tone at midday, and then slipped quietly away from highs set earlier. Rail shares were benefited by the rise in earnings reported for August coupled with the prospects of a further gain this month because of the steady increase in trafic, observers said.

Pittsburgh and West Virginia was a standout, gaining 2½ points. Atlantic Coast Line, Great Northern preferred, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Reading and Nickel Plate issues also were prominent, posting gains running to a point or more.

Steel Shares Lower.

Steel shares, notably United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, and Crucible, closed fractionally lower. In the copper group, Anaconda, Kennecott, International Nickel, and Phelps Dodge also gave up fractions. Leading aviation and oil stocks also declined fractionally for the most part.

Paper shares were given a boost early in the session. Features were International Paper and Power common and preferred, up 1 and 2⅜ points respectively; Crown Zellerbach common and preferred, up ½ and 3¼ points respectively, and Union Bag and Paper and Container corporation, up ⅝ of a point each.

Building shares also attracted improved attention. United States Gypsum added 1½ points.

BUTTER FUTURES RISE; BRITAIN IS REPORTED SHORT

News that Britain is suffering from a shortage of butter inspired buying of futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, and final prices showed gains of 0.30 to 0.35 cent a pound. November contracts closed at 27.70 cents.

Advances of ¼ to ½ cent a pound in the cash market lifted top quality butter to the highest levels of 1939, about 4¾ cents above prices prevailing before the war began. Favorable statistics, prospects of unfavorably cold weather in important producing areas, and higher prices in the New York market aided the upturn.

Just before the European war began, butter supplies in the United Kingdom amounted to 90,000,000 pounds, of which 25,000,000 pounds still was afloat on the way from New Zealand, Australia, and Argentina.

Egg futures also showed strength in yesterday's trading, closing with gains of 0.35 to 0.45 cent a dozen. October finished at 17 cents.

RAILS INDICATE FURTHER RISE IN FREIGHT TRAFIC

First reports on revenue freight car loadings in the week ended last Saturday indicated yesterday that another substantial gain in loadings took place. A Dow-Jones dispatch estimated the total for the week may equal or exceed the 1937 peak of 843,861 cars. Loadings in the week ended Sept. 16 totaled 805,733 cars.

Railway freight car loadings on roads reporting yesterday for the week ended Sept. 23 were:

OIL INDUSTRY CONTROL PRINCIPLE SUGGESTED FOR OTHER INDUSTRIES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 (AP).—The monopoly investigating committee, which turned its attention today to the oil business, received a suggestion that the petroleum production control system might be tried with beneficial results in other fields of industry.

Joseph E. Pogue, vice president and head of the petroleum economics department of the Chase National bank of New York, declared proration was producing good effects in the petroleum industry.

In proration, he said, the petroleum industry has pioneered in the development of a new administrative form for the solution of the problem of overproduction.

Pogue said "too much emphasis has been placed on the importance of the price of crude." The crude price, he said, "doesn't make much difference to the consumer; it's an intra-industry problem."

The recent shutdown of wells in the southwest as a protest against a cut in crude prices was only a "psychological episode without significance," he declared.

TRANE COMPANY REPORTS LARGE GAIN IN PROFIT

The Trane company, manufacturing air conditioning and other equipment, yesterday reported profit of $260,371 before federal taxes for the eight months ended Aug. 31, against $81,737 in the corresponding period last year. Sales for the period amounted to $3,077,338, an increase of 35.8 per cent over the $2,266,581 total for the 1938 period.

FSCC to Buy Apples Cut Off from Export by War

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 (AP).—The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, acting on reports that the European war had deprived United States apple producers of a large foreign market, undertook today to take a large part of the exportable surplus out of regular domestic trade channels.

Staples Ease on Doubt Over Neutrality Law

Demand for raw materials had apparently dried up yesterday — at least temporarily — and commodity prices moved lower all along the line. Traders said uncertainty as to what action congress may take regarding neutrality legislation curbed buying interest, although selling was not heavy.

Principal exceptions to the general trend continued to be the cloth markets and their related raw material exchanges. Prices in Worth street, the New York cotton textile trading center, moved up slightly under strong demand. In the Boston wool market an active demand also was in evidence, and prices there continued to add to their recent spectacular advances.

Worsted Sweaters Higher.

Worsted sweaters, it was reported, have been boosted $1 to $3 a dozen, reflecting higher raw wool and woolen goods prices. New York wool futures declined slightly.

The silk futures market turned irregular, and cash silk declined 4½c to $3.08½ a pound. Silk fabrics, however, were still moving upward. Dealers said fabrics are now selling 50 per cent higher than a year ago.

New York hide futures cracked 0.25 to 0.35 cent a pound, but spot hides at Chicago climbed ½ cent to 17 cents a pound, the highest mark in two years.

Copper trading was quiet. There was lack of information on sales. The Friday and Saturday sales of domestic refined copper have not been reported to the trade for the first time since the custom of releasing the figures was started.

August Figures Delayed.

The figures on August production, shipments, and end of the month stocks are also long overdue. It was considered uncertain whether the daily sales figures will be released in the future. As of the last report, covering last Thursday, sales for the month totaled more than 160,000 tons, or within about 20,000 tons of the all-time monthly sales record established in July.

Rubber futures dropped 0.52 to 0.95 cent a pound and cash rubber lost 0.90 cent to sell at 21 cents. Cocoa lost nearly ¼ cent a pound and cottonseed oil declined about ⅛ cent. Tin futures slumped as much as 2 cents, but cash tin was steady.

Other commodities closing lower were both sugar and coffee contracts, zinc, and lead futures.

AMERICAN AIRLINES REACHES TWO MILLION MARK IN PASSENGERS

American Airlines, Inc., yesterday reported transporting its 2 millionth passenger. C. R. Smith, president, said the line was the first in the world to reach that mark.

The air line carried its first revenue passenger on April 1, 1927, according to Smith, and ten years later —Feb. 16, 1937—hauled its 1 millionth passenger. He said the advance of air transportation in the last few years was reflected in the line's transportation of its second million passengers in two years and seven months.

So far this year, Smith added, American Airlines has hauled 362,356 passengers. This compares with 358,295 in the full year 1938 and a total of 190 in 1927.

An additional flight of United Air Lines between Chicago and Philadelphia was announced by R. F. Ahrens, regional trafic manager here. The new flight, effective yesterday, leaves Chicago at 4:40 p. m., arriving at Philadelphia at 10:45 p. m. Ahrens also said several schedule changes had been made on late night trips from New York to Chicago.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25 (AP).—The treasury's weekly sale of $100,000,000 of 91 day bills brought an average price of $99.979 per $100 unit, equivalent to borrowing at an interest rate of 0.082 per cent. Last week's interest equivalent was 0.125.

CARRIERS ORDER MORE CARS, RAIL AS TRAFIC RISES

Activity Quickens in Other Industries.

Orders for additional equipment were placed with manufacturers yesterday by a number of railroads as a step toward improving facilities to handle an expanding volume of business.

The Delaware and Hudson ordered 1,000 freight cars, dividing the order equally between the American Car and Foundry company and the Bethlehem Steel company.

The Erie, which recently announced it would place another 1,500 freight cars in service, awarded construction orders to the American Car and Foundry company, Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, General American Transportation corporation, and Greenville Steel Car company.

Soo Unit Orders 200.

Pullman-Standard also received an order for 200 freight cars to be built for the Wisconsin Central, which is operated by the Soo line. The Virginian railway, which began the rehabilitation of 500 cars in its own shops early this month, placed another 500 on the program for major repair work.

In a move to meet heavier trafic demands, trustees for the St. Louis-San Francisco railway asked the federal court at St. Louis for authority to spend $682,032 in the purchase of heavy rail to replace 60 miles of track.

Among other orders announced was one by the United States navy department, which awarded the United Aircraft corporation a contract for engines and spare parts costing $348,227.

Electric Plant to Be Improved.

There were other new developments indicating increased industrial activity. The Philadelphia Electric company announced a 7 million dollar program for improving generating facilities at Chester, Pa.

The Masonite Company of Canada, Ltd., reported construction of a new factory would begin in February in Gatineau, Quebec.

Reporting increased construction in New York state, Frieda S. Miller, industrial commissioner, said building trade employment had increased 7.2 per cent between mid-July and mid-August, with pay rolls up 8.9 per cent. A gain of 2.5 per cent in jobs and an increase of 3.7 per cent in wages was reported by companies working on projects financed by private funds.

Pump Builder Orders Bonus of 5 Per Cent for Employes

Ashland, O., Sept. 25 (AP).—F. E. Myers & Brother company, pump manufacturer, announced today a 5 per cent bonus to all employés, payable Oct. 20. This is the third straight year such a bonus has been paid.

Architects Say 10 Million New Homes Needed

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—Ten million new homes are needed over a 50 year period to provide adequate housing for the poor, according to a report issued tonight by the American Institute of Architects.

The report criticized lack of coöperation from labor, building rackets, and high construction costs as obstacles to giving the nation the housing facilities it needs.

The committee on housing, headed by Dean Walter R. MacCornack of the School of Architecture of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, prepared the report and released it on the eve of the institute's annual convention.

Urge Comprehensive Program.

"The cold fact is," said the report, "that a comprehensive program of housing over such a period of time as is necessary to provide decent housing for millions not so housed faces failure largely because the income of large numbers of our citizens is so low as to make impossible for them either to own or to rent proper living quarters.

The cost of housing is definitly tending toward the retarding of the whole building industry and there is ample evidence of rackets in the building industry, the report declared.

"The full realization of the demand for housing to be supplied by private enterprise and an efficient use of funds for subsidized housing will be attained only when each and every item of building cost has been reduced to a reasonable level," said the report.

Blames Obstructive Laws.

"Obstructive and obsolete local housing laws and codes seem to be on the road to amendment. High hurdles to low cost will remain in land costs, due to the persistence of a speculative rather than an investment attitude toward real estate in the cost of materials, in the costs of labor, and in high interest rates, which in turn affect the resulting taxes.

"Labor has shown too little eagerness to coöperate, as was done in England, in the substitution of an annual income for the hourly wage scale for labor's reimbursement. Labor clings to many obsolete practices, such as the jurisdictional strikes, which retard building production and increase its costs."

In some fields of the manufacture of building materials there have been advances to meet standards scientifically arrived at, but in most of the fields few important changes have been made, despite the recommendation of competent investigators, the report said.

8 Month Retail Car, Truck Sales Climb 43 Per Cent

New York, Sept. 25 (AP).—A gain of 43 per cent in retail motor vehicle sales in the first eight months of 1939 over the corresponding 1938 period was reported today by the Automobile Manufacturers association. The sales this year totaled 2,177,952, made up of 1,816,179 passenger cars and 361,773 trucks.

STEEL INDUSTRY NEAR CAPACITY; RATE 83.8 PCT.

Is 1.2 Points Below Practical Limit.

Its mills swamped with a rush of orders, the steel industry—America's No. 1 heavy industry—started ingot producing operations this week at 83.8 per cent of capacity, the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated yesterday. The rate is the highest since the week ended Aug. 30, 1937, when it was 84.1 per cent. At the start of last week the rate was 79.3 per cent.

This week's rate is approaching the 85 per cent level at which by common consent the steel industry considers its operations are at about full practical capacity. However, the 85 per cent point is elastic and steel men said it might be exceeded in the next few weeks.

100 Per Cent Rate Impractical.

The full 100 per cent theoretical capacity is explained by steel men to mean the entire production capacity of all mills, which for 1938 was estimated at 71,594,320 tons of ingots. Actually, it was said, it would be almost impossible for the entire industry to operate at its full capacity.

There are several reasons for this. First, furnaces, either open hearth or blast, and other sections of the mills frequently must be shut down for repairs. Certain specialized divisions of the mills may not be operating because of lack of demand for their products. For example mills which produce only extra heavy girders for which there is little call are largely idle. Then rolling mills may have to be shut down for the changing of rolls for the production of steel of different widths.

Some Plants Attain Limit.

All these and other factors combine to make it difficult for all the mills to turn out steel in an amount equal to their full estimated capacity. However, in certain individual cases operations are being reported as at 95 per cent or even 100 per cent of capacity.

In 1938 steel ingot production for America totaled 28,349,991 tons, or

New York Bonds.

New York, Sept. 25 (AP).—Bond traders took a look at mounting rail traffic figures today and bought substantially of a large assortment of carrier liens.

Demand centered in the lower price brackets, especially in the more speculatively rated issues, as many brokers saw a possibility that these roads might enjoy a large increase in revenues.

High priced bonds proved a bit top-heavy. This was emphasized by a drop in the Associated Press average of 10 low-yield issues to 103.6 from 103.7, lowest since Feb. 13, 1934.

United States governments backed away with losses of 3-32d to 8-32d point in the majority. Heavy blocks of treasuries again changed hands.

Highlighting the foreign division was the further rebound in Belgium bonds. Active buying lifted the 6s to 84¼, a gain of 11¼ points. The neutral country's loans dropped sharply last week when there was some concern over Germany's attitude in event of war pressure. Also favored were French, Norway, and Uruguay bonds.

Gains ranging to around 3 points were sprinkled heavily through the corporate list.

Sales of $13,557,250, face value, compared with $16,662,750 Friday.

Chicago Stocks.

Gains were in the majority in trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. North American Car led the active list, rising to a new high for the year at 5¼ and closing at 5 for a net advance of ¼ point. Marshall Field also sold at its peak price of the year, 16¼, but slipped back to close ⅛ net lower at 16. Of the 116 issues traded, 48 advanced, 39 declined, and 29 finished at Saturday's final levels. Trading involved 37,000 shares.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—A good inquiry was reported today for gray goods upward in the Worth street textile district. Prices again moved upward and although some orders have been booked at the advanced levels, business was not large. Trading in woolen goods was on a somewhat wider scale than at the end of last week. Mills continued to refuse to sell far ahead, however, due to price uncertainties.

COTTON

Buying of cotton futures by mills in early trading yesterday resulted in a fair advance in prices. Hedging pressure increased later and a reaction followed. Closing trades were .05 cent higher to .02 cent a pound lower.

Reports from the Worth Street district in New York indicated buyers were less anxious for supplies of cotton goods, an advance in prices late last week being a factor.

The Indian Government was reported to have asked that trading in cotton futures in Bombay be discontinued, and the Egyptian government is said to be considering taking over the merchandising of the crop of the latter country and will control prices.

Manchester, England, mills are reported to have received large governments orders in the last few days.

Spot cotton closed unchanged with New York, 9.08 cents; New Orleans, 9.04 cents; Galveston, 8.85 cents and Houston at 8.86 cents a pound. Prices follow:

SWISS BANK'S GOLD SHIPMENT REACHES N. Y.

Treasury's Stock Nearer 17 Billion Dollar Mark.

The Italian liner Conte di Savoia arrived in New York yesterday from Genoa, Italy, with gold estimated at $1,500,000. The metal, shipped by the National Bank of Switzerland, was consigned to the New York Federal Reserve bank.

Gold shipments from Switzerland to New York usually are made through France. By shipping through Genoa under present conditions, however, the Swiss bank was able to obtain space on the vessel of a neutral nation and to avoid its passing through belligerent territory.

The shipment pushed the United States treasury's gold supply still nearer the 17 billion dollar mark. The treasury announced its gold assets reached $16,909,261,486 last Friday.

Gold Engaged in Japan.

Engagement of $4,700,000 gold in Japan and $100,000 in England for shipment to this country was reported during the day by the New York Federal Reserve bank. The bank further announced receipt of $68,000 gold from England. None was exported.

The price of gold at London held steady at 168 shillings. This price, fixed by the Bank of England shortly after the outbreak of the European war, is equivalent to $33.85 an ounce on the basis of $4.03 for sterling. New York bullion dealers made no change in their quotation for foreign mined silver at 39¼ cents an ounce.

Swiss Franc Declines.

Currencies of two neutral European nations depreciated in terms of the dollar at New York. The Swiss franc was 0.08 cent lower at 22.56 cents and the Dutch guilder declined 0.05 cent to 53.17 cents. The British pound was unchanged at $4.00. The French franc sold 0.01 cent lower at 2.26½ cents. The Canadian dollar sold at 90.75 cents, off 0.12½ cent.

Securities prices at London closed generally steady. Most American shares held early gains.

After an early show of stability, the Paris bourse showed weakness. Turnover was small. Belgian loans, which had not been quoted in recent sessions, sold in small quantities with some prices off as much as 18 per cent.

Trading on the Amsterdam bourse was almost at a standstill. American shares showed a few fractional losses although sales were highly restricted.

American Delegation Will Seek Argentine Trade Pact

The delegation will leave after the conclusion of the public hearings which will begin here Oct. 16. The personnel of the delegation has not been decided upon.

MAJESTIC RADIO ADDS $100,000 TO WORKING CAPITAL

Fund Made Available Through Loan.

Majestic Radio and Television corporation of Chicago yesterday announced the addition of $100,000 to its working capital through a loan from Allied International Investing corporation. R. A. Lasley, Majestic president, said the money had been made available to Allied International by Walter P. Chrysler Jr.

Allied owns 100,000 shares of Majestic's $1 par capital stock out of a total issue of 550,000 shares. It borrowed the $100,000 from Chrysler, son of the chairman of Chrysler corporation, and in turn loaned it to Majestic for 90 days at 2 per cent. Several officials of Majestic Radio are board members of Allied International.

Young Chrysler was given an option to buy a total of 225,000 Majestic shares before Oct. 23. Contingent on the exercise of this option, he was given a further option to buy an additional 75,000 shares before March 1, 1941.

Lasley also said Allied International had been given an option to buy 75,000 Majestic shares and additional instalments of 5,000 shares for a total of 35,000 shares at the same price at which Chrysler may acquire the stock. Allied has conditionally agreed to have Chrysler substituted as a proxy and to control the voting rights of 175,000 shares of Majestic stock.

Commenting on reports the Chrysler corporation had acquired full control of Majestic, Lasley said: "This is not an outright purchase and the transaction does not represent the turning over of control. At the same time, of course, the interest is substantial."

Majestic Radio and Television corporation, with a plant and offices at 2600 West 50th street, manufactures radio receiving sets.

Fall Bulbs Planted

Sept. 25, 1939.

TULIP, hyacinth, narcissus, and other fall bulbs are being planted this week in flower gardens on the Du Page county farm. The practice there is to plant these bulbs as soon as they are available at supply houses in the fall. This gives them a chance to make some root growth before cold weather.

The gardeners say that tulip bulbs do well when planted later, even after a killing frost, provided they are given a heavy mulch to protect them during the winter.

Darwin tulips are grown almost exclusively at the farm. They have larger and more spectacular blossoms than the breeder, cottage, and other common kinds, but they bloom later in the season. Darwin tulips are available in a wide variety of colors.

Surface Layer Removed.

When tulips are planted in beds the soil first is worked to a depth of one foot and then a 6 or 7 inch layer of the surface soil is removed. The bulbs are spaced in the bed about 8 inches apart and are covered with the layer of soil. This is considered easier and better than trying to plant each bulb the required depth in the loose soil.

The gardeners always select rich, black soil for tulips, but they never fertilize it with manure. The only fertilizer used is a little bone meal. The best tulips on the place last year were some planted in virgin soil fertilized with bone meal.

Only a few tulips are to be planted this fall. Bulbs in established beds are to be left in the ground over winter to provide most of the tulip blooms next spring. Annual flowers were sown in the tulip beds this year after the tulips had bloomed to shade the bulbs during hot summer and early fall weather.

Heat Protection Needed.

Experience at the farm indicates that tulip bulbs left in the ground from one blooming season until the next are more likely to need protection from the heat in summer than from the cold in winter. Some gardeners practice lifting tulip bulbs each year after the flowers are gone and replanting them in the fall. This is considered the safest plan, but it requires more work than sowing annual flowers in the tulip beds and leaving the bulbs in the ground.

Tulips often are planted in old annual borders and around shrubbery borders at the farm. They are given a light mulch to protect them during the winter.

Narcissus and hyacinth bulbs are planted at about the same depth as tulip bulbs. They are given much the same care as tulips except that the bulbs may safely be left in the ground from year to year and do not require protection from the heat during the summer.

MEMBER BANKS' LOANS INCREASE FOR FIFTH WEEK

Selling of Government Bonds Disclosed.

Commercial, industrial and agricultural loans advanced by member banks of the federal reserve system in 101 leading cities increased another 42 million dollars in the week ended last Wednesday, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

It was the fifth consecutive week in which loans have increased and reflected the further enlivening of general business activity. Loans have expanded 289 millions in the five weeks and at the latest date amounted to $4,201,000,000.

New York Banks Lead.

New York member banks again led the upturn, as they did in the preceding weeks, extending their loans by an additional 25 millions. The total for all of the banks was at a new peak for the year.

The reserve board at Washington also disclosed continued selling of government securities by reporting banks, which liquidated 38 million dollars of treasury bills, 22 millions of notes, and 1 million dollars in United States bonds during the week. The same banks, however, added 8 million dollars to their holdings of securities issued by federal agencies and guaranteed by the government.

Demand deposits of reporting banks declined 113 millions and time deposits dropped 8 millions.

Prices sagged 10 to 15 cents under pressure of supplies, but the clearance was good as large buying orders came into the trade.

Driver Rewarded

STEEL INDUSTRY NEAR CAPACITY; RATE 83.8 PCT.

Only 1.2 Points Below Practical Limit.

39.6 per cent of the theoretical capacity. In 1937 production totaled 50,568,701, or 72.5 per cent of rated capacity of 69,775,334 tons. The all time record was set in 1929 with a total ingot production of 56,433,473, or 88.5 per cent of the rated capacity of 63,784,389 tons.

Efficiency Is Increased.

Since 1929 there has been an increase of about 8,000,000 tons in the rated capacity. In addition, steel mills have had their efficiency greatly increased. New continuous strip rolling mills are producing far more steel per mill with less manpower.

The present spurt in the industry is caused by domestic orders by companies which are purchasing heavily in the belief that the effects of the war eventually may make delivery more difficult. So far, the steel export business has not increased substantially despite the war.

Railroads, after several years of absence, again are in the steel market to a large extent. In a rush to put equipment and rails in position to meet the expected upturn in trafic.

Buying Recently Dormant.

In normal times the carriers bought about 20 per cent of the steel and iron produced, but this buying recently had been much smaller because of their financial difficulties.

The Great Lakes Steel corporation, Detroit, a division of the National Steel corporation, was one of the companies to report that its operations are at 100 per cent of capacity. The company, which largely supplies steel to the automobile industry, reported that it has sold its entire output through the fourth quarter.

CHICAGO RIVET GETS PERMIT TO DELIST STOCK

The Chicago Rivet and Machine company will be permitted to withdraw its 150,360 shares of capital stock from listing on the Chicago Stock exchange, officials of the Securities and Exchange commission announced yesterday after a hearing.

The company petitioned to delist its stock because the volume of trading on the exchange was small, and sought to eliminate expenses incident to listing. The interests of stockholders would best be served by transferring the market in the stock to unlisted or "over the counter" brokers, the petition said.

"In an issue of this size a dealer market is preferable," said M. J. Hickey, head of a Chicago unlisted house and a director of the company.

"The fact that the stock is listed makes it impossible for a dealer to merchandise it profitably, as he cannot collect a commission on top of the trading commission fixed by the exchange."

He suggested that a system of split commissions might solve the problem, at least in part.

TRADE UPTURN, WAR IMPROVE RAIL EARNINGS

August and Eight Months Show Sharp Gains.

Financial operations of the nation's railroads have improved substantially as a result of increased passenger and freight trafic generated by the fall business upturn and stimulated by the European war, it was indicated yesterday.

Most of the reports of individual carriers issued during the day showed sharp gains in operating income for August and the first eight months of 1939, and reports for September, when they are available, are expected to show an acceleration in the rate of gain, according to railroad men.

The Pennsylvania reported August net operating income of $6,827,047, an increase of $1,193,821 over the total for last year.

New York Central Improves.

August net operating income of the New York Central increased to $3,513,448, from $2,307,917 last year.

The Santa Fe's report showed a small reduction for the month, but an increase for the cumulative period. August net operating income was $1,982,951, a drop of $168,491 from the 1938 level, with the eight months' total up $460,165 to $10,086,108.

Increased shipments of iron ore under war stimulated demands were largely responsible for the better operations of the North Western railway, according to R. L. Williams, chief executive officer. August net operating income was $1,132,300, against $551,175 a year ago. Operating income for eight months was $28,235, compared with a loss of $2,681,399 a year ago.

The Rock Island reported its operating income for the eight months increased to $2,258,975, from $213,359 a year ago, although August operations were less profitable. The August total was $112,588, against $219,705 a year ago.

Other Roads Do Better.

The Great Northern listed August net income of $1,859,251, against $1,843,311 a year ago.

Improvement in the Great Northern's operations has also been due principally to greatly increased shipments of iron ore, according to F. J. Gavin, executive vice president.

New presidents may be named for two of the northern roads, it was reported. Great Northern directors, it was said, may act at their meeting today toward filling the vacancy in the presidency which has existed since the death of William P. Kenney. Gavin has been serving as the road's chief executive officer. Northern Pacific directors, meeting Thursday, may select a president to succeed the late Charles Donnelly.

Rail Earnings Compared.

Railroads yesterday issued the following comparative reports on net operating income for August and the first eight months of 1939 [net operating income is before charges for bond interest, etc., and before dividends and other nonoperating income]:

FULLY as important as the gathering of war news is the editing of the news—the weighing of the many reports that fill the air and clog the wires. Rumor and propaganda are subtle enemies and can be met only with knowledge, training and discipline. These are the qualities one seeks in an emergency. These are the qualities one finds in those who make The New York Times.

2 ELECTRIC LINES TO IGNORE I. C. C. TILL COURT ACTS

Wilkerson Issues Orders in 'Steam' Status Fight.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday took action to clear up confusion arising from a recent interstate commerce commission order involving the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad. The order placed the road, an electric line, in the steam railroad class and made it subject to many federal laws governing the operation of steam lines.

Judge Wilkerson issued a temporary injunction restraining United States District Attorney William J. Campbell from attempting to collect penalties from the North Shore line for not complying with the steam rail regulations. The court also directed A. A. Sprague, receiver for the North Shore, to ignore the I. C. C. ruling pending a decision as to its validity.

Aurora Line Also Affected.

The commission ruling affects another electric railroad, the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin, of which Sprague also is receiver. Judge Wilkerson directed Sprague to ignore the new ruling with regard to the Aurora line as well. Both lines are in reorganization in the United States District court.

In accordance with a ruling made by the I. C. C. in 1936, the North Shore and the Aurora roads had been classed an interurban. They had a separate set of federal regulations, not as numerous or as stringent as those applying to steam railroads.

In the more recent ruling, announced last July, the commission held that all railroads engaged in interstate commerce, regardless of whether electric or steam, fall in the same class.

Taxation Questions Involved.

The immediate question involved is whether the North Shore and the Aurora lines are subject to the carrier taxing act and the railroad retirement act of 1937. Under these laws, railroads are required to pay a tax and make pay deductions for the benefit of retiring employés.

It is for failure to abide by the provisions of these laws that District Attorney Campbell is attempting to collect thousands of dollars in penalties. As interurban lines, the two electric roads carried their labor matters before the National Labor Relations board and were subject to the social security act.

They would be required in the new classification to place their labor controversies with the national mediation board and to pay retirement taxes into the bureau of internal revenue. Attorneys for the lines contend this would disrupt existing relations of receiver with employés.

Report That Federal Bins Break Declared Erroneous

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 25 [Special].—Reports that government bins stored with corn were bursting from the weight of their contents were declared erroneous today by county agricultural adjustment administration officials. However, it was learned that at least one farmer's corn bin had broken, but officials emphasized that the new steel storage bins erected for the government had proved satisfactory.

"AT A DISCOUNT."

My broker states that a bond I hold is selling at a discount. What does that mean?—H. E.

Answer: A bond is selling at a discount when its market price is below its face value. A $1,000 bond priced at $900 is selling at a 10 per cent discount. Premium is the opposite of discount. A $1,000 bond priced at $1,100 is selling at a 10 per cent premium.

TOOL MAKER.

What does Niles-Bement-Pond do? What have been the company's earnings in recent years?—K. V.

Answer: Niles-Bement-Pond company makes small tools. Included in its products are dies, cutters, taps, lathes, grinders and die sinkers.

THERE IS NONE.

Can you tell me what is the par value of Missouri-Kansas-Texas 4s series B of 1962?—F. M.

Answer: Most bonds have a face value of $1,000. Missouri-Kansas-Texas 4s series B of 1962 are issued in $100, $250, $500 and $1,000 denominations.

IRON ORE.

What are the certificates of beneficial interest of Great Northern Iron Ore Properties? What does this company do?—L. O.

Answer: Great Northern Iron Ore Properties is a trust. The certificates represent a beneficial interest in the trust. Practically all the companies income is derived from steel companies which lease Great Northern's iron ore properties in Minnesota.

The lease contracts usually provide that rental shall be paid by the steel companies on the basis of tonnage mined, with a minimum annual payment generally stipulated. Certificates of beneficial interest are traded on the New York Stock exchange.

GRAINS DECLINE AS SPECULATIVE TRADE SHRINKS

Drouth Over Wheat Belt Largely Ignored.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the December delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .85½	$ .86¼	$ .67½
Corn	.54½	.54¾	.51¾
Oats	.34¼	.34½	.26⅜
Rye	.53⅞	.55	.45½
Soy beans	.83½	.85¼	.78⅛

Grain prices declined yesterday. Speculative interest in the markets was the smallest in about a month. Lack of aggressive support rather than any desire to sell was responsible for the easiness in prices, brokers said. Wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade closed ¾ to ⅞ cent lower. Corn was unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

Soybeans led the decline yesterday and closed 1½ to 2⅛ cents lower. Hedging pressure in connection with purchases of about 550,000 bushels of soybeans for deferred shipment to Chicago was a factor in the decline.

Drouth Reports Ignored.

Dry weather reports from the greater part of the winter wheat belt attracted little attention from traders. Private weather forecasters expressed the belief there was a possibility of the drouth area receiving moisture within the next few days. Rainfall in leading central western states from Sept. 1 to 19, inclusive, has ranged from 5 to 53 per cent of normal, the bureau said.

European demand yesterday for North American cash wheat was relatively slow. Scarcity of ocean freight room has resulted in sharply higher prices being quoted for grain in Europe. Belgium yesterday fixed the price of wheat at $1.25 a bushel.

Report Export Corn Sales.

Reports were current yesterday that fair sales of American corn had been made for export to Europe. Estimates ranged as high as 1,000,000 bushels. Commission houses were on the buying side of futures on declines, but the aggregate trade was light.

The country sold 105,000 bushels for deferred shipment to Chicago. There was an increase of 3,351,000 bushels in local corn stocks during the last week.

OUR BUSINESS IS MARVELOUS

I have been in this business over a quarter of a century and I have never seen anything like it. Listen to this.

1938 was by far our largest year and to date we have broken record after record with August 98% ahead of August last year.

Our business is absolutely depression proof but of course these are boom times. Our electrical units are such that people need them and buy them which makes plenty of work for all.

Come in and let me show you our latest products. Let me explain our merchandising program which is so sound and so workable that people from all walks of life who have never sold anything before in their lives are meeting with marvelous success. Here are just a few examples of what they earned last week in commission and bonus alone.

O'NEILL, former trombone player, $75 in 1 day.
DUNLAVEY, former factory work, $75 in 1 day, $400 month to date.
PERSON, former sailor, $50 Sunday.
BILLINGSLEY new man from heating business, $100 last week.

STIMELING, former coal miner, $250 last week.

The above are just a few examples. Come in and meet these men and many more who are drawing fat weekly pay checks and living as they have never lived before.

Our products are in use in dozens of homes, stores and business places in the very neighborhood in which you live as we have thousands upon thousands of satisfied customers.

We are now completing our organization for our great Fall campaign. If you are able to start at once, honest and reliable, over 24 years of age and can live on approximately $30 and $40 per week your first 2 weeks while learning you will be granted a personal interview.

All applicants will be thoroughly schooled in positions for sales installation, collection or service. Apply Tuesday, 11 a. m. sharp. No other time. In addition to above requirements you must live south of the loop or in south side suburbs Call at 11 o'clock sharp. Suite 400, Maryland Bldg., 63d-st. and Maryland-av. Ask for G. A. Buckley.

Commonwealth's monthly rate of 2½% on loan balances of $150 or less and only 2% on loan balances above applies to ALL TYPE AND CLASSES OF LOANS. Any one who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course, persons whose incomes are above average can afford to make larger payments and thus make substantial reductions in their loan cost.

No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Applications received by personal call, letter, or telephone will receive immediate attention.

One Price to All

Examine the table below. It shows that $9.77 a month repays everything on a $100 loan in 12 months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for 20 months repays $100. The faster you pay the less the total cost.

CASH LOAN YOU GET	Amount you pay back each month including all charges 6 Mos. Loan.	12 Mos. Loan.	16 Mos. Loan.	20 Mos. Loan.

These payments are calculated at Household's rate of 2½% on balances of $100 or less; 2% on balances of $100 to $300. These rates are less than the lawful maximum on all loans and are the same to every one. No endorsers. Loans made on furniture, car, or note. No wage assignments. Local Loan Gives You the Service You Want 75% of our loans are Signature Only Loans to employed men and women. LOCAL LOAN originated and perfected this salary loan service because of the great body of employed people—young or old and regardless of occupation—are entitled to a simplified loan method.

Our aim is to offer you whatever plan will enable you to borrow most easily. LOCAL LOAN makes liberal Furniture and Auto Loans, but if you are steadily employed we prefer to make you a loan On Your Signature Only without mortgages or endorsers. You may borrow $25 to $300—

On Your Signature Only

You make your own repayment terms [repaying any time within 20 months] and you are charged only for the actual time you have the money.

When you deal with LOCAL LOAN you borrow without the knowledge of your employer, friends, and relatives.

We cannot tell you all about our service in our advertisement. Just phone one of the following offices. Your loan request can be taken over the telephone so you can obtain the money more quickly when you call in person.

Can You Set Aside $1.34 to $1.52 Per Week FOR A $100 LOAN?

That's actually all you need to pay off in full a $100 cash loan, including all charges on a 20 month loan at Personal Finance Company. And we take no wage assignment.

$1.34 a week on the average is all you need to set aside for every $100 borrowed on Personal's new amazing "Special" loan plan of only 1½% per month on the actual balance owed. This plan is for persons with a steady income or salary sufficient to meet payments promptly without undue credit strain and a good credit record. You don't need co-makers, life insurance or bankable securities.

For persons without established credit and employment ratings and who wish to carry a loan larger than 8 to 12% of annual salary or income, Personal offers its "Regular" loan plan. On this plan an average of $1.52 set aside per week takes care of everything on a $100 loan—the charge is based on 3% monthly on unpaid balances of $100 and less, and 2% monthly on unpaid balances over $100.

Loans up to $300 on either plan on your personal note, or with furniture or auto. Co-maker loans are also available on "Regular" plan. Seize this opportunity to save on loan costs. Come in or telephone today.
